NEXT MEETING

will be held Monday, January 19th in Lounge 3, Lakeview Center.

Election of two board members to fill unexpired terms caused by resignations, will be first on the agenda, with voting by secret ballot from 9 to 9:30. Please bring your membership card- AND COME EARLY!

Our 1976 President, Gordon Evans, has arranged an interesting agenda with regular meeting to start promptly at 9:30. MARK YOUR CALENDAR!

CHIT-CHAT ABOUT CLUB MEMBERS

Undoubtedly, the most avid and experienced sportsman in Sun City is none other than our fellow club member, Dr. R. L. Johnson.

"Doc" has a deep freeze which, at one time or another, has contained most kinds of fish and wild game, including ducks, geese, wild turkey, quail, dove, pheasant, buffalo, elk, deer, javelina, rabbit - even rattlesnake which, incidentally, is excellent eating, when properly prepared - and Wife Elma is an expert cook and also very accomplished with firearms.

"Doc" is also a "diligent tiller of the soil" with a plot in the Agricultural Club gardening project.

Our trapshooters have become accustomed to some pretty stiff breezes but at our special Thanksgiving shoot we had a regular Gale - in fact three of them - Bob (Windy) Gale I accompanied by Bob II & III.

They wanted to sharpen their shooting eyes before going out to Magma Game Farm for pheasants the next day.

Ye Editor got a big "bang" out of coaching Bob III (Age 9) who was trapshooting for the first time - and with a .410.

He later downed three birds at the pheasant farm.

LOVE A PARADE!

Magma Shooting Preserve and our Sportsmen's Club collaborated on a float in the Sun City Bicentennial Parade.

It consisted of a team of four miniature mules pulling a hunters' wagon, with a sign

HUNTING: OUR HERITAGE
Magma Shooting Preserve
Sun City Sportsmen's Club

with hunting styled riders.

Twe hunting dogs and stuffed pheasants drew special attention.

From the amount of applause received, it appears the float was most appropriate.

Help Needed!

We hope to issue a monthly letter about club member happenings. Our object is to make every issue real "NEWSY."

Any and all suggestions about members which would be interesting to others, would be appreciated by Ye Editor.

Please send such items to "Editor, P. O. Box 573, Sun City."

JAVELINA

Among the eight species of big game animals which hunters may pursue in Arizona, the Javelina is most popular of all with non-residents and is second only to the deer with resident hunters.

At our January 19th meeting Dave Daughtry of the Arizona Game & Fish Department, will show slides and comment on the habits and habitat of Javelina.

PHEASANTS, YES!

Increased numbers of Sportsmen Club members are experiencing the thrill of pheasant shooting at the two Magma Game Farms- one located only six miles northwest of Sun City--the other near Florence. No license necessary.

In addition to a special rate for a 13-bird card for club members, a reduced price is being given to groups of 3 or 4 shooters who may wish to "sample" the thrills with a 3-bird hunt. (Results guaranteed)

Those desiring more complete details should contact Lloyd Wheadon, Phone 933-4277.

NEXT MEETING -- FISHING UNIT WILL BE ON FRIDAY JANY. 16TH
Place: Lounge 1, Lakeview Center - Time 9 A.M.
The 3rd Friday in January happens to fall three days ahead of the regular club meeting which will be the following Monday. (See announcement upper left hand corner, first column.)

Al Essbach, Chief of Fisheries, Arizona Game & Fish Department, will be Guest Speaker. Films relating to various species of fish will be shown, followed by a question and answer session.

Chuck Bindner who was the December meeting speaker on the subject "Birds of Prey" (pictured on back page with 1976 officers) has donated two mounted Blue Teal to the Fishing Unit. Raffle tickets will be sold at our Unit meeting, with proceeds to be added to the Fish Procurement Fund.

Viewpoint Lake recently has been stocked with 1,800 lbs. of Channel Catfish; also 5200 fathead minnows - food for larger fish. Barrels & clusters of tires have been strategically placed to provide habitat for fish reproduction and protection.
Approximately 8000 Crappies have been ordered which, it is hoped, will be placed in the lake within the next 90 days.
Bass and Trout (for December to April fishing) will be added as soon as funds are available.

Kudos to Viewpoint Lake Home Owners for their decision (and contributions) to purchase three pair of Swan to enhance the placid waters of Viewpoint Lake.

CHIT-CHAT ABOUT CLUB MEMBERS

...Gordon Evans, "Mac" McColloch and Henry Freed recently spent a few hours shooting pheasants at the Magma Game Farm.

At the same time Joe Maze was in the adjoining field for the same purpose, with his Brittany "Skippy" actively searching out the birds for his master.

...As we go to press, a broad smile..even bigger than she usually wears...was noticed on the face of our efficient Treasurer, Ruth Dobson.

Perhaps it was occasioned by the influx of dues from members as well as the doe-re-me received from promotions we had at the recent Arts & Crafts Fair.

....One of our more proficient trap shooters has been showing up every Tuesday, paying his fees with quarters.

It has happened so often it has become a mystery --where does he get all those coins--- from Las Vegas slot machines; a secret cache; a piggy bank? We would give you a name hint by calling him "Doc" but you might think it was "Johnson"-- and it isn't. As we go to press His source ran dry...FINIS.

...Numerous favorable comments were heard on the topic "Javelina" as presented by our January speaker, Dave Daughtry, of the Arizona Game & Fish Dept.

Many members had never even heard of this animal, as Arizona is one of only a very few states where it is found.

If you haven't been attending our monthly meetings regularly, you should start doing so right away. You'll find most of them are extremely interesting. This includes our next meeting, February 16th.

....The information & Educational Division of the Arizona Game and Fish Dept. publishes "Wildlife News Weekly Letter". They will mail it at NO COST to Arizona addresses.

FEBRUARY NEWS 1976

OUR GUEST SPEAKER

Our February 16th meeting guest speaker - a native Arizonan - was born about the time Arizona was admitted to the Union

As Ben Avery grew up with Arizona, he became one of it's better known newspaper writers with every article he wrote about "Outdoors" emphasizing the necessity for conservation - both wildlife and all other phases-if present and future generations were to continue enjoying the good outdoor life to the fullest.

Ben's subject will be: "Desert Bighorn Sheep - their habits and habitat." (with colored slides.)

The promise of an interesting and educational program, assured by Ben Avery's presence, should be a big inducement for you to attend this meeting.

DESERT BIGHORN SHEEP

Even non-shooters will get a "bang" out of a visit to MAGMA GAME FARM...and it's only a few miles from Sun City...From 111th Ave. & Grand continue N.W. 6.6 miles to Beardsley Road; angle left (west) 2.2 miles (Cotton Lane)...The facility is about 1/2 mi. to your right.

You'll be welcomed by Tammy and Bill Gibbons, who will gladly show you around: The pens with beautiful pheasants; the modern kennels and different breeds of dogs.

Freshly dressed and frozen pheasants are available at reasonable prices...Even smoked birds may be ordered..You may dial 583-0466 - No toll charge.

After a short business session a 30-minute colored movie - "A Day on the Mountain" will be shown. There will be no scenes of killing but it promises to be most entertaining. Film furnished thru courtesy of Fish & Game Department.

...Jake Siemens reports:"Bass and blue gill in Viewpoint Lake are growing fast and getting nice and plump...The recently stocked minnows are serving their purpose...Catfish should become active later in February and March...Approximately 6 to 24 bass and crappies are being caught each day..."

KURRENT KUDOS

...Even though he is well past 80 and has given up active participation in shooting, he is still interested in all outdoor activities. Almost every week he may be seen at the scorekeeper's table, keeping an accurate record of the trapshooters score. Double Kudos to Bill Gobeille.

....To Chuck Bindner (for his live bald eagle), Magma Game Farm (loan of two live pheasants) and all the old work-horses (members who contributed their time) for helping make ours such an attention-getting booth at the Arts & Crafts Fair in the Sun Bowl on Jan. 24 & 25. Our Club is getting better and more favorably known every day, if the increase in membership applications is any criterion.

...To N. Brown, C. Craig, J. Dorsch, G. Gieslar, H. Machemer, Dorothy Olmstead and others who are contributing their time and efforts to make the Sun City Sheriff's Posse a good protective addition to regular Sheriff Department personnel....Thanks for doing a great job, Guys & Gals.

....To Ruth & Karl Doeren...It was a truly gorgeous soiree you hosted at the Suntowner.. Many club members were noted there.

With your promise that this event will be repeated every decade, we'll be real optimists and look forward to an invitation to the next party in 1986.

These suggested changes will be explained more fully and then voted on at the next meeting, February 16th. Please study them carefully and be prepared to ask any questions which you think may be pertinent.

To make our club really successful, we need participation by more members in all club affairs.

YOUR ROSTER

CHIT-CHAT ABOUT CLUB MEMBERS

....In our first NEWS LETTER we described the avid hunting and fishing proclivities of member Raymond L. Johnson, M.D. Since then he has been called "The Great White Hunter." As reported, wife Elma is also proficient with a gun but has had no opportunity to join "Doc" in the field. Finally, after the regular hunting season had closed, "Doc" took her out to Magma Game Farm for some pheasant shooting. Magnanimously he agreed to let her have the first shot at each bird and he would be "back-up."

With her trusty .410 she got her birds with 4 of 5 shots-and the one missed flushed behind her. Poor "Doc" didn't get to pull his gun's trigger even once --which goes to disprove the old adage: "Practice makes perfect." Nice going, Elma.

....In the last issue of the NEWS, a report was given on a certain un-named "Doc" paying trap shooting fees with quarters, with the S.O.S (Source of Supply) finally drying up.

We can now report his SOS has once more been found and he is again paying his shooting fees with quarters. When asked about it, his only comment was: "You forgot to mention the church collection plate."

....While club member Myrlin B. (Jim) Janes' current activities are primarily fishing and pistol marksmanship, back in the 30's his proclivities were much more strenuous. He was a member of the Penn Athletic Club 8-oared crew which won the International Regatta against 11 countries in the record time of 5 min. 18-4/5 sec. for the 2,000 meter course - which record still stands. The crew was inducted into the World's Hall of Fame on January 24th, 1976.

MARCH NEWS 1976

OUR GUEST SPEAKER

Our guest speaker for the March 15th meeting is a fellow Sun Citian. However, his thorough knowledge of an unusual subject promises an interesting and educational program.

Since boyhood, Lynn Temple has lived and associated with various tribes of Indians from Montana to Arizona. (His own great-grandmother was a full blood Northern Cree of Canada.)

Besides writing a book about these Native Americans, he has authored several manuscripts on other subjects, one of which - "Wyoma" - is in the process of purchase by a major Hollywood Studio.

Certainly, he is eminently qualified to discourse on this unusual topic.

We are looking forward with great anticipation to hearing this talented writer and speaker.

Don't YOU miss it!

Preventive measure

Peter Bott, 13628 Buccaneer Way, hefts recent catch from Viewpoint Lake. Carp on left is 29 inches long and weighs 12 pounds, one on right, 32 inches long and 20½ pounds. Bott keeps special lines in lake to catch carp, which eat bass and trout eggs, reducing number of edible game fish in waters.

(News-Sun Photo)

Fishing Lines

At the February 20th meeting of the Fishing Unit (attended by 94 members and guests), it was decided meetings would henceforth be held on a quarterly basis - the next one May 21st.

However, pertinent subjects may be discussed at regular club meetings. Also, newsy items will continue to be carried in this monthly NEWS LETTER.

...Viewpoint is not the only Sun City lake from which fish are being taken...Jiggs Grzelakowski landed a catfish from Dawn Lake that was 30-inches long and weighed 16 pounds. It must have been delicious eating, eh Jiggs?

Bill Landstrom, who regularly fishes Viewpoint Lake, recently caught 5 fish - 4 blue gills & 1 Bass - then quit for the day, observing the five-a-day limit. The "gills" measured up to 7½ inches, weighing ½ lb. Bass run up to 11½ inches.

...DON'T FORGET! Carp are scavengers - they'll eat anything - particularly other fish eggs - Don't throw them back in - Destroy any and all you catch.

MORE CHIT-CHAT

....A group of club members consisting of Dick Carr, Karl Doeren, Glenn Jaquays and the two Lloyds (McCalpin & Wheadon) recently enjoyed a full day's outing at the Magma Game Farm near Florence. The weather was sunny; the dogs worked beautifully; the mule team unusually gentle; the pheasants flushed speedily and the gunners rarely missed a shot.

Thanks to the hospitality of Frances & Forrest Cooper, this will be a long-remembered outing.

....As the late Will Rogers always said: "All I know is what I read in the papers." That also applies to Ye Editor.

It was only thru the columns of Rifle magazine (published in Prescott) that it was learned we have a club member who is a prize-winning expert rifleman.

At the Bench Rest Shooters match held in Phoenix in December, Karl Doeren won the 100-yard and grand aggregates in Heavy Varmint. (Please don't expect more explicit information from me.) However, his total points earned came very close to meeting world championship figures.

When we go Javelina & turkey hunting this spring, yours truly has no qualms about success - if he stays close to Karl - and we sight the little porkers and gobblers.

Dr. Earl Blair designed, executed and presented this special Appreciation plaque to our guest speaker at the Feb. 16th meeting.

Ben Avery, whose topic was "Desert Big Horn Sheep - habits & habitat" gave an interesting talk, with color slides, recounting the activities of the Arizona Bighorn Sheep Society members who have constructed numerous water catchments in normally inaccessible spots. He pointed out that such activities over the past several years undoubtedly prevented the extinction of the species.

Club's Appreciation Plaque!

Reproduced below is an excerpt from Ben Avery's column in the Arizona Republic, following his visit to our club meeting on February 16th.

Any rumor that the Sun City Sportsmen's Club plans to change its name to Mudhens Unlimited has been denied in advance.

For one thing whoever heard of a Mudhim or a Mudperson, and Coot just doesn't fit because the members of the Sun City Club aren't juniors, but they are not Old Coots just yet.

All joking aside, the Sun City club — no longer an all male organization — probably is the most active sportsmen's group in the state. I paid my second visit there the other day to tell them about the work of the Arizona Desert Bighorn Sheep Society and was somewhat staggered by all of the activities of their club.

It already is the largest club in the Arizona Wildlife Federation and voted to affiliate as a local club of the National Rifle Association, which has more than 15,000 members in Arizona.

Sun City Sportsmen have a Trap and Skeet Division, a Rifle and Pistol Division, A Fishing Division and an Archery Division. And the umbrella club participates in the Sun City-Magma Game Bird Farm Pheasant Shooting Club on Cotton Lane, just off Beardsley Road west of Grand Ave.

DID YOU MISS THIS? 189 PERSONS DID NOT

Members and guests who attended our March 15th meeting, met and heard a fellow-Sun Citian's discourse on various tribes of Indians, particularly Navajos.

To highlight Lynn Temple's lecture would be impossible (for your reporter) as every phase of his talk was a real "highlight"- the Indian's culture, religion, life style and social mores. However, the speaker corrected several false impressions many persons have about Indian customs. To correct just two: The wife does not docilely walk behind her man but rather, he walks or rides ahead so as to "scout" out danger before she encounters it.

Religion is a big difference between the red and white man, and who is to say which one is correct? The Indian believes he will pay for his sins while he is still living.

His closing remarks:

"Daily, crime presents a greater problem. The police cannot control crime or protect me against crime. I have never been sued, arrested, indicted or in jail. However, if my government in its greater wisdom, deprives me of my right as an American to defend myself and home by confiscating my gun, then indeed, I will go to jail.

"N.R.A. is doing a marvelous job lobbying in Washington but we, as individuals, must work on the local level and vote only for those legislators who feel as we do."

Mr. Temple received a standing ovation and was presented with the club's Appreciation Plaque by Dr. Earl Blair.

He also promised our President, Gordon Evans, a return visit later this year. Certainly, everyone present will be looking forward to his second appearance.

NEW MEMBERS' ROSTER

Enclosed with this issue of NEWS LETTER is a Supplementary Roster of new members joining the club between February 1st and April 1st.

This list should be attached to first Roster which was mailed with the February News Letter.

OUR APRIL SPEAKER

BRUCE BABBITT

ARIZONA'S ATTORNEY GENERAL

The Babbitt history traces back to 1887 when five brothers emigrated from Cincinnati to Arizona Territory, settling in the Flagstaff area.

It is understood, third generation Bruce will talk on "Early Arizona History" and then bring his topic up-to-date by discussing a timely subject: "Arizona Land Fraud - Past, Present and Future."

It is expected a Question and Answer session will follow.

As this meeting promises to be one of the outstanding ones of the year, a larger-than-usual crowd is anticipated. Arrangements have been made for additional space.

SPRING PICNIC

THE ANNUAL SPORTSMEN'S CLUB PICNIC WILL BE HELD WEDNESDAY, APRIL 21ST AT THE DEL WEBB PICNIC AREA

Demonstrations by club units will begin at 10 o'clock.

COFFEE FURNISHED BY THE CLUB!

(Available near the Various Ramadas)

MEMBERS AND GUESTS WILL BRING THEIR OWN FOOD AND DRINKS-other than coffee!

CHIT-CHAT ABOUT CLUB MEMBERS

...A group of willing workers, interested in maintaining our trap and skeet range, recently met at the grounds and spent the morning painting benches, steps, chairs, etc. which needed renovating; also grooming the grounds. Those who contributed their time and efforts were: Gordon Evans, C. L. McColloch, Lloyd Wheadon, Ben Allison, Col. Lou North, John Farabaugh, Bob Daniel, Tony Jurca, Jack Doremus, Raymond Johnson, M.D., E. B. Malloy, C. R. Fundenberg, "Beany" Wright, C. W. Jensen, Bob Gale and Ed Steward. Thanks fellows, everything looks nicer now.

Dr. Raymond Johnson - better known as "The Great White Hunter" reports he got his javelina within 15 minutes after reaching the "hunting grounds"

The rest of the day was spent "Camera Hunting", getting some good shots of live javelina.

...Another success story was reported by a lady hunter at our last meeting but her promise to supply your reporter with her name and more details, has failed to materialize. So-sorry cannot give a full report on what promised to be a very interesting story.

...It is most gratifying to see the augmented number of women becoming more interested in our club's activities - not only by the increased attendance at our meetings, but participation in various units' programs.

Marian Hintermeyer came out and shot a round of trap. Her score of 20x25 was very commendable - at least the same as hubby, Bill. Hurry back and bring guests with you.

...With the weather warming up the past few weeks, we notice a return to action of several gunners (John Anderson was one particularly noted.)

MARCH SHARPSHOOTERS WERE:

Col. Lou North	SKEET	25x25
John Betcher	"	25x25
Dr. Earl Blair	TRAP	25x25
Harold Eklund	"	25x25
C. W. Jensen	"	25x25
E. L. Tooly	"	25x25

(The last-named, on his final round, got 22 straight when the trap spring broke and we had to quit, but since he had finished his previous string with three straight, we thought it only fair to include his name with the other experts.)

MORE CHIT-CHAT

...Fourteen shotgunners from our club inaugurated the Sun City Rockhound Club's annual exhibit at Mountain View Auditorium with a black powder salute.

It was staged at noon on Monday March 29th with Colonel Lou North commanding.

The squad consisted of: Flag Bearers "Mac" McColloch and "Chill" Craig; Also gunners: Hank Bainbridge, Dr. Blair, Ben Allison, John Farabaugh, John Rybak, John Anderson, Ed Steward Lamoine Lafay, John Betcher and Tony Jurca; also "Beany" Wright, who was responsible for keeping visitors out of the line of fire.

When the order "fire" was given, the blast was like a cannon being fired, every trigger was pulled simultaneously -like a squad of professionals.

AS WE GO TO PRESS!

Reliable sources report plans are being finalized by a group of a dozen club members, arranging to spend a week on a houseboat , fishing Lake Powell.

Plans include filming movies for showing at some future club meeting.

Full details in next month's NEWS LETTER - we hope.

Protection for fish

Jed Smith, chairman Sun City Sportsmen's Club fishing unit, drills holes in some of 300 donated tires to be used by club as artificial habitats for game fish in Viewpoint Lake. Tires, lashed in groups of three, will allow fish safe breeding areas away from bothersome carp which flourish on fish eggs. Tire program is part of Sportsmen's Club efforts to promote and protect game fishing in Viewpoint Lake. (News-Sun Photo by Steve Welch)

CONSERVATION PLEDGE

"I give my pledge as an American to save and faithfully defend from waste the natural resources of my country — its soil and minerals, its forests, water and wildlife."

Fishing Lines

...While reports of actual catches at Viewpoint Lake have not been voluminous - (can it be because those fishermen have become too modest (?)-) - a couple of instances have been supplied to Ye Editor which are worth recounting:

Member Bill Landstrom landed a 19-inch Catfish - weight a little over 3 pounds.

Martin Hertel hooked a Catfish but was unable to land it, not having a net. However, he said it was about 24 inches long and probably weighed 4 pounds. (Ed. Note: His description likely is accurate, even though he couldn't truly compute the weight from the scales on the fish's back, since catfish don't have scales.)

Anyhow, welcome to the club as a new member, Martin Hertel. Bet you'll include a landing net in your fishing equipment in the future.

OUR GUEST SPEAKER

Bob will again favor us with an interesting slide presentation of fishing trips he has taken lately to Mexico as well as in Arizona. His commentary is always as good as his Sunday newspaper columns.

When introduced as our April 19th meeting speaker, Attorney General Bruce Babbitt's opening remarks were: "Gordon Evans would be better qualified to talk about Arizona History, because he has lived through it. As a boy and young man, I often purchased hunting and fishing equipment from him at his store in Flagstaff."

Bruce then gave a very comprehensive review of Arizona History which, believe it or not, goes as far back as 1776, when Arizona "was on the far end of a declining frontier, and the Spanish thrust was beginning to recede."

Hank Essbach reported the entire talk in the April 21st issue of the Sun Citizen. Anyone who has not yet read the article in its entirety, should get the issue and do so.

At our last meeting, Club Treasurer Ruth Dobson presented the Appreciation Plaque to Del Shepard, who recently resigned as A.W.F. Office Manager, in which capacity she served for seven years.

In her acceptance remarks, Del told how thrilled she was to get this unusual plaque; also, how great a pleasure it was for her to be of assistance to the Sun City Sportsmen's Club officials in their race to become Number One in the Arizona Wildlife Federation.
(Del: I would like to add my personal thanks for your always cheerful assistance in helping build our club, especially during the struggling second year of 1969 when we increased the membership from 40 to 45, Lloyd Wheadon, 1969 President.)

SUN CITY CITIZEN—April 21, 1976

Sportsmen hear Babbitt—

Following Bruce Babbitt's talk to club members on April 19th, Dr. Earl Blair presented him with the club's Appreciation Plaque.
Dr. Blair, a Past President and Charter Member of the club, did the woodburning and mounting of the patch.

More About BOB WHITAKER

Bob is a collector of antique fishing equipment. He has a reel that is said to be more than 150 yrs old. Anyone having unusual fishing items (or antiques) should bring them to the meeting for Bob to examine. They may be worth money to you if Bob should desire them for his collection.

After several months of intensive effort by a group of Sportsmen's Club members headed by Gordon Evans, to have the road from 99th Avenue to the Picnic grounds improved, the Del Webb organization donated $5,000 as their share of the cost; Recreation Centers $3,500; Sportsmen's $1,500 with the Maricopa County highway department assuming the balance of the cost.

Not having $1,500 in our treasury, solicitation from individual club members was made and the needed funds pledged.

This pictorial edition of NEWSLETTER was made possible only thru the cooperation of-

Bob Adriance, whose photographic wizardy was put to good use in making so many of the pictures. ALSO:

The Sun City Citizen, whose editor, Jack Pryor, gave his personal attention to "Veloxing" the pictures. (To you laymen, that means converting the photographs for use by the printing press.)

Ye Editor must admit he helped Jack immeasureably by skillfully executing the command "lights off" and "lights on" in the dark room.

And all this cooperation was GRATIS.

Again, to you both, KUDOS.

Four smaller boats were used for two-man fishing pairs.

While no "stills" were made of Rainbow Bridge, some excellent shots will be seen in the movies taken.

"Doc" Johnson and Gabe Salter were Chefs for a gourmet dinner. Their second act was to filet the fish (the first was to catch them.)

Just as "Mac" McColloch snapped the picture, Gabe straightened up (perhaps to put the first fish in the frying pan). Each man demonstrated his proficiency as a fisherman; also as an excellent cook.

The delicious dinner was topped off with a tasty cake which Vaska Redding had baked and sent along with hubby, Harold. Very thoughtful of you, Vaska. Thanks, from all the gang.

Similar catches of Bass and Crappies were made every day.

Evans and Blair advising Cameraman Wheadon the best technic to use in getting a birds-eye view of a particular scene, which upon later film development, would rate "P.G." by Hollywood standards. However, as few minors are apt to see the film, the scene was NOT left on the cutting room floor.

Take the word of this reporter: Don't offer to take Doc on at anything - unless you are prepared to come out second best.

Al Henderson appeared at our picnic April 21st, accompanied by Maureen Edwards, who gave a demonstration of how a professional archer operates.

Al has the distinction of having been named coach 2-shooters teams for both men and women for the upcoming Olympics. Trials will be held in June at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio to decide the make-up of the team. Al's interest in archery began in 1937. He became a teacher in 1947.

In closing the interview, he was asked if he had anything further to add -- His comment was: "Nothing, except we're going to win the Olympics."

And, if good coaching will turn the trick, his team will do it, too.

Certainly, picnickers felt more secure with Sargeant Gil Gieslar and Corporal Dorothy Olmstead policing the grounds. Both have earned their Chevrons with the Sun City Sheriff's Posse.

The Sargeant also serves as Range Master, conducting regular pistol practice at the Sun City range for those posse members wishing to qualify at the Maricopa County Sheriff's range at Pioneer.

MEMBERS, GUESTS AND REC CARD HOLDERS CORDIALLY INVITED.

Our Board of Directors has decided to add a sheet to the NEWSLETTER for the convenience of those who have sporting equipment to sell, or those who are looking for certain articles.

As this will entail extra space, an additional sheet will have to be added, entailing an extra printing charge of about $10.00. Therefore, it will be necessary to make a charge of $1.50 per insert, at least until we can have some actual experience as to actual costs.

Please get your ad in writing to "Chill" Craig, 11831 Thunderbird Rd. Sun City, Ariz. 85351 by the first of the month, for that month's issue.

Jed Smith help with fishing equipment and "Chill" will assist with shooting items.

This ad sheet will be available to non-club members who have sporting equipment that club members may be interested in buying.

Help your neighbors to get rid of unwanted equipment.

NRA MEMBERS: Please use the application blank that comes in your American Rifleman, to sign a new member.

A very nice gift to a young person - perhaps a son or grandson, who has indicated an interest in shooting, is eligible for membership in the NRA.

ALSO: It would be a good time for annual members to become a LIFE member. The NRA has vast improvement in the last few years, and it may be the rallying point for the salvation of the shooting sports, as well as hunting and fishing, in this country. Submitted by Chill Craig.

At the Arizona Wildlife Federation's annual Saturday night banquet, our president, Gordon Evans, on behalf of the Sun City Sportsmen's Club, accepted a citation for being the affiliate securing the largest numerical increase in memberships for a specified period. Jed Smith accepted a similar citation for "Individual Salesmanship," having signed 81 members during the specified period.

Only a braggadocio would question this figure of 81, which is correct - and a matter of record. It is hoped there is no further discussion regarding the authenticity of the figure as shown on the citation.

That was a mighty fine accomplishment, Jed.

At the drawing for the rifle, for which our club sold more than 300 tickets, at a profit to us of 50¢ each, the winning ticket was held by Rudy Martinez of Phoenix. Now comes the unbelievable part: The ticket was No. 1313.

Sorry one of our gang did not win, but there is some consolation in knowing we did our part in helping the AWF.

ARIZONA QUAIL

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Raymond L Johnson was requested to furnish some information on quail; Following is his report:)

"Arizona quail population in the 1975-76 hunting year was at a high cycle - especially our Gambel Quail. Throughout our central area, and well up to 5,000 feet to the north - good hatch - good survival - and for the 4 months' season, even to the last days of January, good coveys could be found; and, a very good "seed crop" of birds were left - should the climatic conditions of spring & summer be compatible to good brood weather the 1976-77 season should also be good. Just one factor - in my opinion not good - we did not have Dec. & Jan. rains, so necessary for green feed so essential for high fertility.

Arizona has three distinct types of quail: Mearns, Scaled and Gambel. With the Blue Quail and beautiful (but dumb) Mountain Quail across the line in California, it is possible to find five different quail in one day's hunting.

Lloyd, I could go on by the hour about these quail - have hunted them all - and had a ball and hope these old legs, eyes & ability to point a gun will give me a few more days in the field."

SKEET

By Lou North

A layoff of several months didn't bother Vance Blosser's shooting eye one bit. On his first day back he broke 25 straight with his 28-gauge and followed it up the next week with 50 straight with his 12. Our dual-threat man, Virg Farr, also racked up a tidy 50 straight birds right after a respectable showing on the trap range.

John Farabaugh, a man of all gauges, cranked out 25 straight with his old 12-gauge hand-shucker. He would do better with his .410 if he could keep the crimp in his hand-loads. Those quarter-ounce shot charges just don't hack it.

Lou North broke 25 straight his last time out. Those self-destructing birds really help build a score.

Chill Craig has decided he shoots best with his own gun; half way through a round recently, he discovered he was shooting someone else's!

RIFLE SHOOT

EDITOR'S NOTE:
The following article was reproduced as submitted by Chill Craig. Photographic reduction in size of type was necessary to fit available space.

Six Sportsmen's Club members shot in the 3rd. Annual Southwest Metallic Siluette Championship Matches at the Black Canyon Range on May 29th & 30th. Of the 103 shooters, they ranked high in their class, but only George Koval brought home a trophy, four in fact, for 2nd place each day, 2nd in Aggregate and for the most turkeys in the Iron Sight Classification. This type of shooting came out of Old Mexico and is shot offhand with a hunting type rifle as follows: 10shots at 220 yds (200 meters) at the chicken (Gallina), 10 at 330 yds (300 meters) at the pig (Javalina), 10 at the turkey (Guajolota) at 425 yds. (385 meters), and 10 at the sheep (Borrego) at 550 yds. (500 meters). Classification is as follows: AA - 15 or more avge., A - 8 to 14, B - 7 or below. Iron sight is either A or B and is more difficult. The rifle weighs not more than 8 lbs. 13 ozs. (4 kilos), or 10 lbs. 2 ozs. with scope, usually 6 to 10 power. Caliber must be 6 mm or larger and 150 gr. or heavier bullets should be used to knock down the heavy iron targets.
Emory Tooly, Class AA had 17 aggregate, the winner had 37. Hank Bainbridge, A, had 17, Lou North, A had 17, Chill Craig, AA had 21 and the winner had 29. Carl Doren, B, had 12, and the winner had 21. Saturday was very windy, but Sunday was beautiful except for mirage, which makes the target appear to be where it isn't. We had potential shooters for the future as Virgil Farr and John Rybak showed up and were impressed with the challenge. The next three monthly shoots will be on June 13th, July 11th and Aug. 8th. at the Black Canyon Shooting Range. Anyone interested please contact one of the above for more information. Chill

FISHING REPORT

By Jake Siemens

Bill Lundstrom reports he has caught 11 channel catfish this spring. "Lucky Bill."

Numerous 7½ & 8½ inch Blue gills, weighing up to 3/4 lb. have been caught recently. (I measured & weighed them myself.

The fish are all in verygood condition. This denotes plenty of food.

The numerous amount of little fish near the banks tell me that our tires and barrels are doing a good job protecting the spawning beds.

The fishermen hope that some day the overstocked golf course ponds can be relieved of their over-stocked condition. This would supplement Lakeview with catchable size fish. These ponds are a natural rearing & spawning place. Let's investigate this possibility.

After the three scuba divers had completed placing the "haven" tires for fingerlings and minnows on June 5th, they looked for large carp for spearing. However, the carp were just too smart, and stayed out of range.

You did a splendid job, fellows, and it is hoped the moving pictures taken of your activities, turn out well.

Doing its job—

One of the three new aerators recently installed on the bottom of Viewpoint Lake does its job of adding oxygen to the water. At left is the red-and-white marker buoy that warns boaters and fishermen to stay away from the area. It forces 6,000 gallons of water to the surface every hour by means of 50 pounds of air. Three additional aerators are slated to be put in the lake. STEVE GALLIZIOLI

Steve joined the Arizona Game & Fish Department in 1950, after getting a Bachelor of Science degree from Oregon State University.

He has served in various capacities since then, mostly in research; the last 12 years or so as Chief of the Research Division. Many of his earlier years with the Department were spent on various research programs, particularly studies of doves, quail and deer.

Primarily, his subject will be "Quail" of which Arizona boasts three different species - Gambel, Mearns and Scaled. His talk will be illustrated with colored slides, showing various stages of the bird's life, habitat, etc.

Steve's acceptance of President Evan's invitation to appear at this, the first meeting since June, is truly appreciated, especially with such a timely topic.

With the diversified program planned, it should be a most interesting meeting.

SO, YOU-ALL COME!

SKEET

By Lou North

Many fine scores were fired during the summer sessions, but the best of all was John Betcher's run of 73 straight before a bird from the low house at station 8 managed to evade his deadly aim. Since our last report, the shooter racking up the greatest number of straight 25's, was Virg Farr.

Lou Shurson really has been smoking the clay birds of late--almost as consistently as smoking his old cigar.

After finally finding a gun that fits him properly and doesn't rattle his wisdom teeth each time he fires it, Hank Bainbridge earned the honors of most improved shooterduring the period.

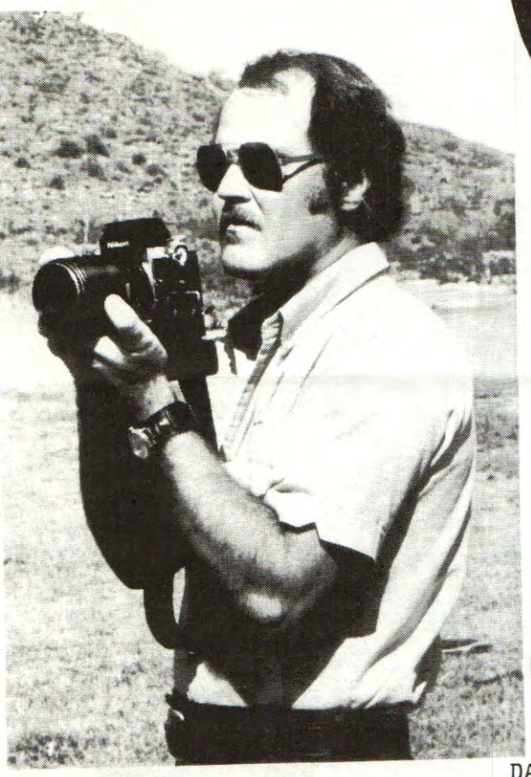

In August we began to see the hunting guns appear on the range as our intrepid nimrods started tuning up for the opening of the dove season. A few rounds of skeet is an excellent way to sharpen your coordination and improve your chances of coming home with a full game bag. If you have a shotgun, come out to the skeet range any Tuesday morning. Don't worry about lack of skill; we'll run beginners relays and offer expert instruction for novices. Additional information can be obtained from John Farabaugh. His phone number is 974-8550.

REQUIEM FOR A BIRD

AS WE GO TO PRESS!

Just received a phone call from Chuck Bindner with some very sad news.

Many of you will recall the numerous occasions when Chuck entertained us with his live birds. One, especially, was a great favorite with the crowd - Liberty, the bald eagle that posed many times for pictures, perched on the arm of his human companion.

Chuck advised, with a catch in his voice, a golden eagle escaped from his fetters or cage, attacked and killed Liberty with his talons.

Consequently, there will be no pictures posed with Liberty at the barbecue or any other event.

More complete details are not available at this time.

All we can say is:

"Farewell, Liberty - In the hearts of many who got to know you personally, you truly were our National Symbol."

AT THE BARBECUE!

Archery exhibition by Al Henderson and Associates, will include downing of pheasants in flight, using bow and arrow. Al was coach of Archery Teams that won two gold medals at the Olympics last summer

AT THE BAR-B-Q
DOOR PRIZES GALORE WILL INCLUDE
SMOKED PHEASANT from MAGMA GAME FARM
This Gourmet Treat will also be available for purchase.
RIDE THE HUNTERS' WAGON, PULLED BY A TEAM OF MINI-MULES ! !

No More Complaints

about being unable to hear the speaker at the Picnic Grounds.

A new Public Address System purchased by the Del Webb organization, has recently been installed - AND IT'S A DANDY!

For his diligent efforts, credit accrues to President Gordon Evans who "sold" the idea to Webb.

While the P.A. was being installed, several members spent considerable time removing dead trees, cutting off dead limbs and policing the grounds in general. Space here is too limited to credit the workers by name, but "THANKS TO ALL OF YOU."

FISHING REPORT

BY JED SMITH

For many months your genial President and I have been working on a long-range plan to check all lakes on the golf courses with the intent to use them for fish propagation.

All desirable fish will be removed and transferred to Viewpoint Lake; all carp and other "rough" fish will be killed and lakes poisoned with Rontone.

Every lake will be checked by 3 specialists of the USDA Tom North, Leon Fager & Don Welch and from the Arizona Game & Fish Dept. A biologist will give advice now. Incidentally, the 3 gentlemen named above gave most interesting information about Arizona fishing at the last fishing unit meeting - AND NOW, they have agreed to do all the work entailed in this project - FOR FREE. This will save us money and instead of buying fish to stock Viewpoint, we will buy breeders, feed them, and as they propagate, remove fingerlings to stock Viewpoint lake.

Reports will be made to members at regular meetings as to the progress being made.

Hunt-Fish Day—

Enthusiastic about September 25 being declared "National Hunting and Fishing Day" are, from left, Gordon Evans, president of the Sun City Sportsmen's Club; Glendale Mayor Sterling Ridge [displaying Governor Castro's proclamation for the day]; Ginger Sparks, president of the Phoenix Spotsmans Rod and Gun Club, and member of Arizona Wildlife Federation's board of directors; and Lloyd Wheadon, publicity director for the Sportsmen's Club.

Now available at the Library are three books which may be of interest to many of our members:

1. "How to Hunt Deer" by Edward A. Freeman
2. "Skeet & How to Shoot It"-by Bob Nichols
3. "To Hell With Hunting" - by Ed Zern

All three books were donated to the library by member Bill Barton.

Bill advises the first two named above are excellent guides in their respective fields, with the last-named being very humorous.

SKEET

BY LOU NORTH

During September, perfect scores were fired by both John Betcher and Virg. Farr. Their skills were equally evident durthe opening days of quail season from the size of their game bags.

Dr. Leonard Jourdanais' return to the skeet field was marked with some spectacular shooting. He must have the reflexes of a teen-ager the way he consistently powders these clays before they reach the center stake.

The Morgan adjustable butt plate has two enthusiastic supporters in the skeet group. Ed Steward has sworn by one for some time on his trap gun, and recently Tony Jurca mounted one on his skeet gun. He is not only shooting better now but his shoulder is a lot happier too.

You-all come out and shoot.

OUR GUEST SPEAKER

LYNN TEMPLE

Approximately 200 members and guests saw and heard Lynn Temple when he favored us with a most entertaining appearance earlier this year.

His subject for an encore will be: "SPORTSMEN'S PARADISE & THE SPOILERS"

First, he will cover his personal experiences in a true Sportsmen's Paradise (Wyoming) while growing up between the two World Wars. He stresses: "It was truly a time of paradise for a boy living on a cattle ranch under the guidance of a full-blood American Indian grandmother who had lived, and continued to live for over one hundred years in a Sportsmen's Paradise....a magnificient teacher in the ways of nature...."

The second part will cover personal experiences--1945 to 1965--when Wyoming along with other western states, had a terrific influx of real SPOILERS....so-called sportsmen without a single redeeming feature as applied to education in wild life or training in the use of firearms....

...And then Nader's Raiders and so-called experts in State and Federal Government began the endeavor to regulate and advise....that guns should be outlawed...The former SPORTSMEN'S PARADISE eroded by the SPOILERS in many guises.

For those who have seen and heard Lynn Temple, no "build-up" is necessary; his topic not only will be timely, but his presentation superb.

There's a real treat in store for all of us.

Also, these dogs have been trained to recognize and avoid any rattlesnake that may be in the area.

This special training has been given by Bill Gibbons, manager of the facility near Sun City.

THIS PROMISES TO BE SOME EVENT!

Carnival of Clubs

President Gordon Evans will be personally in charge of our club's exhibit at the Carnival of Clubs annual show to be held at Sun Dial Center on November 26th & 27th.

This event, in the past, has always given our club the opportunity to dispose of large quantities of sports equipment - for items members no longer need or want.

If you have such items, bring them to our booth, which will adjoin the stage, at 8 A.M. morning of opening day Friday, November 26.

Each item should be plainly marked with your name and address together with the price you expect to receive - the club will take a 10% commission on each item.

It may be necessary for you to assume responsibility for your own items by picking them up at the end of the first day and returning at the start of the next day. Confirmation of this will be given you when you first check in.

You may know someone who has guns they wish to sell.

At previous carnivals, there has been a ready sale for guns of all types.

SKEET

By Lou North

Scores of 25 straight were posted in October by John Betcher and yours truly. The other heavy hitters must have reserved their good shooting for the noble Gambel's quail.

Honorable mention goes to John Farabaugh who racked up 21 clays with his .410 g auge. Anyone think this is no great feat.just give the mini-gauge a try sometime. (John, I won't mention the 19 you got with your 12-gauge.)

We're delighted to see some new faces appearing on the skeet field on Tuesday mornings. Come on out and join in the fun.

Help will be needed to man the booth both days.

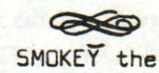

Names of volunteers willing to serve, will be requested at the November 15th meeting.

An Editorial!

Next year, our club will be represented on the Recreation Center Board of Directors, if one of our more prominent worker-members receives sufficient support by the voters at the Dec. 2nd city-wide election.

For his diligent efforts in improving fishing conditions in Viewpoint Lake, Jed Smith was rewarded by election to our own Board of Directors where his continued splendid accomplishments were recognized by his being selected as Vice President of the Club.

His astuteness as Chairman of the Fishing Unit and follow-up to improve conditions, have convinced Ye Editor that he is a tireless and aggressive individual - the type that unquestionably will serve all Sun Citizens as conscientiously as he has his fellow-members of the Sun City Sportsmen's Club.

NEXT MEETING

will be held Monday, December 20 in Lounge 3, Lakeview Center at 9:30 A.M.

Since this will be the last meeting in the regime of Gordon Evans as President, let's honor him with a big turnout for the superlative job he has done.

OUR GUEST SPEAKER

AL HENDERSON

Al was the United States coach in archery for the 1976 Olympic games, where his archers won two gold medals.

An avid archer since 1937. he has been in the archery business for 24 years, and has been on the Board of Directors of the Professional Archers Association for eight years. He is technical editor of Archery World magazine and has been a member or officer of many archery associations.

His talk will be illustrated by a slide presentation.

While our club does not have a broad base of archers. it was felt that archery presented in terms of Olympics, would be appealing and something "different" for our final 1976 meeting.

Those who attended the buffalo barbecue and saw the archery demonstration, with Al furnishing the commentary over the P.A., can confirm the subject of archery is most interesting, even though the listeners may never have engaged in the activity.

DONATIONS

Recently, publicity has been given to shortages of all types of food at the free dining facilities of both St. Vincent de Paul and the Salvation Army.

Representatives of these organizations will attend our next meeting at which time President Evans will present them with frozen buffalo meat, carried over from last year.

Also, it would be an appreciated gesture if we had a good supply of canned goods to offer them at the same time. SO -- Bring a can (or more) of something - All size cans appreciated - even ten pounders.

LET'S FILL AT LEAST TWO TABLES.

THANK YOU, LYNN TEMPLE

Those who didn't hear Lynn Temple when he made a return appearance before our club at the last meeting, missed one of the best speakers we have had this year.

His topic "Sportsmen's Paradise and the Spoilers" recounted his experiences in Wyoming while growing to manhood between world wars; also the period of 1945-65 when Wyoming and other western states were subjected to an influx of "spoilers" - so-called "hunters" who knew practically nothing about wildlife and firearms use, who caused injury and damage to property and nature.

He credited his full-blood Indian grandmother with proper training which later stood him in good stead as a guide For example: She would not permit him to have toy guns as many current generation children do. Rather, she presented him with a real gun when he reached the age of six, and he learned early in life how to properly handle all types of firearms.

Lynn, we hope you will make room on your busy schedule next year to favor our club with appearance Number three.

We certainly enjoyed hearing your discourse on such interesting topics. So, until 1977, a heartfelt "THANK YOU!"

AN AWARD

From National Headquarters, our club has received a Certificate of Achievement, reading: "for outstanding cooperation & support in promoting a greater understanding of the sportsman's role in conservation through active participation in National Hunting and Fishing Day. These significant efforts have served to establish National Hunting & Fishing Day as a vital part of the American Sporting tradition."

President Gordon Evans wishes to thank those members who gave so freely of their time to help make this recognition possible.

Club Carnival

With Special Events Chairman McColloch on an extended visit to old haunts in the midwest, Gordon Evans took over booth responsibility at the Carnival of Clubs.

The crowds were huge; sports equipment plentiful and sales exceptionally good.

A detailed report will be made by Ruth Dobson at the next meeting. She handled the cash and other details in her usual efficient manner.

Evans extends his appreciation to all members who cooperated - both in bringing merchandise and handling sales.

Congratulations

New Member
JAMES D. WORMLEY

for being the number one vote-getter in the December 2nd Recreation Center Board of Directors' election.

Whatever your assignment, we know you'll do a great job --BUT, we'll still be expecting you at our Tuesday trap sessions.

Overhearing a NEW member express interest in joining a group on a day's outing at Magma Shooting Preserve No. 1 near Florence, a trio planning such a trip (Karl Doeren, Lloyd McCalpin and Lloyd Wheadon) invited this NEW member to accompany them.

The real surprise was Forrest Cooper's response to our introduction: "Nice to see you again, Doctor New." (They were old friends, the good doctor having hunted pheasants there since 1967 when he was living in Tucson.)

Happy to have you aboard, Dr. Harlan L. New; we're looking forward to enjoying your good company many times in the future.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS

J. E. "Ernie" Wilson, Secretary
John G. Farabaugh, President
Ruth Dobson, Treasurer
Col. Lou North, Vice President

Being mailed with this News letter, is Supplement No. 3 of our 1976 Membership Roster.

It should be appended to the initial Roster issued in February, which already should have Supplements Nos. 1 & 2 attached.

Fifty four new members joined our club from the time Supplement No. 2 was issued in September, until December 1st.

With this issue of the News letter, I am retiring as it's editor.

Whether or not it will be continued in 1977, is a matter for the new Board of Directors to decide. If so, I wish the new editor every success.

While it has been a lot of work to edit the monthly News Letter, (some fun, too) it was done at the request of our 1976 president, Gordon Evans.

I hope it has contributed somewhat to his outstanding accomplishments this year.

DECEMBER NEWS 1977

DECEMBER MEETING

Your next Club meeting will be at 9:30 a.m., Monday, Dec. 19, in Social Hall #3, Lakeview Center.

Mr. John S. Amory, Jr., State Chairman of Arizona Ducks Unlimited, will make a presentation on the Ducks Unlimited chapter in Arizona as well as its functions on a national and international basis. He will have a film to illustrate the work of this most successful conservation effort. Mr. Amory will be accompanied by Gene Turk (National Trustee for Ducks Unlimited) and Pat Nowlin (Trustee Emeritus).

SMITH TO HEAD CLUB

At their December meeting, your Board of Directors elected Justin "Jed" Smith to the presidency of your Club for the year 1978. The membership elected Jed to his second term on the Board. This well-known member has been a past Vice President of the Sun City Sportsmen's Club but stepped aside to add zome zest to the election of Directors of the Recreation Centers in 1976. Jed came close on this one, barely missing the required number to put him on the Board. Obviously, he has not lost his following among our membership as he has been Fishing Unit Chairman for the past three years.

Other officers for the year 1978 are: J. E. "Ernie" Wilson, Vice President; Carrie L. "Mac" McColloch, Treasurer; and John Farabaugh, Secretary.

The election of Directors held at the regular November membership meeting, had two repeaters and one newcomer coming on the Board for three-year terms. These members were selected from an excellent slate of candidates lined up by your Moninating Committee. Jed Smith and Fred Du Bois were the repeaters and are joined by Dr. "Jourdy" Jourdonais.

THOMAS L. KIMBALL TO APPEAR

With the barbecue, Club elections and cleanup out of the way, your Board is working to assure the success of the Annual Installation and Awards Banquet. Remember - Saturday, January 21 - and plan to attend this outstanding event. A changed and more expensive menu has been ordered at the same $7.00 per ticket donation. The program will consist of Thomas L. Kimball (Executive Vice President, National Wildlife Federation) as the featured speaker and Gary LaMonica (President, Arizona Wildlife Federation) as the installing officer. A surprise for Master of Ceremonies is in store for those attending. Tickets will be available at the December meeting or can be ordered by using the application blank appearing elsewhere in this Newsletter. Only 180 tickets are available and they are on a first come, first served basis.

A BOUNTIFAL CHRISTMAS

What could be more appropriate than using the profits from the Buffalo Barbecue (where those attending were amply fed and "watered") to help those not so fortunate. At least, that was the thinking of your Board when making gift allocations at the December meeting.

Your Directors voted to make $100.00 contributions each to the Salvation Army and the St. Vincent De Paul Dining Room to help with their Christmas dinner programs. In addition (and for obviously other reasons, your Board voted to make similar donations to the Sun City Recreation Centers, Inc., and the Sun City Sherrif's Posse (they all seem to be well fed).

In keeping with the spirit of Christmas, all members are asked to bring canned goods to the December meeting to assist the Salvation Army and St. Vincent De Paul with their feeding of the poor. Please mark this on your calendar and remember to bring some canned goods to this meeting!

SKEET

Old Faithful John Betcher was the only one to ring the bell this month with his two runs of 25 straight; but look out for Ed Steward! He's been warming up a new Winchester 101 over-and-under and should crack the barrier with it before long. Recent arrival Colonel Jamie Aiken has promised us he'll shape up his reloading efforts. He says there'll be no more of his "beer" loads which range from bloopers to goose loads.

PISTOL

The pistoleros fired their November match on the 28th. Emil Dudash fired a red-hot score of 287-10X to win the .22 caliber match. In the handicap event. Dr. Henry Zettleman's adjusted score of 296-7X was high. Dr. Zettelman topped all other competitors with the center-fire pistol by firing a 265-6X. Sam Jackson's handicap score of 291-6X was tops in the handicap match. The December match will be on Wednesday, December 21, at 1:00 p.m.

* * * * *

Trap Shooters have added to their schedule. In addition to Tuesday a.m., the trap fields are open at 1 p.m. each Friday.

FISHING UNIT NEWS

The next quarterly meeting of the Fishing Unit will be held Friday, Dec. 23, at 9:30 a.m. in Social Hall #3, Lakeview Center. This will be a double-feature program with the first part having a presentation by Tom Camp (President, Aquatic Management, Inc.) showing "before and after" films of a lake which has been scientifically treated to produce excellent fishing. Gary Edwards (Chief Biologist, Arizona Game and Fish Department) will make a presentation on stocking of lakes. Your Unit Chairman, Jed Smith, reports that progress is continuing on the Sun City lakes program. As this is being written, Jed and a group are making a final inspection of the golf course lakes prior to the transfer of the good game species to Viewpoint and Dawn Lakes. Attend the meeting and hear the latest!

CLEANUP

Chairman Harold Blair thanks all members who participated in the semi-annual cleanup on Thursday, December 8. The law of inverse proportion seems to have taken over this traditional event. With the growth of our community and Club, the number of volunteers seems to diminish. When the group was smaller, they were encouraged to work just a little harder to get the job accomplished. Again, many thanks from Harold.

SEPT. NEWS 1977

SEPTEMBER MEETING

The first Club meeting of the Fall season will be at 9:30 a.m., Monday, September 19, in Social Halls 2 and 3 at Lakeview Center.

In keeping with this time of the year, the program will feature Albert LeCount, Wildlife Research Biologist of the Arizona Game and Fish Department.

Mr. LeCount comes to us with seven years of experience as Wildlife Manager and Research Biologist with the Department. His research has been in the mule deer and black bear fields and his talk will center on "Black Bear Research in Central Arizona."

Hunters - Be prepared to get the answers to your questions from a real expert!

SPORTSMEN EXPRESS SYMPATHY

Your Directors, speaking for the Club membership, would like to extend our sympathy to John Meeker on the recent loss of his wife. Mr. Meeker has been a true friend and backer of your Club since its inception and, therefore, we share with him this personal loss.

SKEET

Shooters were a little scarce during the summer season, but some of the scores fired were as hot as the weather. Wayne Stutzman led the pack by breaking 25 on three occasions - once with his 28 gauge gun. Lou North followed closely by running 50 straight one day and 25 one other time. All the practice paid off on opening day of the dove season. Early reports indicate all hunters did well with more white wings being taken than in last year's opener.

EIGHTH ANNUAL BUFFALO BARBECUE

Out of 12 buffalo applications, we were fortunate to draw three permits for young animals. They will provide as much or more meat as we had last year.

Tom Sharp, Caterers, will barbecue the meat and serve the meal at the same price as last year. We are, therefore, able to provide tickets at the same $5.00 donation.

The date will be Sunday, November 6. Mark your calendar and plan to be there for a good meal, a good time - AND entertainment!

Tickets will be available at the September meeting.

RIFLE & PISTOL UNIT

The "Meeting Day" Pistol Match will resume at 1:00 p.m. on September 19. Handgunners are invited to come out and enjoy the sport. Remember - you need not be an expert to do well. Doc Zettleman's system of handicapping gives everyone a chance. Lady Pistoleers - come out and join Josephine Escudier in upholding the women's status.

The Rifle & Pistol Unit needs more Range Officers to maintain shooting schedules and programs consistent with the needs of the Unit's membership (now approximately 200 members). Once again - an appeal is made for volunteers who will devote two to three hours a month to this necessary function.

Please contact Ralph Deemer (977-4413). The alternative to an increased roster of Range Officers is a reduction in shooting schedules and programs.

* * * * *

Change!

Chairmen Deemer and McColloch announce that effective October 1 the shooting hours at the ranges will be changed to Fall and Winter schedules. Skeet & Trap will start at 9:00 a.m. each Tuesday morning. Rifle & Pistol will change to afternoon sessions. The range will be open from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. each Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday.

SEPTEMBER DUES ARE DUE

A Fall reminder - Yearly dues of $5.00 are due if the last four digits of the segmented number above the address label is 0977.

METALLIC SILHOUETTE

Members of our Club were well represented at the NRA National Siluetas Metalicas Championships held at the Black Canyon Range over Labor Day weekend. Hank Bainbridge did a crackerjack job as Chief Range Officer for the 3-day match as he ramrodded 288 of the best shooters from the USA and Mexico through their paces to determine the National Champion.

He was ably assisted by members Bob Ace, Paul Detweiler, Tony Jurca and John Rybak. Among the competitors were Chill Craig, Karl Doeren, Lou North and Emory Tooly, all of whom turned in good performances even though they failed to bring home the bacon. However, a great deal of experience and match seasoning was gained - so look out for 'em next year!

The Rifle & Pistol Unit is in the process of setting up a reduced scale small bore (22 RF caliber) 100 yard metallic silhouette facility at the Heading Ranch Range. Come out soon and test your skill at this fast growing shooting sport.

PHEASANT SHOOTING - October-March

The Trap & Skeet Unit of the Sportsmen's Club has purchased a membership in the Magma Shooting Preserve. Sun City Sportsmen's Club members may purchase a "Pheasant Group" card for $5.00 which entitles members to shoot as many pheasants or chukars as desired at $6.00 per bird (on a release basis).

Magma is located about 9 miles northwest of Sun City. Trained dogs will point and retrieve birds. If desired, the management will clean the birds for $1.00 each. The total cost per bird is only one-half that of previous years. Members may bring as guests any non-resident of Sun City.

FISHING LINES

The next meeting of the Fishing Unit will be at 9:30 a.m., Friday, September 23, in Social Hall #3, Lakeview Center.

There will be two speakers at this meeting: (1) Tom Camp (slides and questions on fresh water environment and (2) Gary Edwards (Chief Biologist of the Arizona Game & Fish Department (slides and lecture on striper stocking and fishing in the Colorado River.

Eddie Herman, Bill Malone and Jake Siemens continue to be our best and most active carp fishermen. It is hoped that more people will fish for carp to remove them from Viewpoint Lake. This is a MUST - as carp do great harm to other fish in the lake.

Small catfish are being caught which proves that a good fish hatch has taken place. Also, good catches of bass, bluegills and tapillia zilli have been taken.

At this meeting, a full report will be given on channel catfish, as presented to Chairman Jed Smith by Dr. Damon Shelton of Ralston-Purina Company.

JUNE NEWS 1977

JUNE MEETING

The next meeting will be at 9:30 a.m. Monday, June 20, in Social Halls 2 & 3 Lakeview Center. This will be a combined meeting of the Sportsmen's Club and the Fishing Unit. All Recreation Card Holders and their guests are cordially invited.

We feel very fortunate to feature Mr. John W. Meeker, President of Del E. Webb Development Company. He will speak on the future of Sun City and relate details of the planned Sun City West development.

Mr. Meeker's career with the Webb organization began in 1946 (after a tour of duty with the Air Force). His many positions have included that of Housing Division Operations Chief, Supervisor of Design and Engineering for the resort-retirement community now widely known as our Sun City, Arizona. This latter assignment made him responsible for the complete layout of the community, as well as homes, public buildings and golf courses.

In 1965, he became President and Director of Del E. Webb Development Co. Sun City and Vice President of the parent corporation. Under his guidance, Sun City has grown from zero population to over 36,000 in 16 years.

He serves on the Board of Directors of Walter O. Boswell Memorial Hospital; President and Director of Sunland Memorial Park and Cemetery, and Saguaro Advertising Agency, Inc.

AWF CONVENTION REPORT

We are happy to report the election of C. L. "Mac" McColloch on May 22, 1977, as Delegate at Large at the Arizona Wildlife Federation Convention. Mac has served continuously as an officer of our Club since 1968 (President in 1974). Mac's experience and enthusiasm for conservation of wildlife and natural resources will be of utmost value as a Director at Large. Congratulations - Mac!

We are also pleased to be able to tell you that the Arizona Wildlife Federation has given a Conservation Citation for outstanding service to our Ruth Dobson which reads: "For continued promptness, neatness and exactness of reports and correspondence between her Club and the State Officers."

PISTOL & RIFLE UNIT

Range Officer assignments for July and August are now being solicited. Commitments are still needed for Thursdays and Sundays during these months (except July 10 and August 14). Anyone interested in serving as a Range Officer, please contact Ralph Deemer (977-4413 after 5:00 p.m.) prior to June 30. Should you find the Pistol and Rifle Range closed on any scheduled shooting day, the cause will be the inability to obtain a Range Officer commitment for that day. Until September 1, shooting hours are: 9:00 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday.

The May Newsletter brought some new competitors to Dr. Zettelman's pistol matches. Josephine Excudier was among them and netted a 293 - just one point behind the winning .22 caliber match score. The results were:

.22 Caliber

Lou North	273	- gross score without handicap
	294	- net score with handicap

Center Fire

Lou North	266	- gross score without handicap
Lee Johnson	296-6x	- net score with handicap

Lee Johnson was tied by Lou North (296-4x) and John Farabaugh (296-2x).

DUES

Our Treasurer (Ruth Dobson) again reminds us that yearly dues of $5.00 are due if the last 4 digits of the segmented number above the address label are 0677 (June).

FISHING LINES

Chairman Jed Smith reports that a new member of the Sun City Sportsmen's Club and the Fishing Unit (none other than Eddie Herman, 10249 Balboa Drive, 977-9425) has coined a novel name for the "Loch Ness Monsters" (carp) which are in Viewpoint Lake - SUN CITY SALMON. He has removed 71 "SALMON" - one over 25 lbs. HE was the one who attached balloons to four carp and released them in Viewpoint Lake. I understand several alcoholics swore off the juice.

This same Eddie Herman gave me a recipe for "CARP BAIT" which he guarantees and which I now pass on to you. You need a 6" pan, a wooden spoon and 3/4 cup water to start with. Heat this to boiling and add enough cornmeal to thicken. Simmer 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Add more dry cornmeal until the mixture is dough-like in consistency. Remove from heat. The addition of annis oil or vanilla is advisable. TRY IT - YOU MIGHT LIKE IT!

Our fishermen report catches in May as follows: "Catfish" Bill Malone - 25 carp (one weighed 24 lbs); Jake Siemens - 5 carp (Jake, you have slipped); "Big Steve" - 25 carp and many bass.

P.S. Look for a mechanical swan on Viewpoint Lake soon.

1977 HUNTING PERMITS

Applications for 1977 fall hunting permits for deer, elk, big horn sheep, antelope and buffalo are now being taken. July 11 is the deadline date. Hunting regulations for this year are now in the hands of all sporting goods dealers.

If there is anyone interested in a buffalo permit to furnish the entrée for our Buffalo Barbecue, please contact Mac McCulloch (933-7247) prior to June 20. Mac may know of someone who would provide financial assistance for such a hunt. WE CAN'T HAVE A BUFFALO BARBECUE WITHOUT A BUFFALO.

MISCELLANEOUS

The attendance at our SPRING PICNIC on May 29 was less than we had hoped for. Those of us who did attend had a wonderful time! While we realize the day prior to Memorial Day was not ideal, it was the only date available to us.

* * * * * *

During our summer vacation, don't forget to keep thinking of potential members for our Club.

This is the last Newsletter you will receive until September as this is the normal vacation period when so many of our members will be away. Your President and the Board of Directors sincerely hope that you will have an enjoyable period free from all problems and cares - and just maybe catch a fish you can brag about at our September meeting. If you drive on your vacation - do it defensively. We want you back!

NEXT MEETING

will be held Monday, January 17th in Lounge 3, Lakeview Center 9:30 A.M.- MARK YOUR CALENDAR NOW Recreation Card Holders & GUESTS are Cordially Invited!

OUR GUEST SPEAKER

BOB WHITAKER

Bob will again favor us with an interesting slide presentation of fishing trips he made to Mexico during 1976. Also, experiences he had while visiting various lakes in Arizona.

His commentary is always as good as his columns in the Sunday Arizona Republic.

Bob is a collector of antique fishing equipment. He has a reel that is said to be more than 150 years old.

Anyone having unusual fishing items (or antiques) should bring them to the meeting for Bob to examine. They may be worth money to you if Bob should desire them for his collection.

ARTS & CRAFTS FAIR

Your Club has reserved space at the annual Arts & Crafts Fair at the Sun Bowl on January 22nd and 23rd. (Saturday & Sunday)

Chuck Bindner will have space in our booth for his interesting exhibit. Perhaps, he may even put on his special act of "milking a live rattlesnake." Those willing to help man the booth for a couple of hours, sign the sheet which will be passed around at the January meeting - or call McColloch, 933-7247.

HELP HELP HELP

If this issue of ours Newsletter seems to lack good format, composition, editorial content or overall quantity, read on.

Lloyd Wheadon has performed yeoman service to your club in the past. He was your second president (1969) and served on your Board of Directors for six years.

Also, Lloyd was your first and only editor of this Newsletter, along with his other duties as publicity chairman.

He feels that he has made his contribution and requested that we allow him to pursue his other interests - a most reasonable request.

He leaves with our many thanks for a job well done.

This issue was written, edited, etc. by a bunch of amateurs with Lloyd assisting with the final make-up.

While your President may have a tentative Editor for future issues, that person will also need help. Any member with talents in this field: BE SURE TO COMPLETE THE QUESTIONNAIRE AND GET IT BACK TO THE CLUB!.

President's Report

At your December meeting, I was introduced by Gordon Evans as your new President. The implications of this assignment were not fully realized until I heard Gordon's Annual Report for 1976.

The accomplishments of the Club last year under his direction and leadership will be hard to "top" - this, or any other year in the future.

In addition to ten interesting meetings, participation in several Fairs & Carnivals, the Lakes Improvement Program, the Newsletter, National Hunting & Fishing Day, the best Buffalo Barbecue yet, his tenure was capped with the improvements at the Hedding Ranch - the fence, the P.A. system and the new road

Our hats off to Gordon for his work in 1976. He would be the first to say that it was not a one-man show, but those of us working closely with him, know and appreciate the super effort he put into the Club.

With our membership now exceeding 650, I believe a new emphasis should be placed on our activities. Certainly, your officers and directors derive some personal satisfaction out of serving you , but, with the tremendous amount of talent within our membership, a larger number should share some of the responsibility in making our Club a better organization. Therefore, our goal is:"WIDER PARTICIPATION BY ALL MEMBERS AS WORKERS IN CLUB-SPONSORED ACTIVITIES

Your Vice President, Colonel Lou North, and I have discussed this and Lou came up with the questionnaire attached.

Let us know your interests and we will put you to work.

I am pleased to announce the following Chairmanship appointments for your club committees:

By Jake Siemens

Recently, catfishing has slowed down, because of cooler water.

Several catfish in the 3 to 4 pound category have been caught.

Mr. Russell Oddo lost a an estimated 10-lb. catfish because his line parted.

Better luck next time, Russell.

Bass fishing seems to be mostly in the ten to twelve inch size.

Would like to hear from any fisherman as to his luck in landing any crappie.

Besides the 80 big carp taken with gill net, about 60 have been landed by rod & reel from the bank. They have averaged from 1 to 3 pounds.

Our sincere thanks go to Al Henderson for the fine presentation he made to our club last month.

His excellent slides and personal insights into the Olympics made us feel as though we'd all been there with him.

The Olympic team was indeed fortunate to have a man of his ability, experience and good humor to lead them to victory.

SKEET

By Lou North

Vance Blosser did it again! We hadn't seen him for several months, then suddenly - BLAM - he walked out and cleaned the course his first time around. And then, there are guys like me who run 24 straight and miss the last bird - OUCH.

The most improved shooter in recent weeks has been Lamoine Lafay. He's especially deadly on the doubles.

Dr. Henry Zettleman has shown us some classy form recently. Shooting International style, he comes up regularly as top gun in his squad.

George Whitaker, a recent addition to our local shooting fraternity, has also been powdering the clays with his vintage Model 12 like the past master that he is.

SEE YOU ON THE FIRING LINE!

TRAP

E. B. Malloy's first turn at Trap (after a 6 months' layoff) was a perfect 25. Not bad for an "over-eighty-er", eh?)

New member John Byrne was accompanied on his first trip to the trap facility, by nationally famous writer Jimmie Robinson.

JAVELINA

For such avid hunters as "Doc" Johnson, John Ryback, Karl Doeren, John Betcher and others, the next big event in the field will be the open season on javelina which will run from Feb. 26 thru March 4.

This wily little "porker" is one of the eight species of big game animals which hunters pursue in Arizona - second only to deer in popularity with resident hunters.

It is hoped there will be some "success" stories (with pictures) for our March News letter.

Jimmie authored "African Safari", an interesting account of his adventures on a leopard hunt in 1965.

He is "wintering" in our fair city and is seriously thinking of buying a home in Sun City.

With a little bit of luck, we may get him as a Guest Speaker. He's a most interesting fellow. He will be among those present at the Club Dinner January 15th.

SEPTEMBER MEETING

The first Club meeting of the Fall season will be at 9:30 a.m., Monday, September 19, in Social Halls 2 and 3 at Lakeview Center.

In keeping with this time of the year, the program will feature Albert LeCount, Wildlife Research Biologist of the Arizona Game and Fish Department.

Mr. LeCount comes to us with seven years of experience as Wildlife Manager and Research Biologist with the Department. His research has been in the mule deer and black bear fields and his talk will center on "Black Bear Research in Central Arizona."

Hunters - Be prepared to get the answers to your questions from a real expert!

SPORTSMEN EXPRESS SYMPATHY

Your Directors, speaking for the Club membership, would like to extend our sympathy to John Meeker on the recent loss of his wife. Mr. Meeker has been a true friend and backer of your Club since its inception and, therefore, we share with him this personal loss.

SKEET

Shooters were a little scarce during the summer season, but some of the scores fired were as hot as the weather. Wayne Stutzman led the pack by breaking 25 on three occasions - once with his 28 gauge gun. Lou North followed closely by running 50 straight one day and 25 one other time. All the practice paid off on opening day of the dove season. Early reports indicate all hunters did well with more white wings being taken than in last year's opener.

EIGHTH ANNUAL BUFFALO BARBECUE

Out of 12 buffalo applications, we were fortunate to draw three permits for young animals. They will provide as much or more meat as we had last year.

Tom Sharp, Caterers, will barbecue the meat and serve the meal at the same price as last year. We are, therefore, able to provide tickets at the same $5.00 donation.

The date will be Sunday, November 6. Mark your calendar and plan to be there for a good meal, a good time - AND entertainment!

Tickets will be available at the September meeting.

RIFLE & PISTOL UNIT

The "Meeting Day" Pistol Match will resume at 1:00 p.m. on September 19. Handgunners are invited to come out and enjoy the sport. Remember - you need not be an expert to do well. Doc Zettleman's system of handicapping gives everyone a chance. Lady Pistoleers - come out and join Josephine Escudier in upholding the women's status.

The Rifle & Pistol Unit needs more Range Officers to maintain shooting schedules and programs consistent with the needs of the Unit's membership (now approximately 200 members). Once again - an appeal is made for volunteers who will devote two to three hours a month to this necessary function.

Please contact Ralph Deemer (977-4413). The alternative to an increased roster of Range Officers is a reduction in shooting schedules and programs.

* * * * *

Change!

Chairmen Deemer and McColloch announce that effective October 1 the shooting hours at the ranges will be changed to Fall and Winter schedules. Skeet & Trap will start at 9:00 a.m. each Tuesday morning. Rifle & Pistol will change to afternoon sessions. The range will be open from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. each Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday.

SEPTEMBER DUES ARE DUE

A Fall reminder - Yearly dues of $5.00 are due if the last four digits of the segmented number above the address label is 0977.

METALLIC SILHOUETTE

Members of our Club were well represented at the NRA National Siluetas Metalicas Championships held at the Black Canyon Range over Labor Day weekend. Hank Bainbridge did a crackerjack job as Chief Range Officer for the 3-day match as he ramrodded 288 of the best shooters from the USA and Mexico through their paces to determine the National Champion.

He was ably assisted by members Bob Ace, Paul Detweiler, Tony Jurca and John Rybak. Among the competitors were Chill Craig, Karl Doeren, Lou North and Emory Tooly, all of whom turned in good performances even though they failed to bring home the bacon. However, a great deal of experience and match seasoning was gained - so look out for 'em next year!

The Rifle & Pistol Unit is in the process of setting up a reduced scale small bore (22 RF caliber) 100 yard metallic silhouette facility at the Heading Ranch Range. Come out soon and test your skill at this fast growing shooting sport.

PHEASANT SHOOTING - October-March

The Trap & Skeet Unit of the Sportsmen's Club has purchased a membership in the Magma Shooting Preserve. Sun City Sportsmen's Club members may purchase a "Pheasant Group" card for $5.00 which entitles members to shoot as many pheasants or chukars as desired at $6.00 per bird (on a release basis).

Magma is located about 9 miles northwest of Sun City. Trained dogs will point and retrieve birds. If desired, the management will clean the birds for $1.00 each. The total cost per bird is only one-half that of previous years. Members may bring as guests any non-resident of Sun City.

FISHING LINES

The next meeting of the Fishing Unit will be at 9:30 a.m., Friday, September 23, in Social Hall #3, Lakeview Center.

There will be two speakers at this meeting: (1) Tom Camp (slides and questions on fresh water environment and (2) Gary Edwards (Chief Biologist of the Arizona Game & Fish Department (slides and lecture on striper stocking and fishing in the Colorado River.

Eddie Herman, Bill Malone and Jake Siemens continue to be our best and most active carp fishermen. It is hoped that more people will fish for carp to remove them from Viewpoint Lake. This is a MUST - as carp do great harm to other fish in the lake.

Small catfish are being caught which proves that a good fish hatch has taken place. Also, good catches of bass, bluegills and tapillia zilli have been taken.

At this meeting, a full report will be given on channel catfish, as presented to Chairman Jed Smith by Dr. Damon Shelton of Ralston-Purina Company.

CLUB BANQUET

Mark January 21, 1978, on your calendars and plan to attend the Club's second annual Awards and Installation Banquet. Tickets at $7.00 each will be available at the November meeting. While the purpose of the banquet is to recognize past service and install your new Officers, our Club will be particularly honored on this occasion by having Thomas L. Kimball, Executive Vice President of the National Wildlife Federation, Washington, D.C., as the featured speaker. Number of tickets available is limited to seating capacity of the Greenbriar Banquet Hall. Get yours early!

CLUB CARNIVAL

Your Club is again participating in the Sun City Carnival of Clubs at the Sundial Recreation Center on Friday (Nov. 25) and Saturday (Nov. 26). We will offer for resale anything in the sporting equipment line except guns and annunition. Bring your surplus fishing equipment, golf clubs, etc., to our tables at the Carnival at 8 AM on Friday (Nov. 25). Have a price in mind or let us help you establish a price and we will sell it for a 10% commission. While security has been provided, valuable items can be removed Friday PM and returned Saturday AM for display on the second day. Hours for the Carnival are from 10 AM to 6 PM each day. Any unsold merchandise should be picked up before 6 PM Saturday.

SKEET

En route from the quail fields to his annual deer hunt, John Betcher had to stop by the skeet range where he deftly powdered 50 straight - just to show us he hasn't lost his touch. Wayne Stutzman (another heavy hitter) ran 25 straight, switched guns and smoked 25 more without a miss! How's that for versatility? The next time out, he managed another run of 25 to show it wasn't luck. (P.S. The rest of us also ran.)

The October pistol match saw some familiar names in the winners' circle. The .22 caliber match was won by Dr. Henry Zettleman with a scratch score of 266-3X. His handicap score of 291-3X was tied by Gerry Putnam. There was no shoot off - they split the loot. In the center-fire match, Chill Craig won with a scratch score of 269-7X. Now we start the year of 1978 with a program devoted solely to the survival of that other species we are so interested in - MAN. We are very fortunate to have Chris Williams of U. S. Our program will feature Mr. Dave Daugherty, Audio - Visual Specialist of the Game and Fish Department. Dave has been with us before, and as many will remember, is a very interesting and knowledgeable speaker on Arizona Wildlife. He will talk on the habitat requirements of Javelina as well as how to find and hunt them. Dave will have with him a new film from the Department, " Javelina in Arizona". Come, bring a friend or neighbor, and learn about these " Wild Hawgs."

SKEET

The skeet range in January was no place for fair-weather shooters. The rainy, cool weather kept attendance low. Undaunted by the weatherman, John Betcher maintained his sizzling pace by turning in a score of 25 straight. Quail season ended on January 31st so we expect to see more of the hunters who want to keep their barrels warm on the skeet range.

PISTOL

The pistol shooters fired their monthly match on January 23rd. In the .22 caliber match, Lou North was high with a 283-5x, while Emil Dudash took the .22 handicap event with 295-5x. Firing the center-fire pistol, Dr. Henry Zettleman topped all other competitors with his 260-1x. Lou North's score of 288-1x was good in the center-fire handicap. The February pistol match will be on Monday, February 27th, at 1:00 P. M. .

FISHING UNIT

The response to the membership application we had in our January Newsletter was most gratifying, so much so, that we are repeating it this month.

Bill Malone and Jack Seimans both report that due to the cold weather and the rain, the fish are not doing what they are supposed to do. (Editors comment - I wouldn't touch that one even with a ten foot fishing pole).

Plans are in the making for fishing trips to Mazatlan, Mexico, Lake Tahoe, Lake Havasu and Lake Powell. Come to the next Fishing Unit Meeting and let us know which one you would prefer.

This is the time of the year when the Unit Treasurer make his annual appeal for prompt payment of dues. Wont you please look at your membership card in your wallet to see if your dues are paid to date. If not, use the form provided below and mail your remittance.

As an added attraction Mr. Dick Kemp, Public Relations Director, Del Webb Corporation has offered a room and dinne for two at Wahweap Lodge & Marina to be drawn from among our membership at the meeting on April 17th, 1978. Recreation members and guest welcome.

NOTICE

Your President, Mr. Jed Smith appointed a committee of four past presidents to bring our by-laws in to conformity with the Recreation Centers of Sun City, Inc. This committee has completed its work and has gained approval from our Board of Directors. There has been no major changes as to dues, Officers, Directors, Term of office. The committee will ask approval of the membership on April 17th of the suggested revised by-laws.

PISTOL & RIFLE

Our local constabulary conducted qualification firing last week at the Sheriff's Range at Pioneer to sort out pistol packin' deputies. Several of our members were among the 17 who qualified out of the 45 shooters participating. Top gun was Colonel Jamie Aiken who fired a blistering 293 out of a possible 300. Tied for second were George Koval and S.M. Schulz with 285 each. We're most proud of Jo Escudier, the only lady to enter the event, who qualified with a score of 250. Nice going Jo, your hard work and serious practice paid off.

Good news! The pistol and rifle range will resume operations the week of April 9th. The range will be open on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons from 1:00 until 4:00 P.M. One word of caution, the Heading Ranch road has been badly damaged by flood waters. Look out for potholes and travel the road at your own risk.

SKEET

The hard core clay bird busters have been doing their thing at the Phoenix Trap and Skeet Club Range since the Great Flood of '78, and guess who was the only one to clean 25 straight - thats right John Betcher. A work-party of the scattergun fraternity descended on the shotgun ranges at Heading Ranch last Monday and reclaimed their territory from Mother Nature. Water damage was significant, but the ranges are operating again on the same schedule as before.

NEXT MEETING

will be held Monday, January 19th in Lounge 3, Lakeview Center.

Election of two board members to fill unexpired terms caused by resignations, will be first on the agenda, with voting by secret ballot from 9 to 9:30. Please bring your membership card- AND COME EARLY!

Our 1976 President, Gordon Evans, has arranged an interesting agenda with regular meeting to start promptly at 9:30. MARK YOUR CALENDAR!

CHIT-CHAT ABOUT CLUB MEMBERS

Undoubtedly, the most avid and experienced sportsman in Sun City is none other than our fellow club member, Dr. R. L. Johnson.

"Doc" has a deep freeze which, at one time or another, has contained most kinds of fish and wild game, including ducks, geese, wild turkey, quail, dove, pheasant, buffalo, elk, deer, javelina, rabbit - even rattlesnake which, incidentally, is excellent eating, when properly prepared - and Wife Elma is an expert cook and also very accomplished with firearms.

"Doc" is also a "diligent tiller of the soil" with a plot in the Agricultural Club gardening project.

Our trapshooters have become accustomed to some pretty stiff breezes but at our special Thanksgiving shoot we had a regular Gale - in fact three of them - Bob (Windy) Gale I accompanied by Bob II & III.

They wanted to sharpen their shooting eyes before going out to Magma Game Farm for pheasants the next day.

Ye Editor got a big "bang" out of coaching Bob III (Age 9) who was trapshooting for the first time - and with a .410.

He later downed three birds at the pheasant farm.

LOVE A PARADE!

Magma Shooting Preserve and our Sportsmen's Club collaborated on a float in the Sun City Bicentennial Parade.

HUNTING: OUR HERITAGE
Magma Shooting Preserve
Sun City Sportsmen's Club

with hunting styled riders.

Twe hunting dogs and stuffed pheasants drew special attention.

From the amount of applause received, it appears the float was most appropriate.

Help Needed!

We hope to issue a monthly letter about club member happenings. Our object is to make every issue real "NEWSY."

Any and all suggestions about members which would be interesting to others, would be appreciated by Ye Editor.

Please send such items to "Editor, P. O. Box 573, Sun City."

JAVELINA

Among the eight species of big game animals which hunters may pursue in Arizona, the Javelina is most popular of all with non-residents and is second only to the deer with resident hunters.

At our January 19th meeting Dave Daughtry of the Arizona Game & Fish Department, will show slides and comment on the habits and habitat of Javelina.

PHEASANTS, YES!

Increased numbers of Sportsmen Club members are experiencing the thrill of pheasant shooting at the two Magma Game Farms- one located only six miles northwest of Sun City--the other near Florence. No license necessary.

In addition to a special rate for a 13-bird card for club members, a reduced price is being given to groups of 3 or 4 shooters who may wish to "sample" the thrills with a 3-bird hunt. (Results guaranteed)

Those desiring more complete details should contact Lloyd Wheadon, Phone 933-4277.

NEXT MEETING -- FISHING UNIT WILL BE ON FRIDAY JANY. 16TH
Place: Lounge 1, Lakeview Center - Time 9 A.M.
The 3rd Friday in January happens to fall three days ahead of the regular club meeting which will be the following Monday. (See announcement upper left hand corner, first column.)

Al Essbach, Chief of Fisheries, Arizona Game & Fish Department, will be Guest Speaker. Films relating to various species of fish will be shown, followed by a question and answer session.

Chuck Bindner who was the December meeting speaker on the subject "Birds of Prey" (pictured on back page with 1976 officers) has donated two mounted Blue Teal to the Fishing Unit. Raffle tickets will be sold at our Unit meeting, with proceeds to be added to the Fish Procurement Fund.

Viewpoint Lake recently has been stocked with 1,800 lbs. of Channel Catfish; also 5200 fathead minnows - food for larger fish. Barrels & clusters of tires have been strategically placed to provide habitat for fish reproduction and protection.
Approximately 8000 Crappies have been ordered which, it is hoped, will be placed in the lake within the next 90 days.
Bass and Trout (for December to April fishing) will be added as soon as funds are available.

Kudos to Viewpoint Lake Home Owners for their decision (and contributions) to purchase three pair of Swan to enhance the placid waters of Viewpoint Lake.

SUN CITY, ARIZ. 85351

February 9, 1970.

Good Morning, Neighbor:

"Thank You" for joining with us in making the Sun City Sportsmen's Club Fishing Derby a big success by your participation and help.

497 fishermen and women caught over 500 rainbow trout, ranging from 8" to 12½", and one blue gill. There are well over 2,500 rainbow trout remaining in the lake for your fishing enjoyment after February 13th.

$510.00 in prizes was awarded in all classes, including 57 merchandise certificates for attendance. We hope that you were a prize winner. If not, we bet you came close to being a winner.

If you enjoyed the two days as much as we did, you may be interested in learning more about our club and our activities. We are not a Social Club alone, but also a "working" one.

The Sun City Sportsmen's Club is the only organized Voice for Conservation in Sun City. There are well over 110 regular members plus their wives, who become associate members at no cost. Their outdoor interests range from fishing in lakes, rivers and ocean; hunting both large and small game; archery - both game and target; markmanship with pistol, rifle and shotgun (trap & skeet); varmint calling and bird watching, to Camera Hunting of game and birds.

We men and women are interested in preservation of our wildlife and their habitat - and of all species - and the intelligent use of many recreational areas in Arizona.

We desire to acquaint you with others who have interests similar to yours so that you may become more quickly acquainted with the scores of lakes and hunting areas available for your outdoor pleasure and to get you acquainted with many new outdoor friends.

We are making every effort to bring outstanding and knowledgeable outdoors people as Guest Speakers, who bring timely information for our use and enjoyment.

We meet the 3rd Monday of each month, except during July and August.

Our next meeting will be Monday, February 16, 1970 at 9:30 A.M. in Club Room B at Town Hall Center (at 106th and Peoria Ave.) The Guest Speaker will be Mr. Bill Younker, Big Game Hunter & Guide for 20 years - (for sheep, goats, caribou and black and brown bear) in Alaska. His subject "Alaskan Wildlife". We are sure that you will enjoy this "Eskimo Jungle Jim" as he relates his experiences, illustrated with film. He became known as "Alaska's champion hair seal bounty hunter", saving the salmon industry.

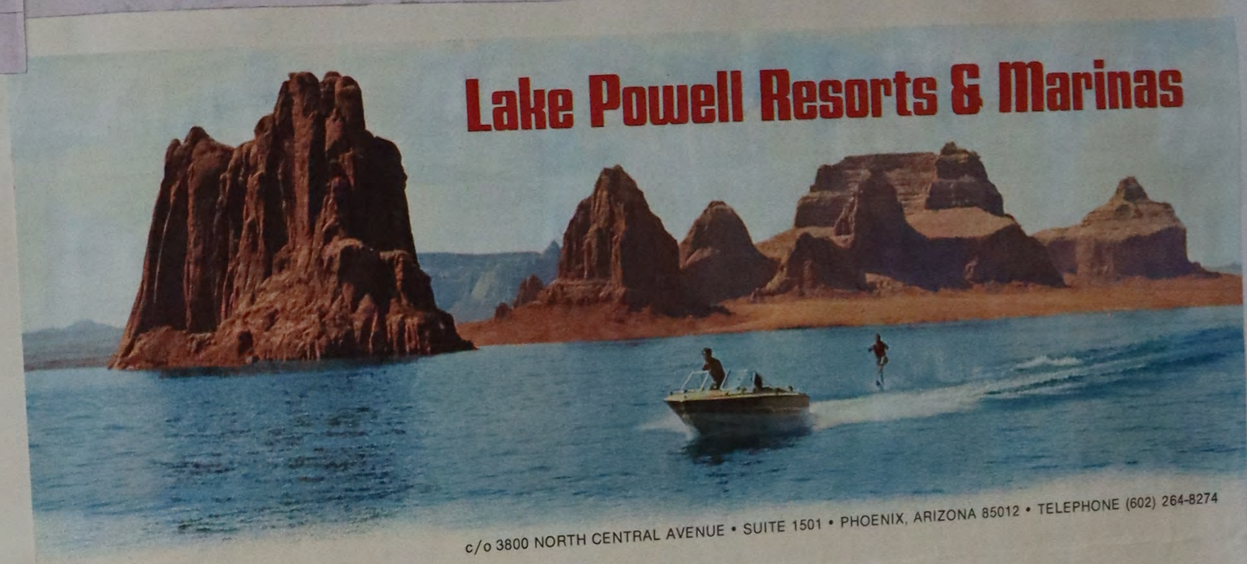

Bring your wife and neighbors and see proof that this club does not just sit back with folded hands but enjoys Arizona's unsurpassed outdoors. We sincerely hope you will join our club soon.

Membership Chairman.

Fee-hunters bag birds like they do in Dixie

Stalking pheasant in desert terrain west of Sun City, Henry Freed snaps his shotgun to his shoulder and shoots. But George Stein, in background, gets quicker shot as deadly smudge of pellets bursts from his barrel to down flurried bird. Hunting is done Dixie-style with mules and dogs at Magma Shooting Preserve where pheasants and chukar, not native to Arizona, can be gotten on wing for gourmet feasting.

Just a little bit west of Beardsley's cotton, where Dixieland is not forgotten, they're using mules, also dogs, and hunting birds Southern style.

But the background's desert, not magnolia.

The place is the Magma Shooting Preserve — a patch of the Old South near the base of the White Tank Mountains. The quarry is pheasant, or chukar if you choose. The dogs find the game. The mules save your feet.

"And all you got to do is shoot good to eat," said Magma's manager Bill Gibbons, as he sloshed off a cup of scalding coffee, cocked his cap, hollered "Ho, let's go," then hurried off to fetch his dogs.

FROM THE walls of the lodge, stuffed chukars, pheasants, and numerous grouse eyed us mutely as we went outside where the wagon waited.

There was "Mac" McCulloch and Gordon Evans, longtime shooters and past presidents of the Sun City Sportsmens Club; Henry Freed of Freed's Fine Furnishings; George Stein who comes from Croatia; and lastly myself, loaded with notebooks, shotgun and camera.

In the buckboard seat, Gibbons was ready.

"Grab your guns!" he said.

And soon we were jostling down the road that wound through the rows of corn and alfalfa. The sun was up, gun barrels gleamed, and in front of the mules, as they trotted along, the four dogs ran, sniffing for scent.

GIBBONS SMILED and chewed a straw. There was time yet for talk, and so he explained.

"These dogs are German shorthairs and English pointers. I call 'em a species of four-legged nose. Notice how they run — heads down and low. They'll locate the birds in the thickest cover, then point 'em, not flush 'em or they'll catch hell."

But he added that the weather makes a difference.

"On a cool day with some breeze, the birds'll fly quicker, plus scent carries and the dogs can find 'em faster. Today, we got warm stagnant air, so there's going to be a tendency for the birds to sit tight. The dogs won't find 'em as easy either."

He shook the reins. "Come on there, Kit and Kate!"

The mules trotted faster. Harnesses and trace chains jingled, and in the back of the wagon, the hunters were keeping sharp eyes peeled.

TALK WAS low, when suddenly Gibbons yelled "Whoa!," threw on the wagon-brake, and leaped from his seat.

"There! We got a point!"

Gun actions rattled, booted feet hit the ground, and quickly the hunters moved out in a line.

"If you boys nail him, that's good," said Freed. "I haven't shot a shotgun in nine months. Expect me to miss."

"Same goes for me," McCulloch whispered. "These shells I got are too light a load."

Then Steiner answered, "Maybe I'll hit him, but I can't hardly promise. I haven't hunted American pheasant before."

Excuses like this are sign of experience and provide a way to save face in case a bird gets away.

But talk ceased as the hunters got close. The dog hunched with his head forward. The cover was thick. The bird was unseen. Gibbons bent and picked up a rock.

"THIS BIRD'S gonna fly fast and shoot straight up! You ready?" he said.

"Yeah!" shouted Evans.

The guide threw his stone and in a flurry of wings the grass exploded. Up went the pheasant. Guns arched back. Reports followed and feathers flew.

"Got him!" hollered Freed.

"Damned if you didn't!" Gibbons retorted.

Then the dog loped to where the big bird had fallen and brought him back fluttering, but the creature was dead.

"Good meat for the New Year," McCulloch said. "Let's get some more!"

And so it went. On through the morning, we worked down the rows, while the dogs chased scent and one by one the birds were flushed out and shot.

THERE WAS time too for chewing the cud and Gibbons explained how his operation started and how it's run.

An older Magma preserve, founded by Forrest and Francis Cooper, had been located not far from Florence, he said, adding that "Magma" is the Papago word for "little rise."

"It was along about five years ago the Coopers decided to move to a different site. They got support and interest from the Del Webb Development Co. and Magma was relocated west of Sun City.

"We're open to the public, but a lot of our hunters come from Sun City — fellows, and women too, who've come from the South and Midwest, who've hunted pheasant before like Evans, Freed, and McCulloch here. And also, we get hunters from Webb and other companies."

Preserve hunting developed from fee-hunting on private land, and in Arizona where pheasant and chukar are not native, the Magma preserve with its specially planted cover provides outdoorsmen with an opportunity they wouldn't have otherwise, Gibbons said.

"OUR BIRDS are bred in California and selected for wildness. We stock 'em prior to the season which runs Oct. 1 through March 31. Orders are placed for the number wanted and we turn 'em out in the morning.

"They seek cover quick as they do in the wilds. The dogs'll sniff 'em up, but the rest is up to the hunters."

"Damn right!" McCulloch said as he stood in the wagon and peered over the fields. "We got 14 birds, but ordered us 15, and if we don't that last one, he'll be wasted on varmints."

Gibbons agreed. "The coyotes'll get him if we don't. Pheasants don't last long on their own in these parts."

So the hunt continued until the last bird was bagged. Then Gibbons and his wife Tammy performed the final task of cleaning with their special plucking machine.

The birds were thrown in a scalder, and after that into a rotating drum where rubber nubs and streams of water washed the once beautiful plummage to the floor.

But if there was sadness in this, it wasn't shown. What remained was food for a feast.

News-Sun Photo-feature

by Doug Frerichs

Reacting as his quarry bursts from cover and flies high, Sun City hunter Gordon Evans points with his barrel and slams off shot. Whether it was luck or sheer experience, he dropped his bird in one fast movement before his gunbutt ever settled to his shoulder.

In Alabama and ol' Mississip, traditional hunting was done with wagons, claimed Magma's manager Bill Gibbons as he reined his mules through rows of corn and thick alfalfa. Hunters at Magma can walk if they choose, and Henry Freed, at left, and Gordon Evans both walked considerably as they went after pheasants, but Gibbon's wagon provided blister prevention and added that oldtime touch.

In his kennel, Gibbons shows off one of his prize German short-haired pointers which he uses for locating chukar and pheasant. His dogs are trained to point their quarry, but not to flush birds. That task is left to hunters who have to shoot fast when frightened pheasant fly.

"Mac" McCulloch peers from wagon towards end of hunt to see if any dogs have pointed or located scent. Hunting went fast at first with birds discovered in nearly every row, but later it got harder to find what pheasant remained and sharp eyes were needed to watch for distant movement of dogs.

Point blank on this one, George Stein discreetly let his bird fly another 30 yards before he bore down and cut loose with one deadly blast that peppered, but did not destroy his meat. From Croatia, Stein had hunted European, but neves American pheasant before. He also said he hunts for pleasure of gourmet eating and not for trophy.

Carp shocked into leaving

12/30/77

With wide and grotesque mouths, they sucked up mud.

Their slimy flippers flashed and disturbed the waters.

Anglers hooked, flayed and cooked them, and now all, except maybe a few, are gone.

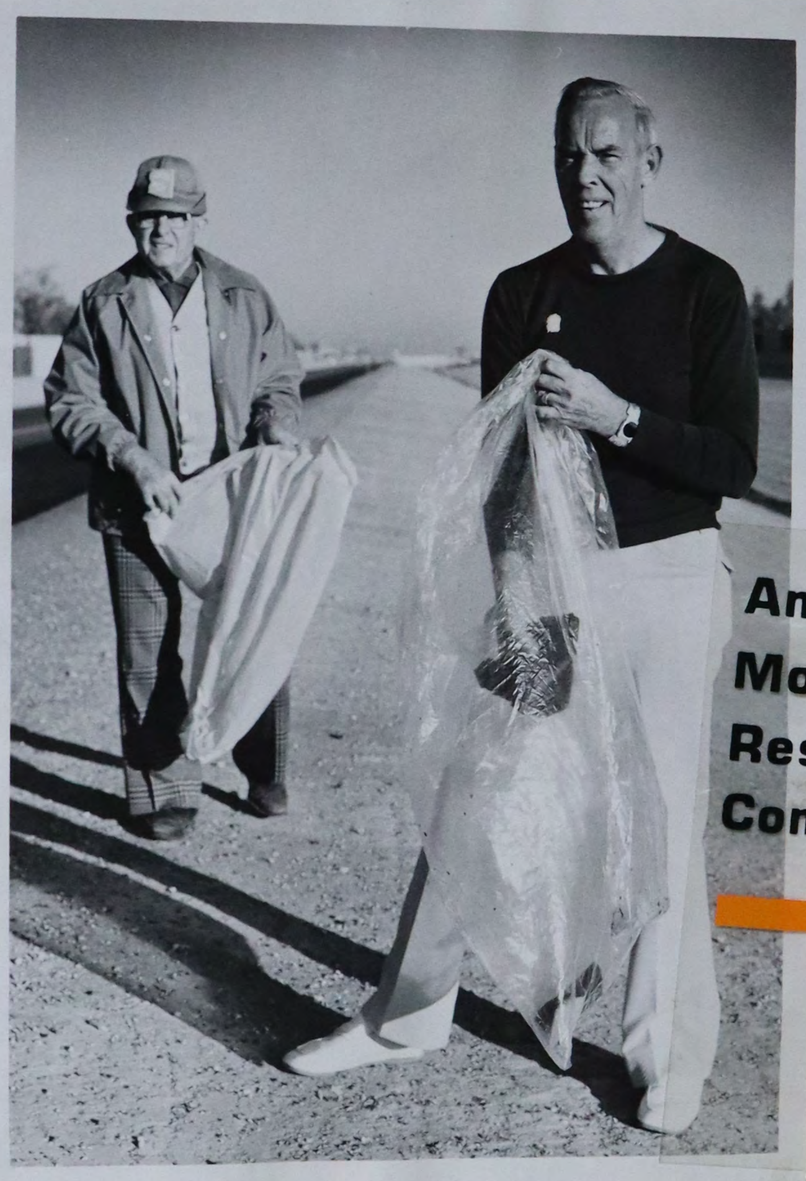

Last week, marine biologists from Aquatic Management, Inc., and the Arizona Game and Fish Department employed shocking machines to drive the carp from Sun City's golf course lakes.

But, with the media barred from operations at Palmbrook Country Club, few were there to witness the event, initiated by the Sun City Sportsmens Club under the auspices of the Recreation Centers.

Sportsmen's Club president Jed Smith explained that the carp were not killed, but quietly captured and placed in aerated tanks for transport to a suburban lake in Scottsdale.

"The carp will be happy there, and for $1, kids can buy a permit and go fishing. But here in Sun City, the carp were detrimental," he said.

"They bed on the bottom, stirred up mud, and this killed the eggs of other types of fish such as the tilapia zillii which we need for algae and weed control."

Team checks pollution on Colorado

By DOUG FRERICHS

In the deep inner gorge of the Grand Canyon, a raft group pulled across the muddy waters of the Colorado and headed downstream toward the final fury of Lava Falls.

Everybody was laughing and several women in the raft, apparent skinny-dippers, had just redonned their clothes.

But as Jed Smith stood on the white beach and watched, he cast a look of disapproval, not so much at the women as at the beach itself.

The departing group had left litter—a crate full of peaches, peach pits and a tin can.

THE QUESTION as to what extent Colorado River raft trips have caused environmental damage to the Grand Canyon has concerned conservationists. On Sept. 15 Smith embarked on a fact-finding trip down the river and through the rapids to find out.

"I went as a representative of the Sun City Sportmen's Club with the idea of reporting back not only to the club, but also to Senators Dennis DeConcini and Mo Udall," he explained.

"The trip was arranged by Don Hillman of Travel News Service, with encouragement from the senators. Charlie Ritter and Al Davis of Grand Camera in Sun City also went along to make a film documentation."

THAT FILM, Smith said, is now being readied for presentation to Arizona's senators, environmentalists, and other concerned groups.

But what of the results and allegations that the river has been defiled by both commercial and independent white-water traffic?

The answer is part and parcel of Smith's river trip story—"one of the most exciting and exhausting things I've done in my life," he said.

The adventure began at the South Rim.

"We were scheduled to go four days with the Hatch Bros. River Expeditions, beginning at Phantom Ranch were the rafts were to start."

SMITH SAID he, Ritter, and Davis started at 5 a.m. down the Kaibab Trail, "pounding and jarring our joints 7½ miles and a six-hour hike to Phantom.

"The raft was ready when we got there and I've never see such organization. Everything was ready—spare engine, extra radio equipment, the food and water all packed. In 20 minutes after we'd arrived, they'd started us down."

On board were nine passengers and two boatmen, in addition to hundreds of pounds of gear, including cooking tubs, rubbish containers and modified ammo boxes that served as latrines, Smith said.

"Everything taken was carried with a maximum of efficiency and minimum of waste-making in mind, and I mean right down to the generating equipment and reversed vacuum cleaner for pumping the raft in case of leakage."

"THE BOATMEN, Larry McGowan and Mark Ingalls, were both experienced. They're from Utah. McGowan was captain. It was his 50th trip, and he knew that river—every rapid, every twist, every beach—like the palm of his hand."

In commending his guides, Smith explained that McGowan would pull into beaches and collect driftwood for fires before the group pitched camp in the evening.

"All fires were made in a 50-gallon drum, cut lengthwise in half, so no charred wood was left on the beach. Unburned wood was left neatly stacked for the next group and soluble ash was carried away from shore, then dumped in the river."

SMITH SAID the boatmen took pains to collect litter each morning before the group embarked and that all human wastes were collected in the latrines and stowed aboard.

"The beaches were left clean."

But other groups were not so tidy, Smith said, adding that he believes environmental damage due to littering is caused more by private voyagers than commercial concerns.

"As a whole, the situation was a lot better than I'd expected. The beaches were fairly clean and we arrived at no dirty campsites.

"WE DID see debris on the banks, however—some bottles, cans, pieces of paper. There was human excrement at some places. Charred wood had been left at others."

Smith also disparaged the behavior of one private raft group he saw.

"We passed close to them several times during the trip and they looked messy. I saw them leave litter and whenever they beached they were off with their clothes, men and women together, and skinny-dipping.

"ONE WOMAN I remember, and I won't mention details, but we floated by them, and some of her antics were kind of obscene."

Smith wouldn't expand on the matter, but emphasized he thought the National Park Service should regulate all trips more carefully.

"We went 125 miles in four days, ran about 100 rapids, took side hikes, drank cold pure water from tributary streams, and had a world of a time. I wouldn't suggest for a moment that the trips be banned or that only commercial outfits be allowed through.

"But for the environment's sake, and safety too, I think the federal government should require strict inspections of each group before a trip is undertaken. "Equipment should be checked. Backup radios and motors should be required and litter containers and latrines should be carried on every raft."

SMITH ALSO denied allegations that the motorized rafts cause pollution through fumes, gasoline, and oil.

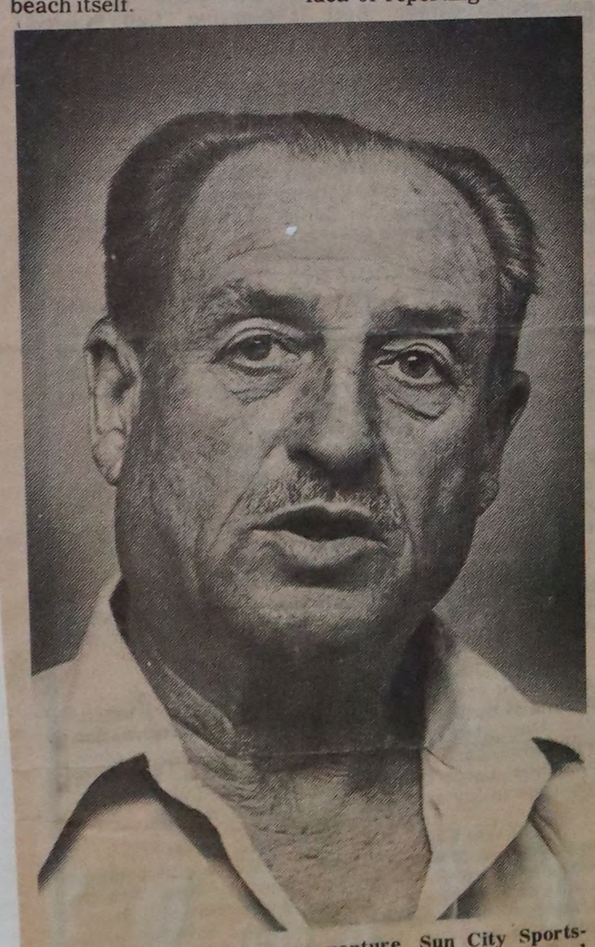

"Most of the boats don't have motors, and having had experience with outboards all my life, I can say they cause little pollution.

"If there's any pollution from motorboats, then it comes from Glen Canyon, not from rafts. There are thousands of motorboats upriver on Lake Powell."

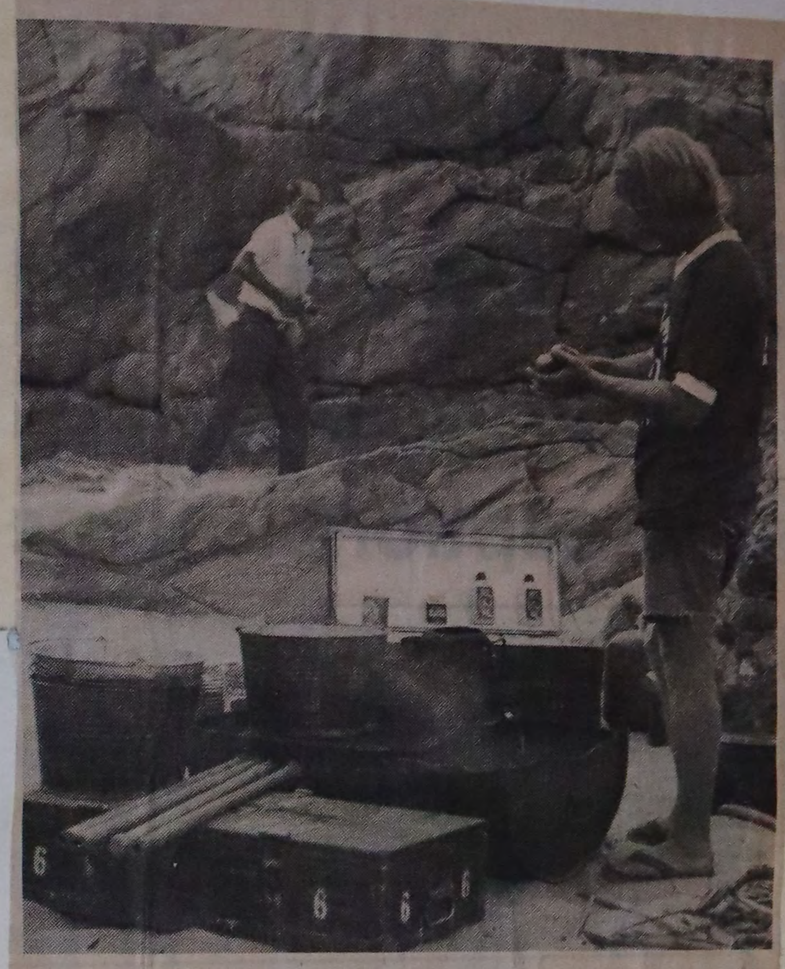

ON SEPT. 20, two days after Smith and his companions completed their trip, the Sierra Club of San Francisco filed suit in federal courts to halt environmental damage caused by rafters in the Grand Canyon.

The suit accuses the National Park Service of failing to take adequate steps in policing commercial raft ventures.

In answer, Smith said, "If every trip down the Colorado were conducted with the same care as the Hatch Bros. River Expeditions showed, then no one would be suing and there'd be no problem."

Team checks pollution on Colorado

SUN CITY SPORTSMEN'S CLUB

3 buffalo permits insure a good barbecue

The Trap & Skeet Fields Rifle & Pistol ranges continued under summer schedules with a resultant lower level of activity, while other club functions were suspended until September.

Good news greeted the membership as we start our planning for the remainder of our yearly activities. We'll never tell how many applications were made, but three successful drawings for yearling buffalo assure us of a good supply of young buffalo meat for our Annual Buffalo Barbecue now scheduled for Sunday, Nov. 6.

To add to our good luck, Tom Sharp's Caterers have agreed to prepare the meal in the manner they did last year, which was enjoyed by more than 500 persons.

Jed Smith, fishing unit chairman, reports that many members left for "cooler" waters to try their luck, but those that stayed continued to find fishing at home rewarding. The drive to rid the lakes of carp continue, but in the process some good catches of catfish and bass have been taken.

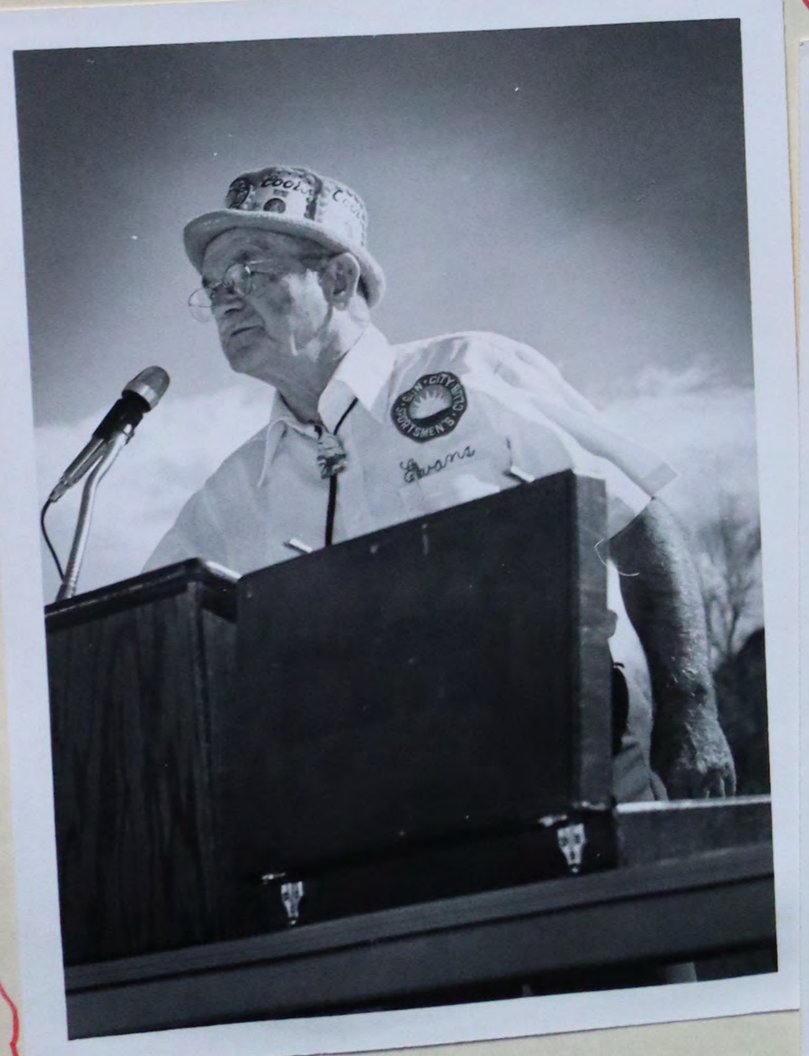

The news is sketchy on hunting success, but at least two of our groups had good to moderate bags on the first two days of the dove season. Mac McColloch, one of all around "doers" headed a group that was very successful on Mourning Doves opening day. Mac will not reveal the exact location, but we suspect that his party didn't use too much fuel in getting there.

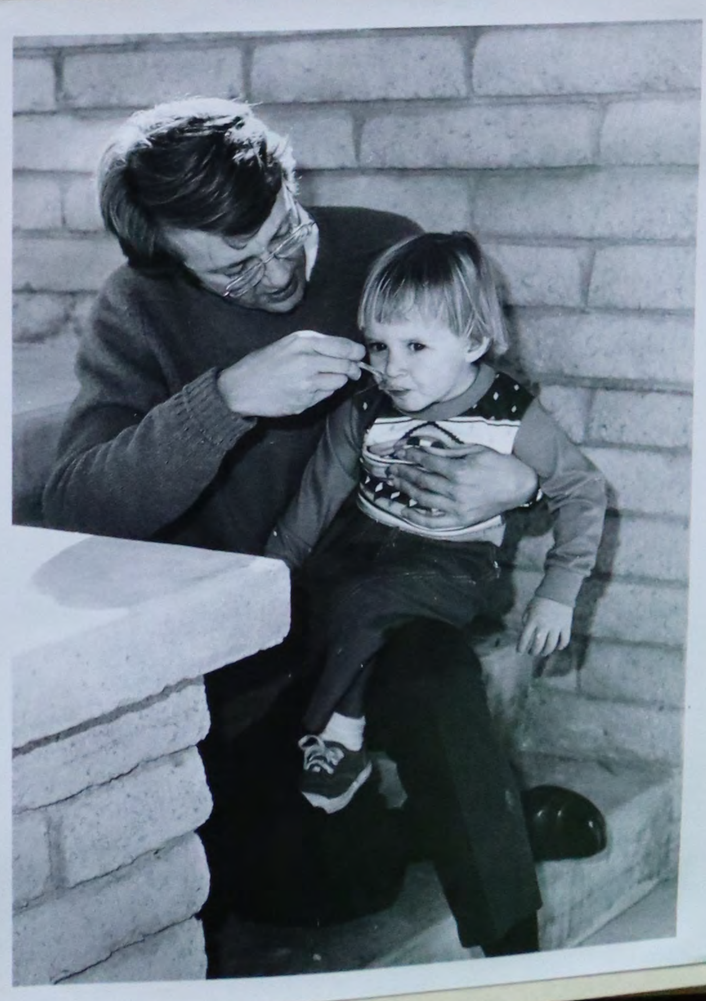

Another group with John Betcher doing the guiding performed well on both whitewings and doves on Sept. 1. This group shot in the vicinity of Arlington, but far removed from the army of hunters protecting the Arlington Feed Lot from the invading birds. It's funny how vague some hunters can be on exact locations with all the good maps, charts, aerial photos, etc., available.

Members of our Club were well represented at the NRA National Siluetas Metalicas Championship held at the Black Canyon Range over the Labor Day Weekend. Hank Bainbridge did a crackerjack job as Chief Range Officer for the 3 day match as he ramrodded 288 of the best shooters from the USA and Mexico through their paces to determine the National Champion.

He was ably assisted by members Bob Ace, Paul Detweiler, Tony Jurca and John Rybak. Among the competitors were Chill Craig, Karl Doeren, Lou North and Emery Tooley, all of whom turned in good performances, but failed to bring home any bacon.

APRIL MEETING

Your next Club meeting will be at 9:30 a.m., Monday, April 18, in Social Hall #3 Lakeview Center.

This meeting will feature Ben Avery - that rarity - a native Arizonan. He has been a guest speaker at our Club previously and was very well received. Mr. Avery has a vast background in outdoor activities and has long been one of Arizona's favorite newspaper Outdoor writers.

He will talk on "Back Packing Into Wilderness Areas" and will illustrate with slides. If he can get them off from school, he will have a couple of teenagers demonstrate some of the equipment used in this fast-growing avocation. You won't want to miss Ben Avery! He has indicated he will answer questions - among them those on the very controversial subject of the burros.

May 16, 1977

MAY MEETING

Your next Club meeting will be at 9:30 a.m., Monday, May 16, in Social Hall #3, Lakeview Center.

Featured at this meeting will be Mr. Thomas E. Haney who recently completed 4-1/2 years as an assistant U.S. Attorney for the Canal Zone. He spent 7 years in Panama and has also traveled extensively in Central America, Mexico and South America.

In 1965, he became President and Director of Del E. Webb Development Co. Sun City and Vice President of the parent corporation. Under his guidance, Sun City has grown from zero population to over 36,000 in 16 years.

He serves on the Board of Directors of Walter O. Boswell Memorial Hospital; President and Director of Sunland Memorial Park and Cemetery, and Saguaro Advertising Agency, Inc.

June 20, 1977- Meeker

MAY MEETING

Mr. Haney is well equipped to discuss the highly controversial subject of yielding the control over the Canal to the Panamanians and feels that United States relations with Panama are deteriorating rapidly since Fidel Castro seized power in Cuba. He has indicated that our State Department, in an effort to appease the strong trend of nationalism in Panama, has taken the position that we should give up the Canal and thus demonstrate our good intentions toward South America. Mr. Haney will emphasize the importance of the Canal to the United States and will discuss critically some of the recent actions taken by our State Department.

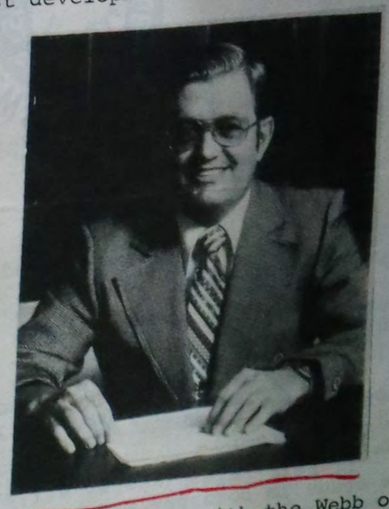

This is a very timely subject and one about which each of us should be more fully informed. DON'T miss this meeting or talk, as Mr. Haney considers that only by concerted public protest can we block this program by our State Department!

June 20 JUNE MEETING 1977

The next meeting will be at 9:30 a.m. Monday, June 20, in Social Halls 2 & 3 Lakeview Center. This will be a combined meeting of the Sportsmen's Club and the Fishing Unit. All Recreation Card Holders and their guests are cordially invited.

We feel very fortunate to feature Mr. John W. Meeker, President of Del E. Webb Development Company. He will speak on the future of Sun City and relate details of the planned Sun City West development.

Mr. Meeker's career with the Webb organization began in 1946 (after a tour of duty with the Air Force). His many positions have included that of Housing Division Operations Chief, Supervisor of Design and Engineering for the resort-retirement community now widely known as our Sun City, Arizona. This latter assignment made him responsible for the complete layout of the community, as well as homes, public buildings and golf courses.

Sept 19, 1977

SEPTEMBER MEETING

The first Club meeting of the Fall season will be at 9:30 a.m., Monday, September 19, in Social Halls 2 and 3 at Lakeview Center.

In keeping with this time of the year, the program will feature Albert LeCount, Wildlife Research Biologist of the Arizona Game and Fish Department.

Mr. LeCount comes to us with seven years of experience as Wildlife Manager and Research Biologist with the Department. His research has been in the mule deer and black bear fields and his talk will center on "Black Bear Research in Central Arizona."

Hunters - Be prepared to get the answers to your questions from a real expert!

SPORTSMEN EXPRESS SYMPATHY

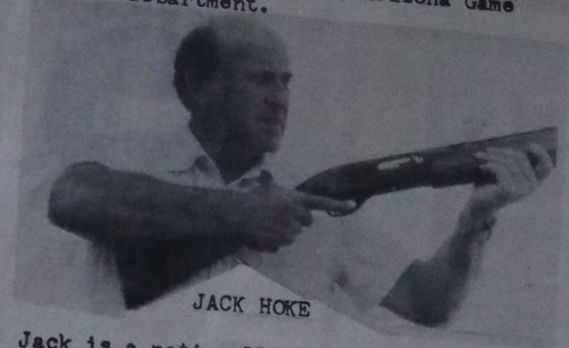

Your Directors, speaking for the Club membership, would like to extend our sympathy to John Meeker on the recent loss of his wife. Mr. Meeker has been a true friend and backer of your Club since its inception and, therefore, we share with him this personal loss.

Oct 17, 1977

OCTOBER MEETING

The regular monthly meeting will be at 9:30 A.M. Monday, October 17th, in Social Halls 2 & 3 at Lakeview Center.

This meeting will feature Jack Hoke, Firearms Safety Officer, Arizona Game & Fish Department.

JACK HOKE

Jack is a nationally known competitive shooter, hunter, range official and supervisors of shooting events. He will bring with him the film on firearm safety, prepared for the State ofArizona and narrated by John Wayne. Yes the "Duke" will be with us. When men of this calibre take an interest in firearm safety, then those of us experience in the shooting sports may also learn something. This program should have some appeal to those that are hesitant to have firearms in the house and especially to those that do, but have an inordinate fear of them.

"Marsh" Ericson

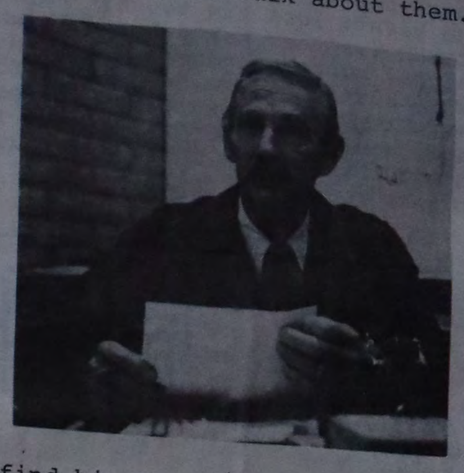

Your Club lost one of its most dedicated and hard working members with the death of "Marsh" on Sunday, September 25th. While "Marsh" would never show his byline on the Newsletter, he has been Editor and Publicity Director since the days of Lloyd Wheadon, and even during his illness, with the help of Carolyn, the Newsletter got to press on time. On behalf of our membership your Board of Directors expresses its deepest sympathy to Carolyn and her family.

Nov 21, 1977

NOVEMBER MEETING

Your next Club meeting will be at 9:30 a.m., Monday, Nov. 21, in Social Hall #3, Lakeview Center.

Our program will feature Mr. William Sizer of the Arizona Game & Fish Department. Bill will show a film on elk and will also talk about them.

We find his resumé quite impressive. After serving in the Army, he came to Arizona in 1947 after the end of WWII. He attended the University of California School of Forestry - 1950-54. Bill joined the Arizona Game & Fish Department in January 1956 as Information Officer; became Assistant Chief of I&E in July of 1962; and Chief in March of 1963.

He is listed in Who's Who in the West, Who's Who in North America, Who's Who in America, and Who's Who in the World of Authors and Writers. Wait - there's more! He is Past President of American Association for Conservation Information; Past President of Arizona Outdoor Writers' Association; and in addition is a member of numerous sportsmen and outdoor organizations.

Bill lives in Phoenix with his wife and two children. He tells us that now (after nearly 22 years in AG&F) his favorite soft drink is Pepto Bismol.

DECEMBER NEWS 1977

DECEMBER MEETING

Your next Club meeting will be at 9:30 a.m., Monday, Dec. 19, in Social Hall #3, Lakeview Center.

Mr. John S. Amory, Jr., State Chairman of Arizona Ducks Unlimited, will make a presentation on the Ducks Unlimited chapter in Arizona as well as its functions on a national and international basis. He will have a film to illustrate the work of this most successful conservation effort. Mr. Amory will be accompanied by Gene Turk (National Trustee for Ducks Unlimited) and Pat Nowlin (Trustee Emeritus).

SMITH TO HEAD CLUB

At their December meeting, your Board of Directors elected Justin "Jed" Smith to the presidency of your Club for the year 1978. The membership elected Jed to his second term on the Board. This well-known member has been a past Vice President of the Sun City Sportsmen's Club but stepped aside to add zome zest to the election of Directors of the Recreation Centers in 1976. Jed came close on this one, barely missing the required number to put him on the Board. Obviously, he has not lost his following among our membership as he has been Fishing Unit Chairman for the past three years.

Other officers for the year 1978 are: J. E. "Ernie" Wilson, Vice President; Carrie L. "Mac" McColloch, Treasurer; and John Farabaugh, Secretary.

The election of Directors held at the regular November membership meeting, had two repeaters and one newcomer coming on the Board for three-year terms. These members were selected from an excellent slate of candidates lined up by your Moninating Committee. Jed Smith and Fred Du Bois were the repeaters and are joined by Dr. "Jourdy" Jourdonais.

THOMAS L. KIMBALL TO APPEAR

With the barbecue, Club elections and cleanup out of the way, your Board is working to assure the success of the Annual Installation and Awards Banquet. Remember - Saturday, January 21 - and plan to attend this outstanding event. A changed and more expensive menu has been ordered at the same $7.00 per ticket donation. The program will consist of Thomas L. Kimball (Executive Vice President, National Wildlife Federation) as the featured speaker and Gary LaMonica (President, Arizona Wildlife Federation) as the installing officer. A surprise for Master of Ceremonies is in store for those attending. Tickets will be available at the December meeting or can be ordered by using the application blank appearing elsewhere in this Newsletter. Only 180 tickets are available and they are on a first come, first served basis.

A BOUNTIFAL CHRISTMAS

What could be more appropriate than using the profits from the Buffalo Barbecue (where those attending were amply fed and "watered") to help those not so fortunate. At least, that was the thinking of your Board when making gift allocations at the December meeting.

Your Directors voted to make $100.00 contributions each to the Salvation Army and the St. Vincent De Paul Dining Room to help with their Christmas dinner programs. In addition (and for obviously other reasons, your Board voted to make similar donations to the Sun City Recreation Centers, Inc., and the Sun City Sherrif's Posse (they all seem to be well fed).

In keeping with the spirit of Christmas, all members are asked to bring canned goods to the December meeting to assist the Salvation Army and St. Vincent De Paul with their feeding of the poor. Please mark this on your calendar and remember to bring some canned goods to this meeting!

There's nothing we do, desirable as it may seem to the economic well being of the state, that doesn't cause us some problems." Kimball said such problems can be solved by builders collaborating with people from game and fish departments "to assure that wildlife is considered."

NORTH OF SC

Hog wild gunmen blast black bulls

By DOUG FRERICHS
Staff Writer

"Dead as a boot!" the colonel said, grabbed his gun and shot the hog.

But the hog only pinged and didn't die.

So another Sun Citian took a try and squeezed off a shot with his Anschutz rifle.

PING again! Dead on the nose.

And the metal pig on the target jig swung to and fro as the shooters smiled.

It was a Thursday afternoon at the Sun City Shooting Range. Among those present with weapons in hand were Col. Lou North, Henry Bainbridge and a dozen other Sun City shooters.

Ammo was plentiful. Guns were abundant. The voice of Jim Elder, acting range officer, ruled the firing line. Shooting had ceased, until again he bawled out his stern commands—

The shooters nodded.

"Then commence firing!" Elder hollered.

Gunfire rattled, bullets cracked, and down range the slaughter started — carnage amid the paper targets, but North and Bainbridge shot at the hog.

The pig-shaped target, the size of a plate, hung down range 100 yards next to other silhouettes of a turkey and ram.

"THE GAME'S different than plugging bulls-eyes, more like hunting," North explained. "The animals are scaled to what they'd look like at two or three times the distance and when you hit 'em they swing."

Bainbridge proceeded with a second demonstration, but first donned ear protectors for muffling the gun blasts, then strapped himself into a leather coat that suspiciously resembled a straight-jacket.

"But I'm not loony, or not yet.

"It's a target shooting jacket. The leather supports you and gives steadier aim," he explained.

HE ALSO wore a glove like a kitchen hot mitt when he said damped his pulsebeat and improved his skill.

His Anschutz 22 caliber rifle — with massive barrel, custom-fitted adjustable stock and telescopic sights — looked like something from the "Star Wars" set, but is standard equipment for competitive matches.

And thus prepared, accoutered and braced, he took aim, held his breath and — ping! — hit the pig.

THIS brought applause from other shooters, aficionados of good aim, and particularly from George Koval whose own brand of shooting involves mainly pistols.

A self-advertised "bullshooter," Koval stood futher down the line and was engrossed in obliterating bulls-eyes with custom pistols of various calibers.

His targets were close, only 25 yards, and someone uninitiated might've guessed that the short range was due to amateur ability or possibly because the poor man was blind.

INDEED, he wore peculiar glasses — the left lens blocked out by a metal crescent and the right one yellow, obviously prescription, and fitted with an odd aperture attachment.

But Koval explained that the special specs are often used by competitive pistol shooters.

"They refine accuracy, and in pistol shooting, especially as you get older, you need all the help you can get."

HE ADDED that pistols are much less accurate than rifles due to ballistic disadvantage — the bullets drop faster and the shorter distance between front and rear sights makes for coarser aim.

From his pistol box, he pulled out a "gat" — his Smith & Wesson K22 premium target revolver with custom carved grips.

He adjusted his glasses, pointed the gun.

THE TARGET trembled from a slight breeze.

Then he cut loose five fast rounds that reduced the bulls-eye to utter confetti.

This drew approval from John Farabaugh, a past president of the Sun City Sportsmens Club, a trap and pistol shooter and an all around deadeye.

HIS WEAPON for the day was a Colt .45 special production target model and the shells he was shooting he'd loaded himself.

"Reloading saves money and it's something most of us do when we're shooting a lot or we'd go broke on bullets fast," he explained.

He added that he reloads used cases, buys his own primers and powder, molds his own bullets and assembles ammunition for a fraction of store cost.

"THE EXPENSE comes in only in competition, otherwise anyone can buy a good pistol for under $100; 22 shells are cheap or in the bigger calibers you can reload for little."

He took aim and was just about to shoot when range officer Elder yelled, "Cease fire!"

The shooting stopped and Farabaugh laid down his gun and emptied it of bullets. Others did the same. Then the men walked out to check their targets.

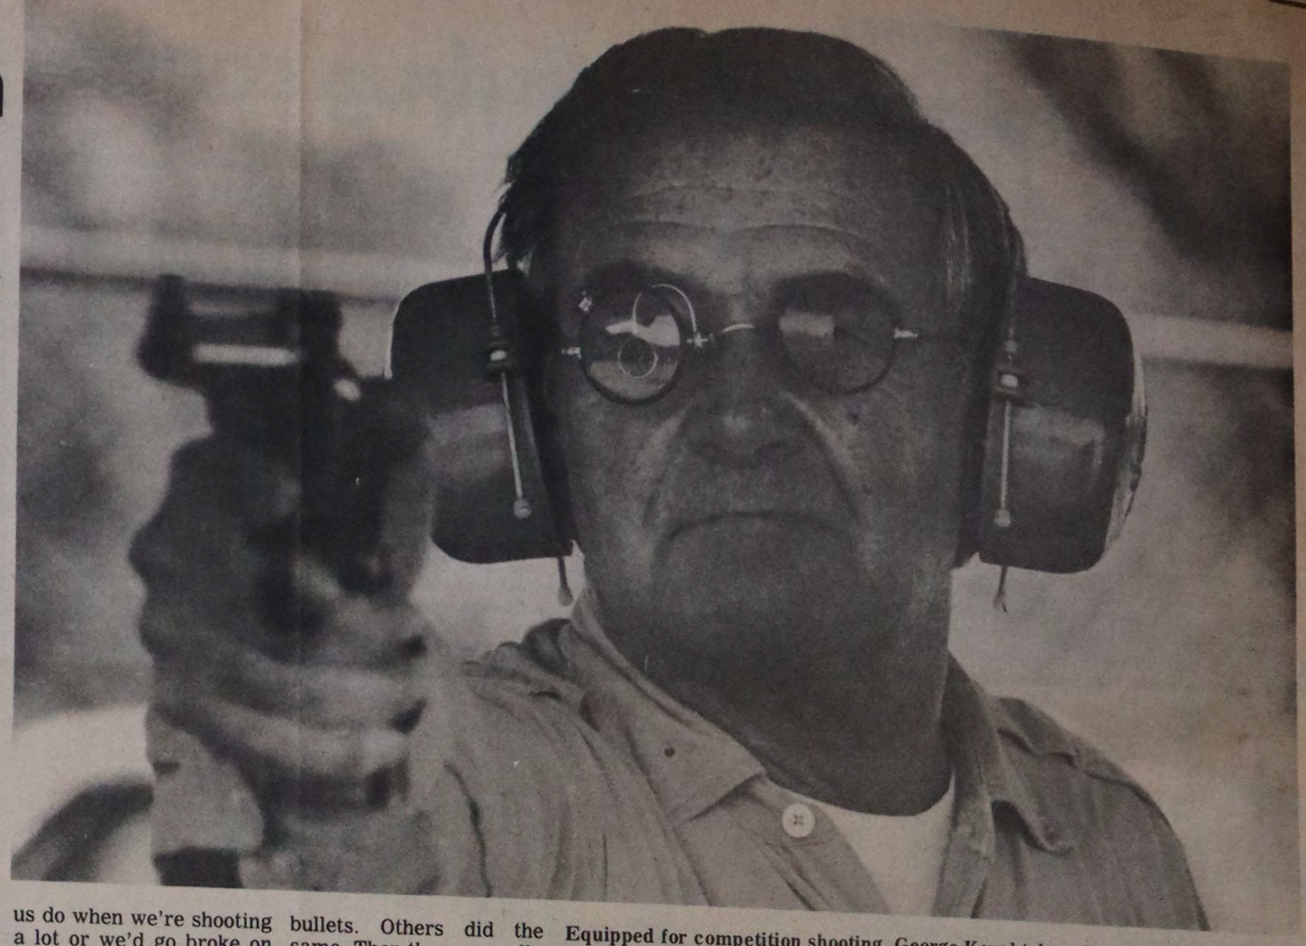

FARABAUGH'S bulls-eye from earlier shooting was riddled with holes.

Herb Raschke had used a rifle to wipe out his target. Emil Dudash and Myron Witt had done a similar job with pistols.

Bob Schlupe's shots were high, but he'd been sighting in his gun and the sights were off.

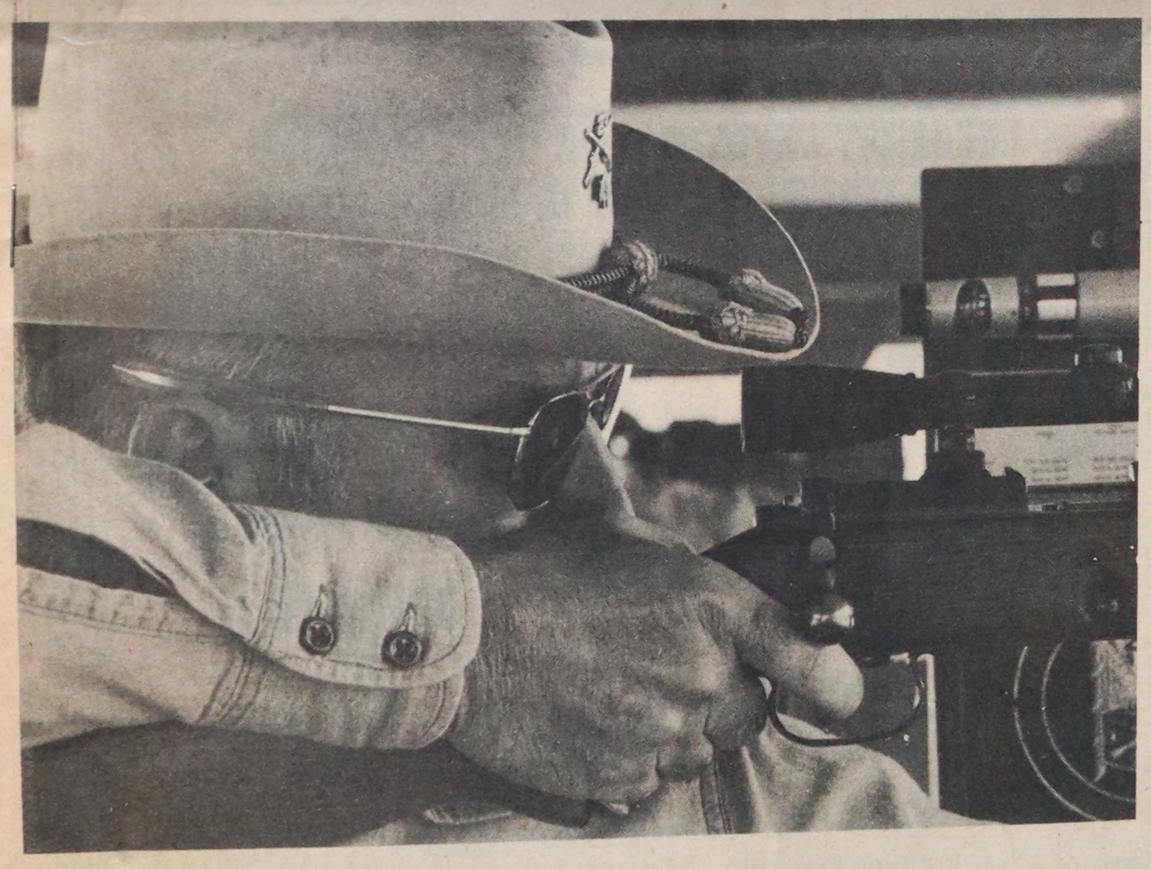

So the men returned to the line. The call came again, "Commence firing!"

Col. North grinned, took up his rifle, and in military stance, pinged the hog.

Equipped for competition shooting, George Koval takes aim from firing line at Sun City Shooting Range. Ear guards protect his hearing against deafening gun reports, while his special spectacles help refine sighting pattern.

AT RIGHT: Light glistens through cylinder chambers of precision tooled Smith & Wesson 38. Competition target pistols can run more than $500, but good handguns may be purchased for under $100.

BELOW RIGHT: Automatic pistol and old fashioned sixshooter lay side by side ready for action — both guns are 22 caliber.

Col. Lou North's shooting box with ammo drawer and gun racks for pistols literally serves him as miniature portable armory. Various badges attest to his sharpshooting skill.

Standing under shed at Sun City Shooting Range, Jim Farabaugh shoots from relaxed stance, one hand in his pocket. Standing rule is that guns must always be pointed down range.

Monster caliber "Colt 44" points down range. Powerful grip is needed to keep gun controlled due to vicious recoil. Target jigs loom in background.

Saguaro cactus blossoms – the Arizona state flower – herald the beginning of the growth of fruit which the Papago Indians will start harvesting about five weeks after the first flowers appear.

Ancient traditions rule saguaro harvest

The giant saguaro cactus found throughout much of southern Arizona is an important part of the legends, history and culture of the Papago Indian Tribe.

Most stories involve harvesting the fruits of this unique, many-armed cactus.

Every summer, in a tradition that was followed by the Papagos long before the white man came, the Indians fan out to areas containing favorite stands of saguaros.

These areas, handed down through the years among the various clans, may be far from the Papago Indian Reservation.

At Saguaro National Monument near Tucson, the National Park Service has allowed the Papagos to continue their harvest of the sun-ripened fruit although the area is off-limits to anyone else.

The scarlet fruit, which grows from stems at the end of the arms and main trunk, is used in various forms as food and drink as well as part of certain ceremonial rituals.

Two dry ribs are selected from a dead saguaro's skeletons and lashed together at the ends to form one long pole. At one end of the pole two smaller pieces of saguaro ribs are fastened in a crosspiece.

With this tool the Indians knock down the ripe pods, working with a time-honed skill that enables them to remove only the ones ready for harvest and leaving others to ripen more thoroughly.

After the pods are knocked to the ground, they are carefully gathered and the fruit inside removed. The shell of the pod is left open on the ground with the inside facing the sun, a ceremonial touch the Indians believe brings a good harvest next year.

The fruit is laid out on a piece of clean canvas to dry so that the seeds can be removed later. Then the fruit is mixed with water and boiled for about five hours in a large cauldron.

When the fruit is cooked to the consistancy of syrup, it is removed from the fire and cooled. Some of the liquid is made into jam, some forms a delicious candy and the balance goes into related dessert items that the Papagos relish.

At the end of the gathering period the last portion of the saguaro fruit is used to make wine.

The fruit takes two days to cook and two days to ferment. The wine, according to the Indians, is described as "very strong and very good."

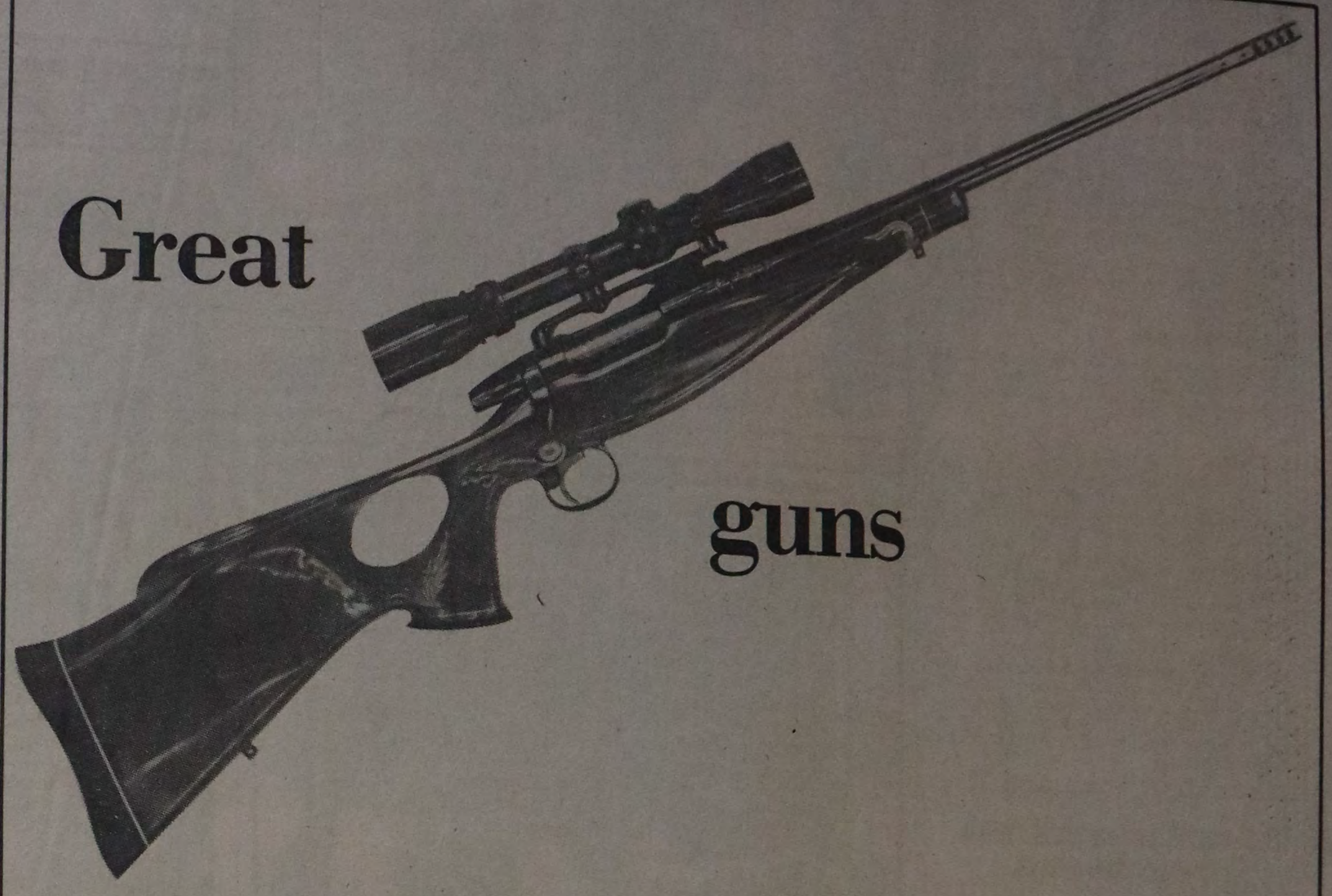

Every year the saguaros put out a form of waxy, creamy white blossom that has been chosen as Arizona's state flower.

The blossom can be just a single flower or a cluster that rings the ends of the arms and trunks of the saguaros, which can weigh up to 10 tons. The white flowers eventually whither and are replaced by the red pods, or fruit, each containing as many as 2,000 seeds.

The average saguaro bears about four flowers a day for 30 days and produces 60 fruits that ripen about five weeks after the first blossom appears.

...er and are replaced by red fruit pods.

Great guns

Tucson craftsman's design is artistic, practical

By ROBERT L. THOMAS

Most hunters and marksmen do not think of fine rifles as works of art worthy of museum walls.

More and more fine arts museums are seeking custom-made rifles and shotguns to display as contemporary, one-of-a-kind examples of the gunmaker's art, says Harry Lawson, a Tucson custom rifle and stock maker since 1965.

"They want a fine gun, one never fired, to exhibit as a piece of art," said Lawson, a burly, thick-shouldered businessman.

"There's no specific caliber they request," he said. "It is more of a thing like fine furniture with them, a piece of beautiful wood and highly polished metal."

Gun collectors, too, will buy an expensive rifle or shotgun to hang on their walls as they would a fine painting.

Wealthy foreign hunters and businessmen seeking investments in fine guns (nearly all guns have appreciated at a fantastic rate) often send barrels to Lawson to be stocked with a piece of rare, beautifully figured wood.

"A gun collector from Germany just sent me these two sets of double rifle barrels, one's a .300 Winchester and the other 30-06, to be stocked. The barrels are worth $6,500 apiece," said Lawson.

The 61-year-old former competitive shooter keeps several thousand dollars worth of unfinished stock blanks on hand, many of them hard-to-get French walnut.

Lawson said French walnut is the gun connoisseur's wood because it is light, strong, fine grain and has subtle colors and intricate figuring.

A high-grade rough blank of French walnut will cost $1,250.

He also keeps a variety of other woods such as maple (birds-eye maple is a longstanding favorite), madrone, myrtle, mango and koa, a tropical hardwood related to mesquite.

Mesquite, he said, is worthless as a gunstock because it is too heavy and chips when it is cut to shape.

Lawson is famous for his Cochise Thumbhole stock, a sculptured one-piece stock with a hole for the thumb that gives the shooter a true pistol grip for more steadiness in offhand shooting.

Owners of thumbhole stocks claim better accuracy and less recoil. Thumbholes are made for bolt action, semi-automatic and lever action rifles as well as over-and-under and pump-action shotguns.

His design is much lighter than conventional stocks, yet it is said to be 60 percent stronger.

Other Lawson stocks are the Apache Sporter and Geronimo models, both one-piece stocks with curving lines and flaring cheek pieces.

Lawson's stocks are gorgeous to look at, a marriage of highly polished metal to tightly curled wood encased in a special epoxy veneer.

They are expensive, too, with the cheapest starting at $1,045.

To some, the stocks are too fancy, avant-garde even. But they have style and are trend setters. Weatherby guns, often criticized as too futuristic, take some of their styling from Lawson guns, said Lawson.

Whatever, people are snapping them up. Lawson has sold his stocks in 82 foreign nations.

Thumbhole stocks are not new. Lawson thinks they've been around for 50 years. But no one in the nation has popularized them as he has.

The stocks are legitimately world famous. Most safari hunters in Africa use his thumbhole stocks because they improve accuracy and offer a sure grip under sometimes dangerous situations.

Hunters on African safaris are turning to the thumbhole in larger numbers because they want the added edge. Safaris are becoming so expensive that the considerable cost of a Lawson gun is worthwhile if it helps them get a trophy animal.

"Most of the mass-produced guns sold in the United States have good barrels and actions," said Lawson. "The metal technology has been pretty well developed over the years.

"But the stocks, well all I can say about them is that they'd make pretty good clubs" he said, gesturing with his ever present pipe.

"I'm left-handed and I never could find the right stock for me on an over-the-counter gun," he explained. "So I tried making my own. The first thumbhole I made was sculpted out with a chisel.

"But there was always something wrong with them. One day, as I was sitting in a chair thinking, I got up, pushing on the arm of the chair with my hand. As I did I noticed that my wrist naturally twisted.

"Suddenly, I knew what was wrong and grabbed the thumbhole stock, cut off the pistol grip and contoured a new grip that gave the shooting hand a natural feeling position. And that's the way the Cochise Thumbhole was born," he said.

Lawson guns have steel trigger guards with a button safety, muzzle brakes on the magnum calibers and a safety shroud on the bolt action to prevent eye damage from a possible blown cartridge primer.

It adds to the expense "but people who buy a high-priced rifle don't want any aluminum or pot metal on their guns," Lawson said.

Republic photo

Harry Lawson's trophy room is proof of his shooting skill and the worldwide acceptance of his Cochise Thumbhole rifle stocks reflects a flash of design inspiration.

Popular fishing guide reprinted by AGFD

8-16-77

A handy little fishing guide which proved popular with Arizona fishermen in years past—and then went out of print—is back again.

"Arizona Fishin' Holes" contains the Arizona Game and Fish Department's most up-to-date information on almost every fishable body of water in the state.

Information such as the fish species found in each fishing hole, the camping and boating facilities available, the average depth and acreage of lakes, and the nearest town is given. A map of each region is provided, with all waters marked. The booklet has been revised to include 1977 information.

Anyone who wishes to obtain a free copy by mail may call the Game and Fish Department at 942-3000. Or a copy can be obtained at the office, 2222 W. Greenway Rd.

County Names Evans To Parks Commission

5/31/78

Sun Citian Gordon Evans has been appointed to the Maricopa County Parks and Recreation Commission filling a vacancy caused by a recent resignation.

Evans has been a resident of Arizona for over fifty years, residing first in Flagstaff and now in Sun City.

He was a member of the Coconino County Board of Supervisors for 10 years. During that time, the county had no general tax rate.

Evans is a past president of the Arizona Supervisors association, a past member of the state legislature and a past president of the Arizona Wildlife Federation.

In addition, he is a charter member of the Sun City Sportsmen's club.

The public is invited to the meeting, which will be conducted in Lakeview Center social halls 2 and 3.

Hoke, a nationally known competitive shooter, hunter, range official and supervisor of shooting events, also will present a film on firearms safety that is narrated by John Wayne.

TMA to give Evans Good Neighbor award

6/6/78

Sun City Town Meeting Association will give its June Good Neighbor Award to Gordon Evans at 9:30 a.m. Monday in the Alco Theatre.

Evans, a resident of Sun City since February 1964, will be honored "for his unselfish service to the state of Arizona and to Sun City," said N.L. Jampel of TMA.

The presentation will be made to Evans by Jed Smith, longtime friend and neighbor.

EVANS MOVED to Sun City after a long business and political career in Northern Arizona.

He has been a member of the Coconino County Board of Supervisors, president of the State Supervisors Association and a member of the Arizona State Legislature.

He was the first to represent Coconino County on the Arizona Highway and Planning Committee.

Evans has many firsts and past leader-titles in his life record — past director of the Flagstaff Chamber of Commerce, past president of the Coconino Sportsmen Club, sports member of the Coconino National Forest Advisory Board.

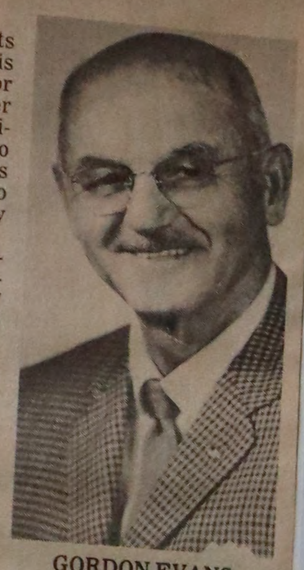

THE ARIZONAN received the Thomas E. McCullough award in 1967 from the Arizona Wildlife Federation — the highest award given to a non-professional in conservation. He is a life member of that group and was a member of the State Game and Fish Commission, who helped establish the Black Canyon shooting range and authorized the first bow-hunt in the state.

In Sun City he has been treasurer of the Men's Golf Association, director of the Sixty-One Club, a charter member and organizer of the Sportsmen's Club, past president of the Oakmont Men's Club, founder and first president of the Sundial Men's Club, a past president of the board of Recreation Centers of Sun City, Inc., and was instrumental in getting improvements made on recreational areas such as the shooting range, picnic area and Heading Ranch.

Evans is a past director of the Sun City Community Fund, a member of the advisory board of City Bank, past director of the Youngtown-Sun City Shrine Club, a life member of Flagstaff Masonic and Elks lodges, a member of the National Rifle Association, the Phoenix Trap and Skeet Club, local Masonic groups and the Travel Trailer Club.

He recently was appointed to the Maricopa County Parks and Recreation Commission.

The presentation program is open to all Sun Citians.

Members of the Sun City Sportsmen's Club didn't let a little thing like cold weather stop them from their plan to "clean up" several streets in and around Sun City. Some 35 club members took to Bell Road, 99th Avenue, Grand Avenue and Olive Avenue surrounding the community, picking up tree and bush limbs and twigs, paper and other debris, enough to fill four dump-trucks. Event chairman Harold Blair said the club will do it again in April.

Members of Sun City Sportsmen's Club and friends spent last Friday and again Monday stocking Viewpoint Lake with 4,000 fat minnows and 2,500 channel catfish in their continuing efforts to make the area an outdoors' paradise. Club president Jed Smith, left, and SC aquatic management director Tom Camp, inspected catfish before stocking and club members continued tagging fish for planned fish derby. Fishing Derby In Progress

The Fishing Unit of the Sun City Sportsmen's Club is sponsoring a fishing derby in Viewpoint Lake from now until June 1, 1979.

The lake has been stocked with 2,500 channel catfish and 4,000 fat head minnows. Jed Smith, president of the Sportsmen's Club and chairman of the Fishing Unit, along with many volunteers, tagged 150 channel catfish with red, white and blue tags.

The tags will determine the amount of cash to be awarded for catching a particular fish.

Anthony Mark, 10406 Indian Wells Drive, donated a 5 lb. channel catfish. The fish was tagged red, white and blue and christened "Mr. Tony." "Mr. Tony" will bring a cash prize of $25.

Tickets for the derby are priced at $1. For information, call Jed Smith at 974-9870, or see Jake Siemens at Viewpoint Lake.

Proceeds will go to additional stocking for the lake.

Sportsmen's Club plans 'Fish Derby'

9-20-78

Sun City Sportsmen's Club president Jed Smith has announced initial plans for a "Fish Derby" at Viewpoint Lake.

He said that the club will tag an unspecified number of fat minnows and channel catfish Friday, then stock the lake with 4,000 fat minnows and 2,500 catfish in the club's continuing efforts at making Sun City an out-of-doors playground.

Smith will be the featured speaker at 9 a.m. Friday when the club meets in Lakeview Center, hall 3.

He plans to narrate a film on the running of the Colorado River rapids. The film was produced in conjunction with Smith representing Sen. Dennis DeConcini's study of the effect of river-running on the Colorado, particularly in the area of damage to nature and necessity for cleanup.

In addition, a shorter film about Firebird Lake's activities will be featured.

Smith said that plans for the "Fish Derby" remain incomplete, but that since the club has agreed to stock Viewpoint Lake, the time to tag the fish for the contest "is right now."

He indicated tagging and stocking will take place immediately after Friday's meeting.

That's a real fish story Dr. G. A. Peters has been telling everyone who will listen. It seems that Dr. Peters, a participant in the Sun City Sportsmen's Club trip to Mazalan, Mexico, earlier this month, put his teeth — make that hook into a sailfish measuring nine feet and weighing 125 pounds. It took the doctor, who practices at Boswell Hospital and lives at 10832 Saratoga Cir., about a half hour to land his catch.

Eagle trophy raises funds for wildlife

By DOUG FRERICHS
Staff Writer

Standing by his dusty bald eagle, surrounded by mounted heads of deer, Gordon Evans smiled and pushed the lever on his reloading machine.

The crimping die closed and another shotgun shell was done. Evans glanced at the stuffed bird, then gestured around his workshop.

"I've shown the eagle and the mounts at various fundraising events for sportsmen's clubs, wildlife federation groups, other organizations. They attract attention," he said.

"SOMETIMES, though, women get upset and ask me if I killed the bird, and to ease 'em, I say no, he fell dead from a tree. Actually, I did shoot him, but that was way back at Mormon Lake in the years before bald eagles were protected."

Evans paused, crimped another shell, then reminisced about his long years in Arizona and his central concerns—hunting, fishing, civic organizing, and wildlife conservation.

Founder of the two largest men's clubs in Sun City, a charter member of the local Sportsmen's Club, a former Arizona Game and Fish commissioner, Evans' story of his life and times all but unfolds the history of the state, northern Arizona, and, in particular, Flagstaff.

IN 1923, he came west from Birmingham, Ala., seeking a climate more suited to his health. He suffered from a bronchial ailment, he explained, and had been told by his doctor to go to California or stay in Birmingham and probably die.

To avoid tuberculosis, he lived in Los Angeles a short time. Then he met a butcher who'd worked for the Babbitts in Flagstaff, the family of State Attorney General Bruce Babbitt.

"The man told me Flagstaff was an up-and-coming young town and I ought to see it," he said. "So, I took a train, unloaded there in the dead of winter with snow higher than a giraffe's back, and thought, 'Boy, is this a good place to starve to death.' "

HE STAYED, however, and after a stint working in Babbitt's grocery and for the now defunct Cady Lumber Co., he moved to Mormon Lake and in 1926 bought a part ownership in Tombler's Lodge.

The historic lodge, 30 miles south of Flagstaff, originally included 320 acres of deeded land, 33 cabins, campsites, riding stable, post office, dance hall, gas station, and grocery store, he explained.

"At that time, though, the roads weren't paved. I drove around in an old Model A; then when the winter came, I'd clear out and go back to Birmingham, where I worked for a laundry."

IN THE spring, he'd return. "It was beautiful remote wilderness country with game in abundance. Flagstaff numbered only about 800 and I recall during the hunting season how you could go out on a two-week trip south of Flagstaff to the Rim country, see no other hunters, only a few cowboys, and bag deer, turkey, elk, and squirrel all on one license."

Evans laughed and said he especially remembered the cowboys who would come to the lodge on a Friday and Saturday night, hit the hooch, have a wild time, and forget to get gas for their cars.

"They'd get done partying about 3 a.m.," he said, "and then remember they were out of fuel. No trouble for that, though. They'd come banging on my door, hollering, 'Gordon, come out!' and consequently I'd be up half the night, back and forth between the pumps and bed."

EVANS bought full ownership in the lodge in 1935 and continued to operate it until 1944, when he moved to Flagstaff and opened Gordon's Liquor and Sporting Goods Store.

It was in the years before this, from 1929-35, that he worked part-time for the State Game and Fish Department, pursuing his hunting and fishing interests and working on wildlife management.

"In 1927," he said, "the deer had increased to such extent on the North Kaibab, that there wasn't enough food and the animals were starving to death by the thousands. Hunters had not hunted in the area and the government sent in forest rangers to shoot the animals for the sake of decreasing and saving the herd."

HE ADDED that the carcasses were left simply to rot, until Gov. George Hunt intervened, proclaimed that the land belonged to the government, but the game to the state's citizens, and opened the area to hunters.

Such was the situation, he said, when he began his game and fish work, selling and checking hunting licenses on the west side of the Kaibab.

"It took 2½ days before hunting season opened for me to drive with my wife and son from Mormon Lake to Ryan, Ranger Station where the licenses were sold. There was no bridge at Marble Canyon. We crossed at Lee's Ferry and en route used to camp at Red Gap and push the car, chocking the wheels with stones in order to get over the road.

"IT GIVES you a sense for the times and the remoteness of areas in the state," he added.

On a shelf, beside the eagle, a stuffed bobcat seemed to charge forward, running. Award certificates hung on the wall for work Evans had done, like selling the most memberships to the Arizona Wildlife Federation in 1946 and 1976.

He reflected on wildlife and wilderness areas and the changes he has seen in his more than 50 years in the state.

"YEARS AGO when a person talked about deer, he meant the northern portion of the state, not the cedar country or the desert. When I came to Arizona, you hunted antelope in the open country and elk near Winslow or along the Mogollon Rim.

"Now it's changed. The deer are all over. Antelope are spread throughout the woods. Elk are abundant around Flagstaff, on the south rim of the Grand Canyon, and in most of the northern forests. They've been preserved by wildlife management and dispersed by hunters."

He added, however, that he has been troubled by the state's rapid growth which has increased hunting pressure, caused water pollution, and resulted in a development that has destroyed natural game habitats.

"THERE MAY be more game now than 30 years ago," he said, "but the animals have been forced to seek refuge in more and more remote areas where food and grazing may be poorer."

He pointed towards his workshop doorway where the mounted head of a "jackalope" was visible. The animal, which looked very much like a jackrabbit, sprouted small antelope horns.

With a chuckle, Evans remarked, "The Wildlife Federation can use more money and new members today as much as ever. I think the next time I go getting attention at a fund-raising, I think I'll take the jackalope instead of the eagle.

"People from back east come to Sun City and maybe they've seen post cards of jackalopes and think they're real. Maybe I'd get more women to donate—they wouldn't be so upset."

SKEET

If you attended the latest Buffalo BBQ you may have witnessed the outstanding skeet demonstration put on by our foremost quail hunting triumvirate. John Betcher and "Smokey Fitch charged across the course, each with a 25 straight. Virgil Farr was with them all the way, but missed his last shot for a 24 total. Sorry 'bout that Virg - it must have been a bad shell. Thanks for a nice demonstration, troops. Later on in the month, old hands Wayne Stutzman and Ed Steward also had runs of 25 straight. Come out and join us at 9:00 A.M. on Tuesday mornings. Beginners are welcome.

Louis Bare, president of the Oakmont Men's Club, presented $100 checks to Sgt. Sun City Gun Club to use Peoria range

Pistol & Rifle Unit only

Sun City Gun Club, whose Heading Ranch facility was closed by last month's rains, has obtained permission to use the Peoria Gun Club.

Dr. Henry Zettelman, club monitor, said the December rains washed out roads leading to both the pistol and rifle range and the trap and skeet club facility north of Sun City.

The pistol and rifle club was left untouched by floodwaters, he said, but the trap and skeet club suffered heavy damage and probably will remain closed for several months for repairs.

Peoria Gun Club president Ken Moore has agreed to allow Sun City club members to use his club's facility without charge, Zettelman reported. Targets will be sold on the premises.

The Peoria Gun Club is located about eight miles west of Sun City along Grand Avenue. A sign just past Gloria's Place bar indicates the shooting range lies to the south of Grand, he said.

Zettelman suggested that Sun City members use the Peoria facilities on Thursday afternoons until it can be determined whether that one afternoon's use will overtax the range.

However, the facility will be open to Sun City members on other days as well.

Zettelman said the arrangements were made under the direction of Sun City Sportsman president Dr. Jourdonais. The is a unit of the Spo Club.

The meeting will be highlighted by the installation of Dr. George Jourdnais as president. Other officers will be Jim Wormley, vice president, John Farabaugh, secretary, and Col. Jamie Aiken, treasurer. George Whitlock joins the board of directors.

Club members also are asked to bring canned goods for donation to the Salvation Army and St. Vincent de Paul Dining Room.

Sportsmen set meeting, plan crafts fair booth

11/12/79

Active participation in this weekends Arts and Crafts Fair will serve as a prelude to the Sun City Sportsmen's Club first meeting of the year, scheduled Monday.

The club has asked Sun Citians to bring unwanted sporting goods to its booth at Sun Bowl.

The plan is to allow the club to sell the equipment at a suitable price, the donor receiving receipts of the sale after a small, predetermined donation is made to the Sportsmen's Club.

Spokesman Gordon Evans said the club will not accept firearms for resale.

At Monday's 9 a.m. meeting in social hall 3 of Lakeview Center, Steve Gallizioli, a member of the Arizona Game and Fish Department since 1950, will be the featured speaker.

His topic will be Wild Turkey and Javelina and he will make a slide presentation.

January will continue to by a busy month for the club with its third annual banquet that will feature the installation of new officers and awards. It's scheduled for the 27th at Greenbriar.

Third Annual BANQUET, INSTALLATION and AWARDS--

The THIRD ANNUAL INSTALLATION and AWARDS BANQUET will be held at the Greenbrier Restaurant on Saturday, January 27, 1979. Your banquet committee reports that Charles Bindner, so well-known to many of us, will perform as our Master-of-Ceremonies, and Gary LaMonica, President of the Arizona Wildlife Federation, will be the Installing Officer.

Banquet Chairman, John Farabaugh, reports this year's banquet's theme will depart from that of previous years. Throughout the year your Club's activities are directed toward conservation, hunting and fishing, and furthering the programs of the Wildlife Federation. Your PRESIDENT'S Column

This year will present many problems to your President and the Board of Directors of the Sportsmen's Club. Two large problems are evident to all of the members - the disaster to the Skeet and Trap Range and the finalization of the transfer agreement between Del Webb and the Recreation Centers Board concerning the Heading Ranch. The regulation and care of the shooting facilities will add to the responsibilities of the Sportsmen's Club.

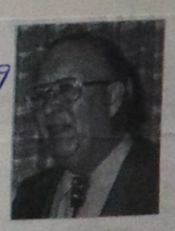

The Club will only be as strong as the willingness of the membership to participate in its activities. It is hoped that each member will accept some responsibility for the several programs of the Club. The Board has worked very effectively in providing interesting and informative programs for the meetings and I am sure these have been appreciated. For those who have helped on cleanups and other activities, the Board gives its thanks. To the others, please join us. The satisfaction of participating will be real!

Let us know your interest.

Your PRESIDENT'S Column

The 56th Annual ARIZONA WILDLIFE Convention will be held in Phoenix this year at the GRANADA ROYALE HOMETEL, 3210 Grand Avenue, Phone 246-2211, on MAY 18, 19 and 20. Since the Sun City Sportsmen's Club is one of the largest in the state, and therefore has the largest number of delegates (11), it is important that we will be generally well-represented at the meeting. The Convention will be hosted by the PHOENIX SPORTSMEN'S ROD and GUN CLUB, and will be entertaining - most informative - and generally of great interest to all you sportsmen (and sportswomen). We hope to see you there.

L. F. JOURDONAIS, Pres.

OUR GUEST SPEAKER

Lynn Temple

NEWSLETTER APRIL 1979

SPRING HAS FINALLY ARRIVED - and now it is the FISHERMAN (person) who is front page!

JED SMITH and his hard-working group have turned a formerly, heavily-polluted VIEWPOINT LAKE into good fishing. Some large bass and catfish have been taken recently.

THIS IS CONSERVATION AT IT'S BEST!

Contrast the Bass Derby at Lake Powell last week (March 18) where 1900 bass were taken in one day. While most were released, how many died later? Is this Conservation?

Remember the annual AWF Convention May 18th thru 20th. As members of the largest Club in Arizona, let us have a good turnout. It will be enjoyable and profitable.

Your Board announces with regret the resignation of JOHN FARABAUGH and GEORGE WHITLOCK. John will be exceedingly busy with a "Rec. Center" program. We welcome two new Directors - KEN HANNA and JIM PATTERSON.

The Club's Annual SPRING PICNIC this year will be held at THUNDERBIRD PARK, from 11 A.M. to 3 P.M.

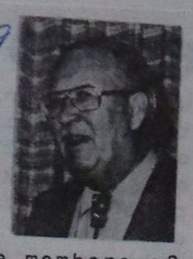

Easiest way to the Park is to take Bell Road east to 51st Avenue; turn left on 51st to the Park. We'll start things off at 11 A.M. and probably wind down at about 3 P.M.

Bring your own food and beverages; we suggest you bring card tables and folding chairs as the Ramadas are limited.

The Club has hot coffee; the Park has restrooms and fresh water, but no electricity.

It is a highlight of our Club season--bring your wives and your guests.

YOUR JUNE ~~MAY~~ 1979 PRESIDENT'S COMMENTS

The ARIZONA WILDLIFE FEDERATION Convention has come and gone. More members of the SUN CITY SPORTSMEN'S CLUB should have attended since it was an interesting meeting. Our Club was well-represented. GORDON EVANS was given an Award by the National Wildlife Federation.. "MACK" McCOLLOCH was re-elected Director-at-Large; and JIM WORMLEY won two door prizes. The GUN RAFFLE was won by a Sun Citian--and will be presented to him at this June meeting.

Good progress is noted at HEADING RANCH and it will will soon be available. Money will need to be raised to purchase clay birds for the shotgunners; a good deal of housekeeping will be necessary. Expect a call for VOLUNTEERS in the near future.

The JUNE meeting will be the last until SEPTEMBER 17th. Have a good Summer, wherever you spend it, and come back for the SEPTEMBER meeting --See you there.

You'll Like This Program- 1979

Our PROGRAM for JUNE 18th will be a film presented by the FEDERAL CARTRIDGE COMPANY. The title is "WILDLIFE HABITAT and the HUNTER," taking approximately 30 minutes. Another 30 minutes will be devoted to experiences and tall tales from our members in the field. Come on, fellows--be thinking of some good ones to tell. Should be funny!

YOUR MAY 1979 PRESIDENT'S COMMENTS

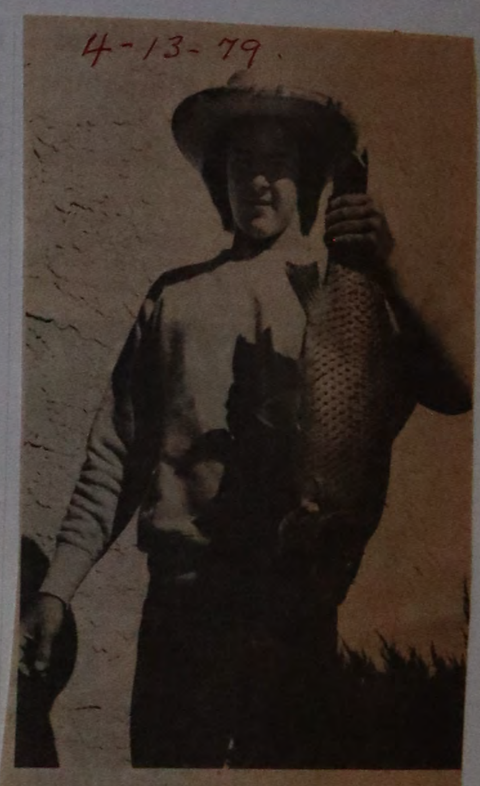

The Spring Clean-up under the direction of HAROLD BLAIR was again a success. Several truckloads of debris were collected. Unfortunately, there were fewer workers this time around. Let's do a better job in the Fall Clean-up. This is a useful service to Sun City, yet neither of the local papers gave the Sportsmens' Club any publicity. Thanks to Mr. Freed for supplying rolls and coffee.

The Spring Picnic promises to be a successful event this year. It will be held at Thunderbird Park since the Heading Ranch is not yet available. Del Webb Co. is at work busy repairing the damage to the Ranch and expects the picnic area to be available soon, and the shooting range facilities ready by early summer. We are getting many inquiries from newcomers about these facilities.

Since the AWF Convention will be held in Phoenix, convenient to Sun City, we hope for a good show of Sun Citians--SEE YOU THERE!

Fifteen-year old Mike Fisk will be going back to Huntington Beach, Ga., soon with a whopper of a fish story to tell. Only his story will be a true one as opposed to those often told. Evans receives conservation award

Gordon Evans, long-time Arizona conservationist and sportsman, has a new trophy to hang next to the mounted deer heads and stuffed bald eagle in his workshop.

For more than 50 years of work in behalf of Arizona wildlife conservation, Evans has been awarded the National Wildlife Federation's Conservation Service Citation.

Presented for "outstanding and distinguished service in the field of natural resource management," the award reflects a series of conservation projects Evans has been involved with over the years.

"WHEN I go out of doors at my age," said Evans, 75 "I'm still just thrilled to see wildlife.

"My major concern is to conserve some of it so our children and grandchildren can enjoy it."

To that end, Evans, since coming to Arizona in 1924 from Alabama, has held various state posts and sponsored an assortment of conservation projects.

ASIDE from terms as a state legislator and county official in the Flagstaff area, Evans has worked for the Arizona Game and Fish Department and has served as chairman of the Arizona Game and Fish Commission.

Projects Evans has been involved with include restoration of Arizona elk herds and establishment of the Topcock Marsh waterfowl reserve.

Despite such efforts, however, Evans sees trouble ahead for Arizona game.

"THE FUTURE doesn't look nearly as bright as it could," Evans said. "With all the building going on, the animals are being pushed back and back where there is less food. There is going to be less and less hunting all the time."

Among the many organizations Evans is a part of, he gives special emphasis to the Sun City Sportsmen's Club, of which he is a past president.

His current project with the club is mailing applications for buffalo hunting permits on the behalf of members.

ALTHOUGH the annual hunt is limited to about 38 permits this year, an estimated 2,500 applicants are expected to vie for the right to harvest an animal within the 25 square mile, fenced-in reserves.

Evans, an avid hunter who has bagged every big game animal in Arizona except a Desert Bighorn sheep, sees no conflict between hunting and his concern with wildlife conservation.

Hunting pressure helps keep animal populations strong and allows for sufficient food supply, he explains.

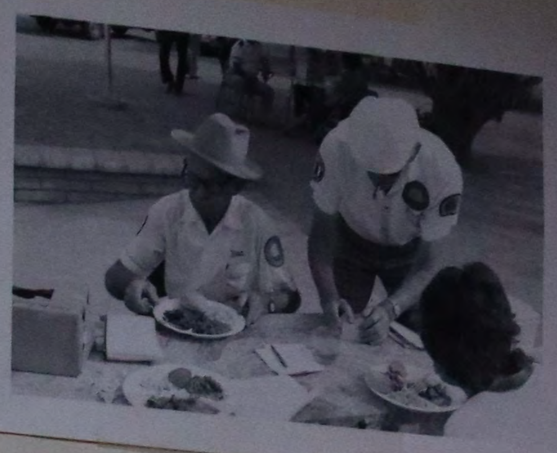

"Teddy Roosevelt made the Northern Kaibab a game preserve in 1906," Evans said. "The deer multiplied to the point that in 1927 they were starving to death. Forest rangers had to go in and shoot many of them to reduce the herd so that there would be enough food."

Sportsmen's agreement invalid, Rec Centers rule

By MARY DUMOND
Staff Writer

Members of the Sun City Sportsmen's Club joined Tuesday in the argument over the decision by the board of Rec Centers of Sun City Inc. to rescind its part of the Heading Ranch agreement.

At the end of one portion of the discussion, board member Clue Ferguson recounted four agreements between the Rec. Centers and the Sportsmen's Club made in 1972 and noted that the latest agreement with the club, made Jan. 1 of this year, had not been voted on or signed and therefore was without force.

This final parting of the ways ended most of the Heading Ranch discussion.

THE OPEN meeting has drawn increasingly large groups of interested Sun Citians. Tuesday's meeting was moved from the new board room to Lakeview Center's Social Hall 2.

The board also dealt with the various critical concepts of the phrase, "open meeting," that this board has encountered.

"I would like to say," said Jane Freeman, public information chairman, "that we are a new board, that we are not responsible for decisions or mistakes made by previous boards and that we are dealing with these problems in our own way."

The board's own way, she explained, is following regulations set down for public bodies' meetings in the Revised Arizona Statutes.

"THAT SET of regulations is for public organizations only," protested one of the spectators.

"We are well aware that we are a private corporation," Dr. Freeman continued. "But we were incorporated under Arizona law and we feel that by following this law we can better serve this community. We have nothing to hide."

"This board has gone on record as supporting open meetings," Dr. Freeman continued. "It has made every effort to conduct meetings as such."

However, the board member said, "There is a need for a clear-cut definition of just what is meant by open meeting. Are we talking about membership meetings, board meetings, executive sessions, committee work meetings, day-to-day conferences, workshop sessions, telephone meetings . . . just what are we talking about?"

DR. FREEMAN gave the gist of statutes by which the Rec Centers have decided members must work:

Article 3.1 — Public meetings and proceedings — defines meeting as the gathering of a quorum of members of a public body to propose or take legal action, including any deliberation with respect to such action. Agencies which are supported solely by fees are not subject to the open meeting act, Dr. Freeman pointed out, "and Rec Centers operates solely by fees.

In 38-431.02 — "Meetings shall be open to the public . . . all persons so desiring shall be permitted to attend and listen to the deliberations and proceedings.

In 38-431.02 — "Notices of all meetings . . . shall be posted.

In 38-431.03 — "Non-applicability to executive sessions . . . personnel matters, discussion of records exempt from public inspection by law, discussion or consultation for legal advice with attorney for the body; minutes available only to those present.

"NO EXECUTIVE session may be held for the purpose of taking any legal action involving a final vote or decision."

Rec board rescinds Heading Ranch pact

By MARY DUMOND
Staff Writer

Heading Ranch no longer will operate on a "someday" takeover agreement between Recreation Centers of Sun City Inc. and the Del E. Webb Development Co.

The Rec Centers board Tuesday voted (with one abstention) to rescind the agreement—or agreements — concerning the Sun City Rec Centers' future involvement in running the ranch.

Two board members were absent from the meeting, whose throng of spectators had caused moving the session to Lakeview Center's Social Hall 2.

THE TWO absentees are James Wormley, chairman, and Hil Vogel, chairman of the legal committee, both out of town on vacation.

The meeting was led by Anthony Frank, chairman pro tem, who read a statement of the board's reasons for rescinding its agreement to take over partial management of a repaired, updated Heading Ranch.

The statement summed up the work and findings of the entire board over a long period of study.

"THIS DECISION," Frank said, "comes as a result of many weeks of study and research on the part of various board directors, committee members and management personnel with special attention given to the facts and information which came to light after the signing of the agreement.

"It was on the basis of this information, combined with a thorough research of the Arizona Revised Statutes, that we have come to this decision as being in the best interests of all members.

"Members of the board agree they are not opposed to the concept of Heading Ranch with its picnic and sports facilities and we hope Devco will continue to operate Heading Ranch for those who wish to avail themselves of the facilities."

THE STATEMENT was read to the board and Sun Citians in the room after discussion with board members and Gerald Williams, lawyer for Webb.

Here are some items of disagreement:

— Sun City recreation board members would be serving on facilities outside the specified perimeters of Sun City, a no-no laid out in the articles of incorporation.

— The fact that supervision would be shared with Sun City West, also runs counter to the Sun City Rec Centers' articles of incorporation.

— THE FACT that the ranch now is involved in litigation with surrounding farm or owners as a result of the February Agua Fria River flood damage. Rec Centers board members voiced fears about the future legal stability of the ranch, should the Aguá River flood again.

— Board members also expressed skepticism about Webb personnel serving as arbitrator members of a governing council for the ranch, since the many vague issues of the Union Hills Center — including an opening date. The postponed ranch opening from July 1 to Sept. 1 and other delays made members question Webb's performance record.

Williams countered the voiced fears of Heading Ranch lawsuits by terming the present pending case "frivolous" and said that it is Webb, as the builder of an alleged stream diversion that swept floods onto farmlands, not the ranch, that is being sued.

"WE WILL BE running the Sun City West rec center for from a year to 18 months," Williams said, "so I would like to allay your fears of working with another council. That would be in the future.

Jane Freeman, board member in charge of community information, said, "I took many hours, as did others, and asked many questions of our legal counsel and the legal affairs committee. On the basis of our own legal advice, I move to rescind the agreement."

THE BOARD'S position was buttressed by a detailed report of bylaws and statutes governing supervision of Heading Ranch, given by Anton Makar, legal committee substituting for Vogel.

DANCES, FAIR & SHOW HELP CELEBRATE 19th ANNIVERSARY

Sun City celebrated its 19th Anniversary last month and thousands of Residents joined in the festivities.

Anniversary cake (left) and coffee were served at four dances around the community. Live bands provided the music.

The Anniversary Arts and Crafts Show at the Sun Bowl (below) drew large crowds and everyone had a good time. Displays ranged from portrait sculpture to rug weaving to oil painting.

The celebration was capped off with a Sun Bowl show by Big Tiny Little and Crazy Ed's Band.

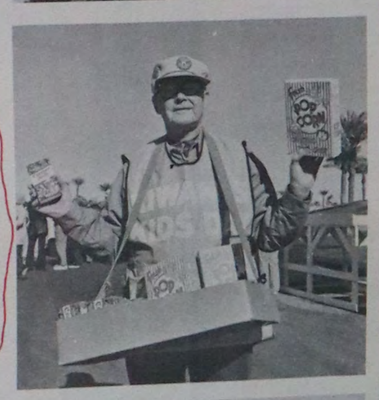

The National Aquatic Plant Management Society has bestowed upon TOM CAMP, of Aquatic Management Company, located in Phoenix, AZ, the category of being one of the top ten Aquatic Weed Scientists in the United States.

CAMP'S ability to take present technology and adjust to fit a particular situation in a management program is a rare ability.

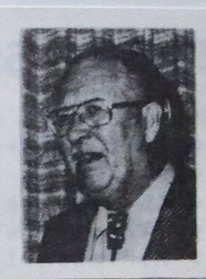

Aquatic Management maintains most of the surface water in Sun City. The golf course streams have been the most challenging work this year, said CAMP. Most of the golfers that have played the courses that have streams, probably remember the scum and weeds that were present but that are now void.

CAMP is presently making political contacts to help prevent the spread of a new aquatic weed, HYDRILLA, into Arizona. The weed has infested the All American Canal in California.

If HYDRILLA takes hold in Arizona, it will cost the taxpayers a considerable amount of money just to control the weed not to mention trying to eradicate it. HYDRILLA is almost impossible to eradicate, CAMP said.

YOUR PRESIDENT'S COMMENTS

Sept. 1979

New activities have begun--dove hunting, members returning from summer in the cooler country, etc. A warm welcome to all!

Those of us who remained in Sun City had anything but a dull time. In July, the Recreation Board, without prior notice, in open meeting announced the recision of their agreement with the Del E. Webb Company and the Sun City Sportsmen's Club regarding the facilities at Heading Ranch. No clear-cut reason was given for this action. Your President immediatelyasked for a meeting of our Board members with them. At this meeting it was indicated that the liability risk of flood damage was too great for the Recreation Centers to absorb.

We were assured our Accident Insurance would remain in effect. The total matter has not been clearly settled.

In August some nearly 30 Sun Citians were asked to stuff enclosures into the Wildlife Views. In four hours our group stuffed 60,000 publications. Who maintains that Sun Citians are over the hill?

Don't forget the barbecue in November--See the notice in today's Newsletter.

OCTOBER 1979 " NEWS LETTER

We have resumed our monthly silhouette rifle match and the enthusiasm is growing. The match winner last month was HANK BAINBRIDGE with a score of 18 x 40. Winner in Class A was GEORGE PARKER with a score of 13 and in Class B, RALPH DEEMER with 7. We'll have another shoot on Wednesday, October 10th at 9:00 a.m. The November match will be on the 7th. The match consists of 40 shots offhand at 100 yards with any rifle and sight combination permitted.

Range work is well underway with a cyclone fence going up around the shooting areas. A slab has been poured for a new rifle and pistol storage shed, and a foundation has been poured for a new high house on the skeet range. If progress continues at this rate, the range complex should be restored by sometime in November.

Any of you hunters who got lucky on the draw should come out to the range and check your rifle's zero before taking to the field. Depending upon caliber, sight your rifle in to hit an inch or two HIGH at 100 yards and you'll be in good shape for shots up to about 200 yards.

YOUR PRESIDENT'S COMMENTS

Once again, Welcome back to Sun City and to the SPORTSMEN'S CLUB. Jamie Aiken reports that memberships, both renewals and new, are coming in rapidly. The Club should be interested in maintaining our preeminence in the AWF and our voting strength since we will be hosting the convention in May of 1980.

We are now starting a new program year. Let us have a large membership participation! The Club can only be as good as the membership interest and there are a number of programs where help is needed.

Resolutions for the May convention are being considered by the Resolutions Committee. If you have a problem which warrants action, put it in the form of a resolution and submit it.

See all of you at the Barbecue on November 11th.

Gordon Evans had a problem.

Stuffers to be inserted in 60,000 copies of "Arizona Wildlife," and very little time to get the job done.

Solution? — friends, who are always willing to respond when Gordon needs help.

At 8:15 a.m., Wednesday, Aug. 1, thirty-one volunteers crowded two conference rooms at the Arizona Fish and Game Department building on Greenway Rd., west of I-17, and the stuffing began. At noon, the job was finished.

All 60,000 recipients of "Arizona Wildlife" magazine now know that it will no longer be free. From now on, the subscription price will be $3 per year.

FISHING LINES·

Now that the summer vacations are over and most all are back now, you can look for cooler temperatures???

About a year ago we stocked VIEW POINT LAKE with 2,500 Channel Catfish, 4" to 6" long -- good, healthy fish -- and we put about 100 red, white and blue streamers in their gill covers. I would appreciate it if anyone catches one of the marked fish, measure it, check its length and general health condition and report it to me. Why?

I am planning this fall to again stock Channel Catfish in VIEW POINT LAKE, so I would like to know if it is OK to repeat stocking Cats, or to try some other species.

COST IS IMPORTANT as we have very limited funds. CONTRIBUTIONS are in order and will be received with OPEN ARMS.

So empty your "Piggy Bank" so we can have good fishing in VIEW POINT LAKE, instead of driving 100 or so miles to catch a few fish.

Did you ever figure how much those fish cost per pound? Please help us.

The available buffalo was calf-size, and the appetites were king-sized, so some beef was steered to the barbecue pit....thus the delectable mutation: beefalo.

It was the annual wingding of sportsmen. The day was brilliant, and the crowd matched the day.

Good fellowship, good entertainment (although that too-near demonstration of what to do with a rattlesnake is not likely to become a popular hobby), good food, and an occasional tip of the flask and cask... it was fun.

Buffalo hunt!

More than a nickel's* worth of thrills

*(Editor's Note: For youngtimers, the buffalo nickel used to be standard change in one's pocket. But sadly, with the changing times, the buffalo nickel is no more. If sportsmen aren't careful, buffalo hunting someday be no more.)

In the shed where the carcasses are butchered, Terry poses with the head in front of the skinned body of her trophy.

When AWF office secretary Terry Pattison got her buffalo it took two days and several rolls of film, taken by husband Charlie.

Terry's description of the hunt was printed in the November 1979 issue of Wildlife News.

There are some of the many pictures she brought back, to prove that she really did track her own buffalo and shoot it herself.

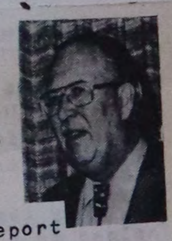

The herd was on the move and Terry didn't get her shot until late on the second day of tracking. She says it was all worth it, one of the big thrills of her life.

Terry donated the meat to the Sun City Sportsman's Club for their beefalo barbecue Nov. 11.

Guess where that head's going when it's mounted? That's right, it will be one of the treasures of Terry's house, to be passed on to grandchildren for decades to come.

YOUR PRESIDENT'S COMMENTS

This will be my last report to you, the members of our Club. We have had an interesting year- the early sping flood with destruction of the shooting facilities, the spring picnic, the annual AWF convention, the fall barbeque with the Guadalupe dancers the Carnival of Clubs and the many interesting and informative programs.

I have had some disappointments, but mostly pleasures, during my Presidency. At this time I would like to express my appreciation to the Board of Directors and the many others who made my task so much easier-I wish I could name all of these individuals but space limits my recognition.

The annual banquet and induction of Officers will be held at Crestview Restaurant (Sun City West)on February 2. This is always the highlight of the year. Mark the date on your calender.

It has been a good year and I am sure next year will be even better! The AWF convention in May will be a most interesting experience since it will be sponsored by the Sun City Sportsmen's Club and will be under the guidance of the new president.

Best wishes for the Holidays and Health, Happiness, Good Shooting, Fishing & Hunting in 1980.

BUFFALO BARBECUE TERMED HUGE SUCCESS

The Sportsmen's Club held its 8th Annual Buffalo Barbecue at the Heading Ranch. The 600 attendants consumed over 300 pounds of meat; viewed archery, rifle, pistol and trap and skeet exhibitions; and rode on wagons driven by teams of mini-mules.

Special out-of-town guests included Arizona Attorney General Bruce Babbitt, State Representative Bill Lewis, Wildlife Columnist Ben Avery and a three-year old mountain lion.

Tucson craftsman's design is artistic, practical

By ROBERT L. THOMAS

Most hunters and marksmen do not think of fine rifles as works of art worthy of museum walls.

More and more fine arts museums are seeking custom-made rifles and shotguns to display as contemporary, one-of-a-kind examples of the gunmaker's art, says Harry Lawson, a Tucson custom rifle and stock maker since 1965.

"They want a fine gun, one never fired, to exhibit as a piece of art," said Lawson, a burly, thick-shouldered businessman.

"There's no specific caliber they request," he said. "It is more of a thing like fine furniture with them, a piece of beautiful wood and highly polished metal."

Gun collectors, too, will buy an expensive rifle or shotgun to hang on their walls as they would a fine painting.

Wealthy foreign hunters and businessmen seeking investments in fine guns (nearly all guns have appreciated at a fantastic rate) often send barrels to Lawson to be stocked with a piece of rare, beautifully figured wood.

"A gun collector from Germany just sent me these two sets of double rifle barrels, one's a .300 Winchester and the other 30-06, to be stocked. The barrels are worth $6,500 apiece," said Lawson.

The 61-year-old former competitive shooter keeps several thousand dollars worth of unfinished stock blanks on hand, many of them hard-to-get French walnut.

Lawson said French walnut is the gun connoisseur's wood because it is light, strong, fine grain and has subtle colors and intricate figuring.

A high-grade rough blank of French walnut will cost $1,250.

He also keeps a variety of other woods such as maple (birds-eye maple is a longstanding favorite), madrone, myrtle, mango and koa, a tropical hardwood related to mesquite.

Mesquite, he said, is worthless as a gunstock because it is too heavy and chips when it is cut to shape.

Lawson is famous for his Cochise Thumbhole stock, a sculptured one-piece stock with a hole for the thumb that gives the shooter a true pistol grip for more steadiness in offhand shooting.

Owners of thumbhole stocks claim better accuracy and less recoil. Thumbholes are made for bolt action, semi-automatic and lever action rifles as well as over-and-under and pump-action shotguns.

His design is much lighter than conventional stocks, yet it is said to be 60 percent stronger.

Other Lawson stocks are the Apache Sporter and Geronimo models, both one-piece stocks with curving lines and flaring cheek pieces.

Lawson's stocks are gorgeous to look at, a marriage of highly polished metal to tightly curled wood encased in a special epoxy veneer.

They are expensive, too, with the cheapest starting at $1,045.

To some, the stocks are too fancy, avant-garde even. But they have style and are trend setters. Weatherby guns, often criticized as too futuristic, take some of their styling from Lawson guns, said Lawson.

Whatever, people are snapping them up. Lawson has sold his stocks in 82 foreign nations.

Thumbhole stocks are not new. Lawson thinks they've been around for 50 years. But no one in the nation has popularized them as he has.

The stocks are legitimately world famous. Most safari hunters in Africa use his thumbhole stocks because they improve accuracy and offer a sure grip under sometimes dangerous situations.

Hunters on African safaris are turning to the thumbhole in larger numbers because they want the added edge. Safaris are becoming so expensive that the considerable cost of a Lawson gun is worthwhile if it helps them get a trophy animal.

"Most of the mass-produced guns sold in the United States have good barrels and actions," said Lawson. "The metal technology has been pretty well developed over the years.

"But the stocks, well all I can say about them is that they'd make pretty good clubs" he said, gesturing with his ever present pipe.

'I'm left-handed and I never could find the right stock for me on an over-the-counter gun," he explained. "So I tried making my own. The first thumbhole I made was sculpted out with a chisel.

"But there was always something wrong with them. One day, as I was sitting in a chair thinking, I got up, pushing on the arm of the chair with my hand. As I did I noticed that my wrist naturally twisted.

"Suddenly, I knew what was wrong and grabbed the thumbhole stock, cut off the pistol grip and contoured a new grip that gave the shooting hand a natural feeling position. And that's the way the Cochise Thumbhole was born," he said.

Lawson guns have steel trigger guards with a button safety, muzzle brakes on the magnum calibers and a safety shroud on the bolt action to prevent eye damage from a possible blown cartridge primer.

It adds to the expense "but people who buy a high-priced rifle don't want any aluminum or pot metal on their guns," Lawson said.

Harry Lawson's trophy room is proof of his shooting skill and the worldwide acceptance of his Cochise Thumbhole rifle stocks reflects a flash of design inspiration.

Sportsmen set key meet

TOM CAMP

A two-pronged meeting is on tap for Sun City Sportsmen's Club members Monday at Lakeview Center.

Tom Camp, an aquatic scientist who is a director of the Arizona Wildlife Federation and chairman of its water resources committee, will be on hand to discuss his specialty.

At the same time, club memberships will be holding its annual packaged and canned goods drive that benefits both St. Vincent De Paul and the American Red Cross.

Club spokesman Jed Smith said that the entire community is invited to participate in the annual collection and further that the club is accepting monetary contributions as well, made in behalf of either charity.

Camp will show slides and discuss Arizona's waters when the group meets at 9 a.m. in social hall 3 at Lakeview.

FLY CASTING DEMO.

Our program for April 21 will be a unique one. Featuring RON THOMAS and AL ELLIS, there will first be a brief slide presentation, then they will illustrate the technique of fly-casting lakeside on Viewpoi Lake.

Something fishy

Above, Jed Smith, chairman of the fishing unit for the Sun City Sportsmen Club hands Earl Manley and his wife a check for a job well done. Manley, from Arizona Fish Growers came down from Camp Verde to stock the Viewpoint Lake with catfish at the request of the Sportsmen Club.

Fish-loving Sun City residents watch as Earl Manley of Arizona Fish Growers releases more than 5,000 catfish into Viewpoint Lake near the Lakes Club. The lake was stocked with the small (two to three inches) "critters" last Friday. Members of the Sun City Sportsmen Club supervised the operation. The fish will be ready for catchin and eatin within a year.

FISHING LINES · MARCH 1980

Seining the Golf Course lakes will begin early this month when all conditions are right, including the lowering of water in the lakes to be worked. A group of Fishing Unit members will help to remove these nice fish from these lakes. It is not only good exercise but will also mean better fishing for all residents of Sun City as the fish will be released in Viewpoint Lake. So, get your lines wet and put some of these fine fish on your table.

Efforts are underway by the Fishing Unit to obtain the fish net. A full report will be given at the next Unit meeting.

Good news for Sun City fishermen--TOM CAMP, Aquatic Mgt. Co. will stock, free-of-charge, as soon as water temperatures reach 65 degrees, thousands of fish called TILAPIA ZILLI. Two years ago these same fish grew quickly to nearly two lbs. and they are good eating. When the water temperature gets down to 50 degrees they die off and must be restocked every year. They will be coming from Utah and Idaho.

The quarterly meeting of the Fishing Unit will be at 9 a.m., March 31 at Lakeview Social Hall #3. Our guest speaker will be AL ESSBACH, Arizona Game & Fish, Dept. Fisheries Branch Supervisor. Al will present a program on a "Super Bass," area fishing and Warm Water Fishing.

Skeet and Trap shooting opened with a bang. John Betcher (skeet) and Lee Larson (trap) showed the other shooters how it is done by shooting 25's straight.

All trap and skeet fields are now is operation and all machines are working perfectly. Thanks to Ed Steward and Lee Larson for a great job of installation. Also many thanks to Charlie Holland and John Betcher for several days of hard work.

The Del Webb people, especially Mike Britt and Ed Darling, deserve a vote of thanks for doing a first class job in supervising the rebuild job. It was a pleasure working with these courteous and helpful individuals. The Del Webb Co. donated 125 cases of clay birds which are greatly appreciated.

Trying to fit my big feet into Col Lou North's shoes is an impossibility. He had all the news available to tell you, but I have to improvise, so here goes.

Same old stuff, the range is open on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons from 1:00 P.M. to 4. It will not be open at other times except for organized and approved shoots. The Posse has the range on Saturday mornings and shooting is restricted to them at that time only. The next Silhouette Match will be held Feb. 6 at 9:00 A. M.

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

In a recent press release in the Citizen, there was included a letter from DevCo to Rec. Centers relieving Rec. Centers of responsibility and liability for HEADING RANCH.

It may not be well known that late last year, DevCo had offered to Rec. Centers ways and means for Rec. Centers to operate HEADING RANCH without financial cost, and to free Rec. Centers from significant liability on flooding losses.

Without further lament on the lack of interest of Rec. Board members, which seems to me to be less than that of a total-community interest then, to consider the needs of the thousands who picnicked there each year; the Posse, and those who recreate on shooting ranges, your Club Officers and Directors are turning their efforts to the task of getting the shooting ranges again useable after the recent flood damage.

The Sportsmens' Club interest, for the marksmen segment of it, will be to explore all possibilities. The Rifle/Pistol Range essentially not damaged. The Skeet/Trap Range is not destructively damaged. The access road to the ranges is severely damaged.

Another point alluded to in the press releases was that these facilities are outside the walls of Sun City and Rec. Centers could not operate them therefore. If my memory is correct, the Rec. Board last year obtained the written opinion from its' employed attorney and his opinion was that neither Articles of Incorporation nor BYLAWS of REC. CENTERS limit Rec. Centers to facilities within the Sun City Walls.

Rec. Centers did, we are informed, contribute $3500., some years ago, toward the cost of "black-topping" Jomax Road, which passes by the facility.

This time, it appears that we'll have to do it on our own--so let's pitch in to see how we are to "do it on our own." We'll keep you all informed.

MARCH 1980

Sincerely yours,
James D. Wormley,
President

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

The interest of thousands of Sun Citians in sportsmens kind of activities is not hard to understand. The pressures of current international, national and local happenings are enough to cause any sane person to want to picnic in a desert setting, and to recreate through exercising in marksmanship, and commune with nature.

Therefore, this Club pursues, and its' directors study the subject of how to insure continuity of Heading Ranch.

I have had the opinion of a practicing Phoenix attorney which verifies a safely legal way for Sun Citians to accomplish this objective without placing themselves in a dangerous financial position were floods to cause damage which might cause claims to arise against Heading Ranch.

The basic legal concept is to make use of the legal point that members of a corporation have limited liability or responsibility for debts and other obligations of the corporation. Immunity from personal liability for corporate debts or obligations is so well established ...see Directors and Officers Encyclopedia Manual.

Were the Sportsmen's Club to be a member, for example, of a corporate structure, "Heading Ranch Recreation, Inc.", the Club is immune from the corporate debts and obligations, and thus members of the Club are likewise exempt.

On this basis the directors pursue a solution to the problem of insuring continuity of Heading Ranch.

James D. Wormley, President

TRAP and SKEET ·

The recent floods have put us out of business at HEADING RANCH. No estimate can be made now concerning reopening the Trap and Skeet facilities. Thanks to ED STEWARD, Doc BERTELS, LOREN LYONS, LEE LARSON, ERIC LARSON, CHARLIE HOLLAND, VIRGIL FARR, HAROLD DEIMERLY, BILL GANSKE and MIKE BRITT'S crew, all equipment was salvaged prior to the flood.

Until our shooting facilities are reopened, arrangements have been made to shoot Skeet and Trap at the Phoenix Trap and Skeet Club (Thanks to DON REA for his help in this crisis.)

Schedule: Skeet and Trap - 9:00 AM every TUESDAY at Phoenix Trap and Skeet Club. Cost: $2.00 per round of 25.

URBAN LAKE FISH MANAGEMENT - SUN CITY STYLE

By Bill Sizer

CAN A 33-ACRE LAKE built primarily as a scenic attraction in a retirement community be turned into a good fishin' hole? Even if its sides are lined with concrete? And the bottom has no features of significance? And there's no brush around the edges?

The Sun City Sportsmens's Club decided about six years ago there was no real reason why it couldn't, and with the usual Sun City enthusiasm set out to prove it could.

Today it looks as though they were right.

People who simply walk along the shoreline of Viewpoint Lake—that's the one just north of the main recreation center—will be astounded at the number of up-and-coming young game fish in the lake, and if they stand quietly for a few moments they'll see surprising numbers of keepers as well.

But it hasn't always been that way. Not long before his death, Sun City founder Del Webb was approached by a committee of the club's "Fishing Unit," and asked if he would support their efforts to make the attractive lake into something more than a decoration. Before they left his office they were $2500 richer, and the plan to make Viewpoint Lake a real fishin' hole began to roll.

The first move was to obtain some fish. Bass, channel cats and trout were bought and stocked in the lake. The trout provided some fishing, but it quickly became apparent the summers there were far too warm for any kind of a managed trout fishery. The bass and catfish hung in, though, and today their progeny—bolstered from time to time by the Fishing Unit's efforts—have built into a sizeable population.

During recent years those species have been augmented by sunfish—mainly bluegills and greens—plus Tilapia and crappies. Today you can stand on the shore and spot tremendous swarms of largemouth bass fingerlings, with always a few creel-sized adults hanging around the edges. You'll also see hundreds of bluegills, green sunfish and bluegill-green hybrids, many of which are eating size, and an occasional Tilapia. Earlier in the year, you had a chance of spotting a few crappies, as well.

But as we said earlier, it hasn't always been that way, and most of the credit goes to the Sun City Sportsmen's Fishing Unit, headed by Jed Smith for the past six years.

Those early plants of bass and catfish set the stage for eventual fishing in the lake, but it was not until about three years ago that the group really got hopping.

One of the first significant steps was to figure out how to make fish habitat out of a lake with a concrete shoreline, no brush and a smooth bottom. To find out just how smooth the bottom was, Smith and his cohorts set out to map the lake. They systematically criss-crossed it in boats and plotted the depths as they went along. One thing they learned was that the lake was not very deep—14½ feet maximum. This meant it would have special problems lacking in lakes with deeper water, and would require special management to provide top fishing.

About this time the Fishing Unit secured the services of Aquatic Management Company, located in Glendale, which took over the technical aspects of lake management.

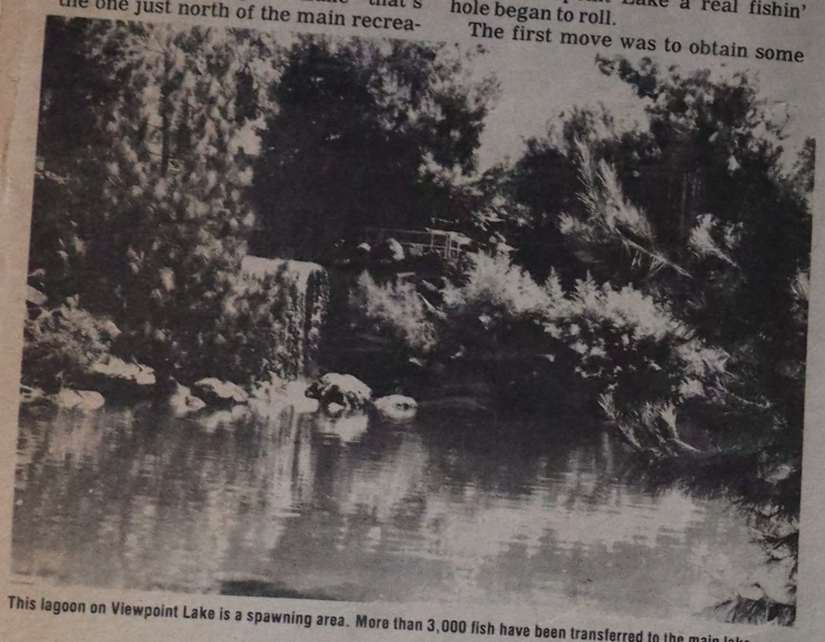

One thing that became apparent once the lake's physical nature had been analyzed was that there was precious little spawning habitat for channel catfish. These critters like to nest in den-like cavities of some sort or other, so three years ago the Fishing Unit planted 87 steel drums in the lake, with extra holes punched in them to make sure they stayed put and offered prime nesting spots for the cats.

The drums would help, but the Sun City crew decided more catfish nurseries could be provided in a 33-acre lake, so they approached the Firestone Tire Company and came home with 500 old tires. These were drilled to make sure no trapped air would make them float around, and after being tied into bundles of three each were strategically placed in the lake.

With all that new nesting habitat, Smith & Company decided the lake could use more breeder catfish to get things really rolling, so they scrounged up the necessary bucks to buy some 1500 mature channels running 14 or 15 inches long. These were also planted.

Going still another step onward

This lagoon on Viewpoint Lake is a spawning area. More than 3,000 fish have been transferred to the main lake.

Swans are not only an aesthetic addition to the lake; they are an important part of the ecosystem because they eat large quantities of algae.

keep another chronic problem in check. The swans' efforts are aided by John Chlopek, who makes an average of two trips around the lake per week, scooping up floating algae and other undesirable material from the surface.

To further control the algae, 4500 Tilapia were planted this spring. They're growing fast and reproducing abundantly, and while they may not fish at night. Jed's logic is that a mere 25-watt bulb under each dock will rid the yards of thousands of insects and provide the homeowners with super night-time fishing as well.

And with the persistence shown so far, there seems little doubt the lights will eventually materialize.

After that, what? The Sun City gang hasn't yet announced what it will do for an encore.

FISHING LINES·

On Saturday 17 May, the Fishing Unit, in cooperationwith Tom Camp, owner of Aquatic Managemant Co., stocked Viewpoint Lake with 4,500 Talapia Zilli. These fish were donated by Aquatic Management Co.

Please note that all over Viewpoint Lake hundreds of thousands of small fish fry are observed. They are crappie, fathead minnows, sunfish and largemouth bass.

Since we put in 30 large greasewood trees for fish habitat, it is rewarding to see thousands of fry seeking cover from predator fish. Yes, the efforts put into Viewpoint Lake by the many concerned Sun City Sportsmen's Club members, I can say without a word of contradiction, have hit the jackpot.

At our Fishing Unit meeting on Friday, June 20, we will have more details for you, our members and guests.

So, go wet your line and catch fish.

Special guest

Recent guest speaker of the Sun City Sportsmen's Club was noted outdoors writer and fisherman Bob Hirsch, greeted at the club's podium by president James Wormley. He discussed the Arizona outdoors, with, of course, emphasis on fishing. The club meets monthly with a special program at each meeting.

Two members of Sun City Sportmen's Club were honored at the Feb. 18 meeting. Ed Stewart, left, was honored for Outstanding Contribution to Trap Shooting, 1972-1980. C.L. "Mac" McColloch holds his trophy for Outstanding Contribution to Trap and Skeet, 1972-1980.. Both men have been shooters, instructors, Range Masters, equipment installers, servicers and coordinators of activities. McColloch is a member of the AWF Board of Directors.

Arizona Wildlife Federation Convention Notes

The Convention was a great success throughout. It was truly the best convention that the Arizona Wildlife Federation has ever had. A standard comment was that the 57th AWF Convention sponsored by the Sun City Sportsmen's Club will be a tough act to follow.

Many thanks for the willing and cheerful help which the many members of our Sun City Sportsmen's Club rendered during our sponsorship of this Convention. Truly, one great club doing a job together well.

Volunteers enjoyed their involvement and were pleased with the many new friends which were made during the convention. Volunteers were so numerous that it would be impractical to list them here. Most volunteers are listed in the AWF convention program. We will have a few of these programs available at the June 16 general membership meeting.

Sufficient money was raised to cover all expenses; therefore, the Sun City Sportsmen's Club will not be required to absorb any of the Convention expenditures for the Arizona Wildlife Federation.

Convention photos

Charlie Pattison and Duke Manthey took many pictures at the AWF convention in May. Four of them are reproduced here.

Because of space limitations in this issue of Wildlife News, many of the photos will be printed in the July issue of the paper.

Minutes of the Board meeting before the convention, as well as the convention minutes, will be printed in the July issue, again because of space limitations in this issue.

Three resolutions were passed by convention delegates, and these will be printed in July – they concerned opposition to the Sagebrush Rebellion bill passed by the state legislature, a resolution calling for the reinstatement of the Johnny Horizon program and urging the State of Arizona to increase enforcement of existing anti-litter laws by all enforcement agencies, and a resolution reiterating AWF's position opposing Orme Dam at the confluence of the Salt and Verde Rivers, but looking forward to the completion of flood control studies currently in progress.

"Rest in Peace" was the obituary for the ditto machine at the AWF office during the AWF convention banquet. Jeanine Byrnes and Bette Edwards had so much trouble getting the antiquated machine to reproduce copies of resolutions for the Sunday morning business meeting, they decided to put the machine to a well-deserved rest. Jeanine and Bette collected about $360 from convention attendees to help buy a new ditto machine for the office. Holding the "old friend," appropriately draped in black with a spray of flowers, are Bob Edwards, left, and Bob Byrnes. Jeanine is at the microphone giving the last rites. Tom Sullivan stands beside her, probably to comfort her in her bereavement.

Past Presidents honored

Past presidents of the AWF were honored at the May 17 luncheon during the convention. Mountain man lifestyle intrigues club members

by Deanna Codner
Editor, Sun City
Sportsmens Newsletter

The Sun City Sportsmen were educated and entertained at their May 12 membership meeting with a living exposition of the mountain man's lifestyle.

Ron "Snake" Crittenden (in photo at right) accompanied by his wife and baby, displayed to club members the arts of leather tanning, making leather and fur garments and gun smithing.

In a facsimile of a mountain camp, he demonstrated the daily life of a mountain man, including his teepee home, cooking set-up and the necessary skills of knife and tomahawk throwing and shooting muzzle-loading weapons.

Crittenden is a member of the Phoenix based Powder Horn Clan and has participated in club rendevous and mountain man gatherings.

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

At the Arizona Wildlife Foundation banquet, honoring 1979 Conservationists of the Year, this Club sponsored CHUCK BINDNER as a Special Conservationist with special accomplishment in conservation education programs.

Most of us know Chuck because he has responded often to requests for programs and for "MC"ing Sun City Sportsmens Club banquets and the like.

Those of us at the banquet observed examples of Chuck's work in conservation education projects when he presented a very cute little girl who exhibited results from her project, and then, two handicapped young people who obviously derive pleasure from their education in conservation.

Sun City's Sportsman "Eagle", Gordon Evans, introduced Governor Babbitt who not only participated in Awards presentations, but also commented succinctly on current events and his background in conservation and his interest in the work of the foundation.

All-in-all it was a fine get-together.

By the way, Gordon Evans will have sold more than $2000 in advertising to Sun City enterprises for inclusion in the next AWF green-sheet. An outstanding effort and result by Gordon. Please read these ads and when practical support these enterprises.

Score one more for Gordon!

By MARY JANE SHOUN
Wildlife News Editor

If you can't stand being around movers and doers, stay away from Gordon Evans, Sr.

For the past 56 years, Gordon has been one of the history makers of Arizona. He moved to Flagstaff in 1924, one year after the Arizona Wildlife Federation was founded.

Since then he has operated successful businesses in Flagstaff, taking the time to get very involved in civic, political and public service activities that prove the old adage, "give the job to a busy man, because he'll get it done."

We pay special tribute to Gordon because he always has been, and still is, very supportive of anything the AWF has asked him to become involved with. His most recent contribution was selling $2,300 worth of advertising in this issue of Wildlife News (a record for advertising sales) and being active on the host committee for the May 16-18 convention in Sun City.

In 1960, Gordon was the 23rd state president of the AWF. He also served as chairman of the Arizona Game and Fish Commission; received the Thomas E. McCullough award from AWF in 1967, the highest award given to a non-professional in wildlife conservation; helped with the establishment of the Black Canyon Shooting Range while a member of the Game and Fish Commission; is a past president of the Coconino Sportsmen's Club and the Sun City Sportsman's Club; a sportsmen member of the Coconino National Forest Advisory Board; and a life member of AWF.

But that's not all. Evans served in other areas outside of the sportsmen-conservationist field. He served a ten-year term as a member of the Coconino County Board of Supervisors; was president of the State Supervisor's Association; a member of the Arizona State Legislature from Coconino County; the first member from Coconino County appointed to the Arizona Highway and Planning Committee; and a past director of the Flagstaff Chamber of Commerce.

In between all these activities he owned and operated Gordon's Liquor and Sporting Goods Store from 1944 to 1959 in Flagstaff, with two stores in operation.

Evans was born on Aug. 24, 1903, in Birmingham, Ala. After coming to Flagstaff his first job was in the grocery department of Babbitt Brothers. Later he became manager of the Flagstaff Lumber Co.

In 1926, Evans and his family moved to Mormon Lake, 30 miles south of Flagstaff as part owner of Tombler's Lodge, which he purchased as sole owner in 1935 and sold in 1944.

Retirement in 1959 didn't mean much to Evans as he moved to Sun City in 1964 and has been busy ever since. He is a charter member of the Sun City Sportsman's Club; served as treasurer of the Sun City Men's Golf Association; director of Sixty-one Club; past present and life member of the Sun City Men's Club; past president and life member of the Sundial Men's Club; past president of Recreation Centers, Inc.; past director of Sun City Community Fund; and past director, Youngtown-Sun City Shrine Club.

And as if all those activities weren't enough, Gordon is a life member of Falgstaff Masonic Lodge No. 7 and the Flagstaff Elks Lodge No. 499. He is a member of the Scottish Rite and Shrine Club with the Masonic Lodge, and member of the Square Club and Woodman of the World.

The AWF and the Sun City Sportsmen are indeed fortunate to have Gordon Evans on their side.

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

SEPTEMBER 1980

Dear Fellow Sportsmen and Sportswomen,

Welcome back to your summer home. I hope all of you have had wonderful and cool summer vacations. As a report to you on activities this summer - it has been a little warm.

There is nothing further to report on Heading Ranch redevelopment; it is still in the "hold" position.

There will be some information, soon, on plans for a temporary skeet and trap setup; and, on hunting get-to-gathers.

The Beef-a-lo Barbeque plan for November is nearly completed and one buffalo license was drawn by a hunter sponsored by a Sportsmen's Club member - so, we'll have the buffalo meat for the party.

Appearing from time-to-time in local news media have been reports on Fishing Unit activities.

The Arizona Wildlife Federation has been developing its planned activities for 1980-1981 year, with the help of Sun City Sportsmen's Club's Director-at-large, Don Cox.

In Our Common Interests,

Jim Wormley
President

Fellow Members, OCTOBER 1980

It is time again for selection and election of three Board Members for '81-'82-'83 terms to replace the three who have completed their 3 year term. The By-Laws provide that a nominating committee of at least 4 members shall select and recommend a "slate" of six, from which members shall choose and elect three at membership meeting in November. The Committee will report the "slate" of six at the October Membership Meeting. All this is in process.

Preparations for the Buffalo Barbeque are in completion stages. If you can attend, reserve Nov. 9th for this event. There will be entertainment!

Members of the Board are gratified that many turned out for organization gathering for Hunting/Party Groups. Already established are Groups for deer, javelina, ducks & geese, dove & quail, and wild turkey hunts.

The Trap & Skeet shooters Potluck Picnic, on Sept. 23, was a "fun" morning for shotgun shooters and Jamie Aiken's finale - a Buddies-by-draw-Teams shootout - was a fine companionship developer.

Sun City Sportsmen's Club incorporation has the purpose of bringing together Sun Citians "interested in the general field of outdoor activities including conservation, hunting, fishing and related sports." - Article 1.

In this spirit, Sincerely,

James D. Wormley,
President

Our speaker, Hugh E. Cosby, formerly was a Range Ecologist for the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and also was a Range Conservationist with the U. S. Soil Conservation Service.

Mr. Cosby, now retired and a fellow Sun Citian, has written articles pertinent to the field of range ecology and one article stressing how good range management benefits wild life, especially birds, was published in Rangeman's Journal, October, 1978.

Sportsmen schedule buffalo barbecue

The Sun City Sportmen's Club has scheduled its 11th annual buffalo barbecue for 1 p.m. Nov. 9 at Phoenix Gun Club, south of Sun City. Entertainment will begin at 11 a.m.

The barbecue, expected to attract about 600 guests, has been moved from Heading Ranch because of flood damage earlier this year.

Fishing and hunting parties are being planned by the club to help members new to the state become familiar with what Arizona offers sportsmen. Limited mbership with the Magna Hunting Preserve again will be available this year.

Bill Sizer, information officer for the Arizona Game and Fish Department, is scheduled to speak on "Why Arizona is Great for Huntng and Fishing" at a 9 a.m. Nov. 15 meeting in Lakeview Center.

Sizer also will discuss the telephone information service which allows sportsmen to call the department to find out hunting and fishing areas and the latest conditions around the state. The number is 942-3000.

SC Sportsmen to hold Nov. 9 buffalo barbecue

Sun City Sportmen's Club will hold its 11th annual buffalo barbecue at 11 a.m. Nov. 9 at Phoenix Trap and Skeet Club.

The meat will come from the annual buffalo kill held by the Arizona Game and Fish Department to thin the state's two wild herds.

Beans, rolls, salad and other foods, along with eating utensils, will be supplied.

Exhibits, turkey shoot and skeet and trap demonstration will be held with Chuck Binder the day's emcee.

The Ballet Folklorico Quadalupano also will perform.

The club requests that ticket purchases, at $6, be made as soon as possible. Tickets may be purchased by calling Ken Hanna at 974-5140.

Nov 1980

Dear Ken,

Thankyou so much for making it possible for me to have experienced a buffalo hunt and for sharing a quarter with me. I'm sorry that I couldn't make it to your benefit Bar BQ. We have enjoyed some of the meat already and found it to be very good.

You and the Sun City Sportsmens Club are to be commended for this fine program of sponsoring serious hunters and for providing such a worthwhile use of the meat each year.

Thank you again for the opportunity that has provided me with such good thoughts and memories.

Sincerely, Bill Kinnison

FISHING LINES.

Fishing in Viewpoint Lake has not been as good as I would like to see. The reason, I feel, is the sudden change of the winter weather. The fish are there and it takes a lot of patience and a good amount of time to be successful "speaking for myself". I have put in a lot of time in the last three weeks which has had some good results. The condition of the water is perfect. Thanks to the Sheriff's Posse for the great job they are doing patrolling the lake areas, particularly at night.

Revision of the rules on fishing in Viewpoint Lake will be ready for the Jan. Meeting 1981. The new rules will reflect the necessity for stopping the increase of alcohol drinking in the lake area.

Join us - get your lines out and catch some good fish.

Sincerely,
Justin Jed Smith

NEWS LETTER 1981 FEB.

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER

There is good and happiness in the world--as we have all seen and heard on TV and Radio in connection with the release of the hostages.

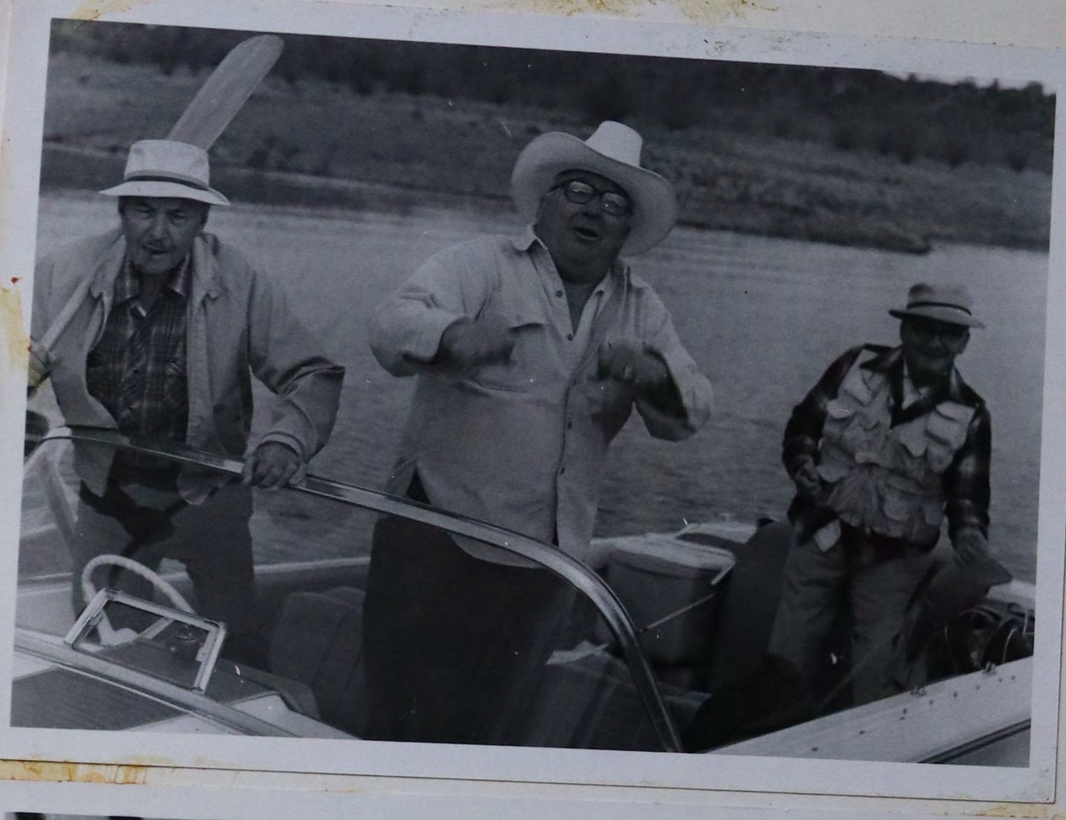

There is also a bad and undesirable movement in our land, intermixed with the good and desirable wish to get the Federal Government "off our backs" and "States Rights" that would take our lands (the lands now under administration of U. S. Forest Service and Bureau of Land Management) and deed them to the States.

This space does not allow me to cover fully all of this subject, but I hope you will believe me and reject this effort by large livestock companies, oil companies, and large farm developers, to succeed with the "Sagebrush" Ripoff.

I have worked with, next to, and in cooperation with State lands and State Land Officers for 40 years in several States and I can say truthfully that I have not seen State Lands managed properly. If the States acquired these lands I am positive that through various loopholes, the land would end up in private ownership. Sportsmen are not welcome on private lands and often are refused access to hunting areas across private land. The hunting areas are free to us because they are owned by the Federal Government.

I will see that you receive more information in the future, and hope you will read it carefully. I plan to have a special meeting where we can discuss this subject and problem fully.

NEWSLETTER OCT 1981

Our guest speaker for the Oct., 19th Meeting, will be Mr. Lynn Temple, whose subject will be on "Con Artists" and their methods of operations. No, doubt, our members as well as guests will give him an attentive ear as he has lectured on this subject often and is well informed. This will give you an insight how to protect yourselves from unscrupulous operaters.

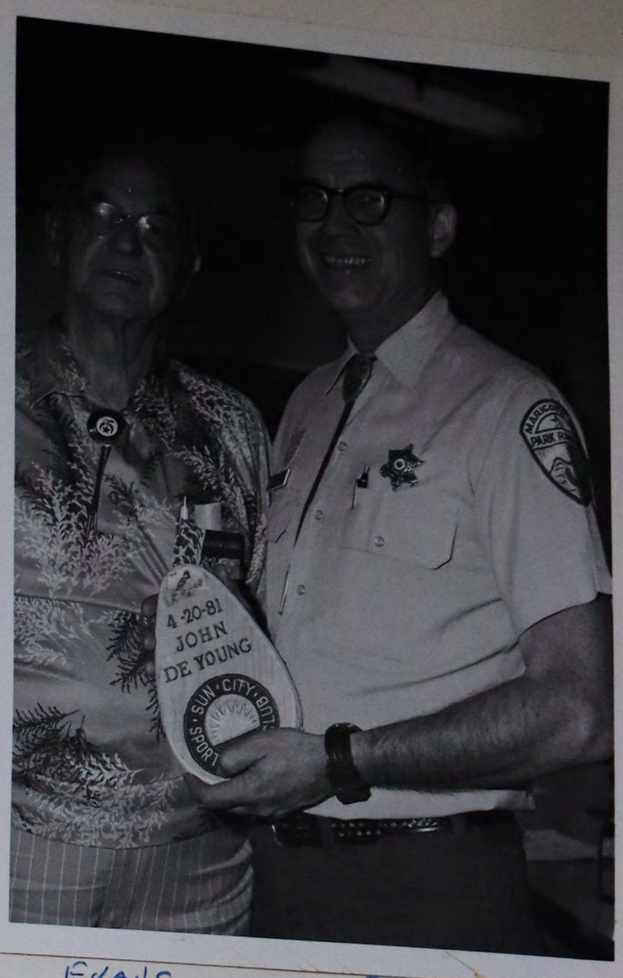

He has excellent background in teaching, sales, personnel, lobbyist, public relations, human relations and creative writing.

This meeting will be well attended, as Mr. Temple has a very vital message concerning our serious problem of con artists, which in particular is a concern to many of us, in particular the retirement communities of our country.

NEWSLETTER JUNE 1981

Our regular editor is away for the summer so this edition will take on a little different format.

Don't forget our regular meeting to be held at Lakeview Center on June 15. This will be the last meeting until September 21. A good program is on the schedule along with important information concerning the making of applications for the different big game hunts coming up later in the year.

We have a message from our President, Don Cox: "We haven't had any good hunts as yet so all we can do is better. The potential is great so let us get started and have some real fun and safe hunts. I suggest that many, many of us put in for the 4 hunts listed below. If we do, some of us will draw permits and then we can make a fun hunt program. Those who do not draw permits may go along with camera and scout for the time they do get lucky".

The deadline for filing your application is June 29, 1981. Listed below are the different hunts, the amount of money which must go along with the application and the first and second choices for the hunting areas.

Yearling buffalo	$ 240.00	1st choice is	703	2nd	705
Deer	00.00	"	106		111
Antelope	30.00	"	216		214
Elk	35.00	"	308		307

Our annual barbecue is tentatively scheduled for Sunday November 8, 1981. We have about 100 pounds of buffalo left from last year and so we are at least going to have beefalo. We need another animal to make it 100% buffalo. Again this year, we are seeking members to make application for a yearling buffalo. In addition we are asking for sponsors who will put up the $240.00 so that we can get outsiders to make application for themselves. If the one who is sponsored gets a permit the sponsor will be repaid by our club and we will take possession of the animal. If the sponsored hunter fail to get a permit the sponsor will get the refund. Come to the meeting on June 15 and we will supply the permit applications and any further information you need.

The summer schedule for trap and skeet along with rifle and pistol will be announced at our meeting also. See you then!

Maxine and I wish you and your loved Ones a very Happy New Year.

I sincerely thank all of you for the co-operation you extended to me during 1981.

I hope that you and I can do more during 1982 to make this Sportsmens' Club of ours a better organization. Please write me a note or speak up at our membership meetings to give your advice on what you would like to do. Help us.

We will strive tohave good programs at each meeting. We are still trying to get a shooting range that all of us will like and use.

We will have better fishing in Sun City and will plan group trips during the year.

Jack Bode is working up a Big Bang Outing on the Colorado River.

We can have hunting trips and horse pack trips as you desire. This could include bear and lion as well as our usual hunts.

We can do more working together than we can do on our own.

The best of luck and always be safe.

Our guest speaker will be Mr. Buddy Bristow. He has just recently been appointed by the Game and Fish Commission as director of the department. Buddy has been with the department for a good many years and we believe he will do a good job.

He will speak to us about the operation of the departnent, and what the future has in store for it, if it is properly financed. At the present time, the department gets no funds from the State of Arizona. It is supported by the license buyers and federal funds. The federal funds are generated by the sale of sporting goods. I am sure we are all interested in the welfare of the department. So, please come to this very important meeting.

Relative to Mr. John Meeker, Former President, Del E. Webb Dvelopment Co.

The Sun City Sportsmen's Club wishes to go on record as being shocked to learn of Mr. Meeker's resignation from Devco having been with Webb, the parent corporation since 1946.

We owe him a debt of gratitude for the splendid cooperation we have received over the past 12 years in such matters as the development of the Heading Ranch picnic area and shooting range and for assisting the club in the paving of the county road to the area; for making the Magma Shooting Preserve possible for the shooting public; always a source for helping finance advertising in the Arizona Wildlife Federation newspaper; always most helpful to our club and Sun City in general as was the founder, Del E. Webb, now deceased.

Now therefore be it resolved:

The Sun City Sportsmen's Club wishes Mr. John Meeker the very best in his future endeavors. We also wish Mr. Joe Aubin, the executive vice president of the company who has been named in Mr. Meeker's place, all the success he richly deserves.

AWARDS

Governor Bruce Babbitt was presented the Federation's highest honor, the Thomas E. McCullough Award in non-professional catagory, for his support of conservation and wildlife issues. McCullough of Flagstaff was a founder and first president of the Federation, then known as the Arizona Game Protective Association in 1923.

McCullough, who died in 1962, had married into the pioneer Babbitt family and was an uncle to the governor.

Chuck Bindner of Phoenix, a long time wildlife educator, licensed keeper of endangered species and raptors and a moving force behind the Arizona Wildlife Rehabilitation Center under construction at the Adobe Mountain School, was the professional McCullough award recipient.

Charles(Chuck) Bindner was sponsored by the Sun City Sportsmen's Club for this most coveted award presented each year by the A.W.F.

Our Club is proud of you, Chuck! We all know in our hearts that you were deserving of this honor.Your interest in the younger generation speaks for itself.

JUNE 1982 SPORTSMAN CHAPTER MEETING

In Memoriam

Dr. Earl H. Blair, who recently passed away, will be sorely missed by the S.C. Sportsmen's Club as well as many of his friends and loved ones.

He was an asset to the club and his void will be hard to fill.

He served one term as a Director at Large for the A. W. F.

He was a Past President of the Sun City Sportsmen's Club.

Designed the Logo for our club as well as kept up the scrap book for several years.

He was dedicated to Wildlife Tradition.

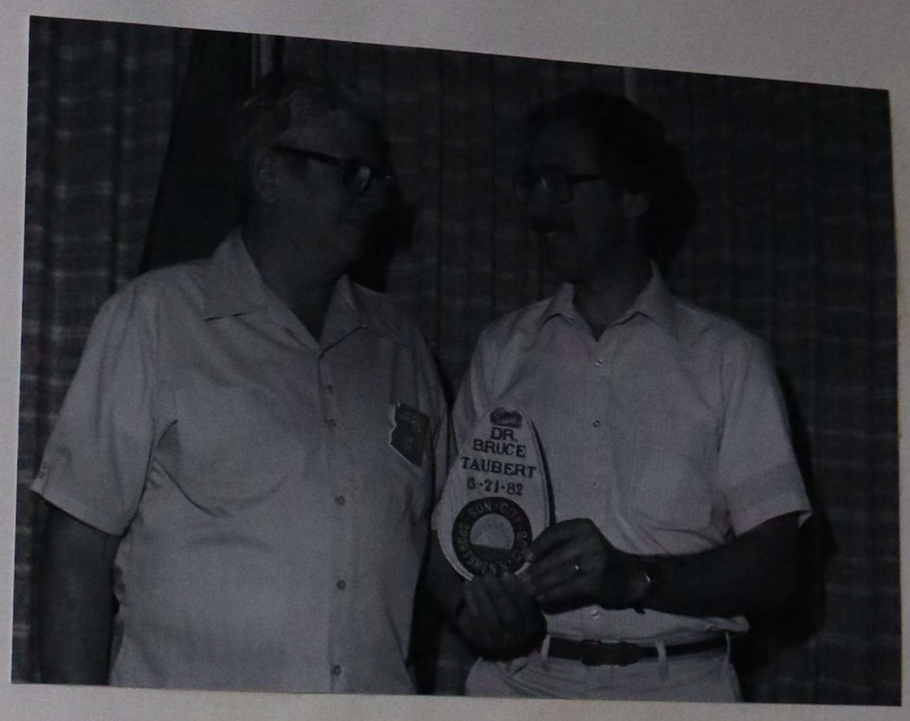

FISHING LINES

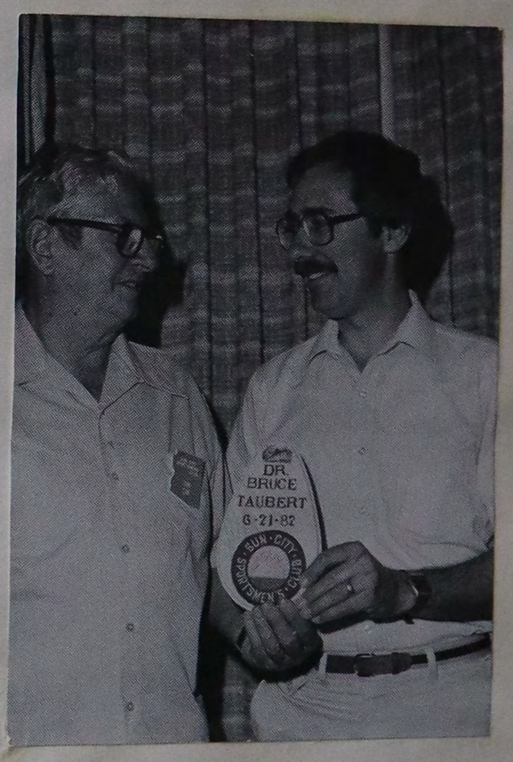

The Sportsmen's Club has received approval from the Sun City Recreation Center Board to hold a Sun City Fishing Day, next October. Fishing will be permitted on the Golf Course Lakes by holders of a valid Sun City Recreation Card. A Committee is being formed to select lakes, date and hours for fishing. A Fishing Day will provide a fun day for Sun City fishermen as well as a opportunity by a small donation to provide fish for stocking View Point Lake.The catfish are still biting in View Point Lake, along the shore south of the Lakes Club. By the way, be sure to pick up your trash before leaving. The Prides of Sun City say we are not doing a very good job keeping it picked up perhaps we need a clean-up day!

Bob Ace got his limit of 10 brook trout in Lee Valley Lake last week, although he couldn't fool them in Becker Lake.

Stripped Bass fishing is excellent at Lake Powell, in front of the dam; plenty of 10 pound fish. Lee's Ferry is also good for rainbow trout.

Presented By

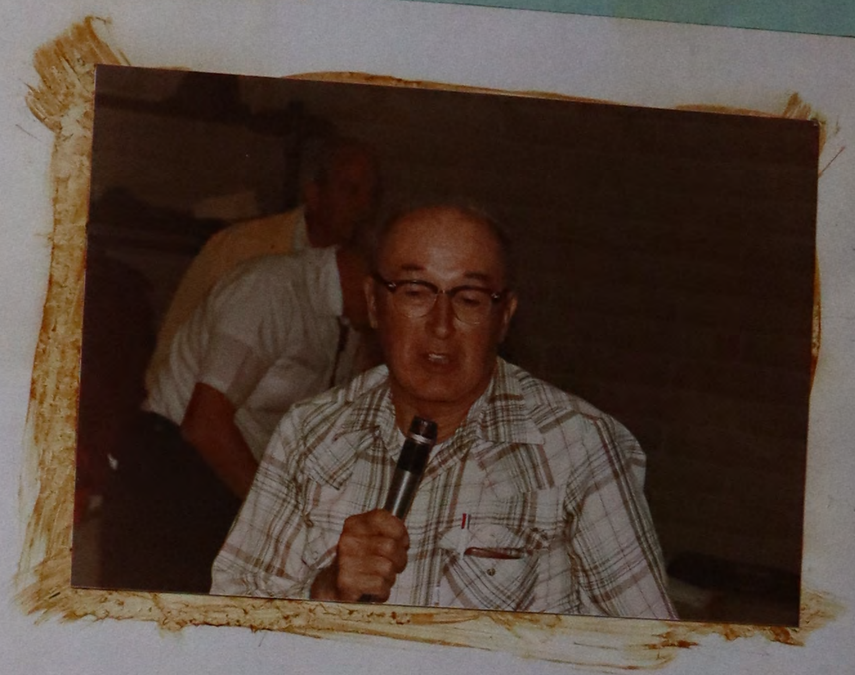

Forde Steele of Sun City

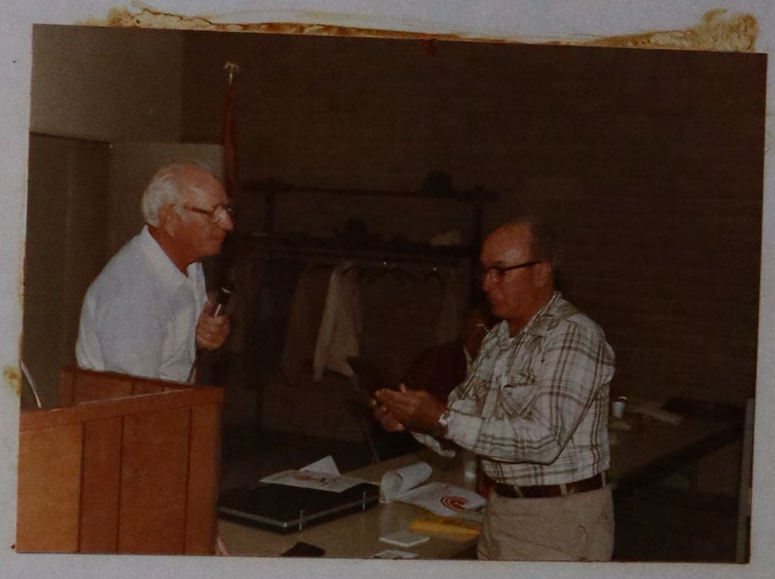

Our program for November will be a professional slide show presented by Forde Steele. Mr. Steele is President of the Sun City Photo Club, has traveled extensively, visiting some 40 different foreign countries, and is very active in photography and travel lectures.

This past summer he went to the Canadian Rockies on a tour primarily for Summer Skiers. It was kind of a Heli-copter Ride hitching experience. He will present mountain scenery from a different perspective which I understand is quite spectacular.

This program will appeal to everyone who enjoys the out-of-doors and mountain scenery in particular. Bring your wife and friends to this program.

Mr. Norris is a long time resident of Sun City, he has a keen interest in photography and will present a program on Animals of Africa.

Last year he spent approximately two months during June, July and August on photographic Safari from Capetown through Zimbabwe, Ethiopia and the Belgian Congo. The theme of his photographic story pertains to the effect on African wild-life of changes in present day land use. Wildlife habitat is shrinking and severe drought the past year has been very hard on game populations. Mr. Norris got acquainted with a wild Gorilla at arms length while taking pictures on the trip.

This will be an unusual first hand presentation of to-days Africa. Bring your wives and friends to this program. It will appeal to all who enjoy the out of doors.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

- And so we approach the end of another year!

It has been a genuine source of pleasure to me to serve you again as President; and I thank you for providing the opportunity to serve you in this way.

It is biblical legend that on Christmas Day all animals can talk. Were we to hear what they say, I feel certain we would hear expressions of gratitude from them to all people who care about giving animals a fair and proper treatment.

Sincerely,

Our program for September 1986, will be presented by representatives of the Arizona Boys Ranch.

The Arizona Boys Ranch was incorporated in 1949, and they received their first boy in 1951. Since then they have served more than 3200 young boys and they are currently the largest private, not-for-profit child care center in Arizona and the greater Southwest.

This program has been successful in the past. It might well be a program in which our club can work in partnership with other citizens in our state to provide a valuable service to our youth.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

At the November meeting, the Board of Directors approved the increase of the Arizona Wildlife Federation dues from $5.00 to $7.50, consequently your dues will now be $12.50 per year instead of $10.00 per year. The Board voted to have this increase be effective Jan. 1, 1987.

The Board of Directors also approved the conversion of all membership expiration dates to be at the end of December. This will cause some extra work in 1987, but after that the record keeping and clerical work will be greatly reduced and simplified. It will also be easier for members to remember the expiration date. I thank Hank Bainbridge for his work on this changeover and his work this past year as membership chairman.

Another item approved by the Board of Directors at the November meeting was a budget for the calendar year 1987. Hopefully, this will provide some direction on expenditures for next year.

This past summer Jamie Aiken competed at Skeet in a meet at the Shoshone Range in Jackson Hole, Wyoming. He shot a record straight 100 in the 12 ga. class. Congratulations, Jamie.

HUNTING AND FISHING IN MONTANA

Mr. Gerret Boe Ouldhouse will present the May 19, 1986 program for the Sun City Sportsmen's Club. He will show slides concerning hunting and fishing in Montana.

Boe was born in a log cabin on the Snake River in Idaho and grew up in Montana. He began his outdoor life with his dad. Boe was five years old when he began fishing and hunting in the wilds of Montana, about 1924.

Boe has lived his life as a true outdoorsman: He is a past president of the Anaconda Sportsmen's Club, past president and charter member of the Isaac Walton League, member of the Civil Air Patrol, founded the first Wilderness Survival School, and was a big game outfitter, hunter and guide. Since 1950, his specialty has been hunting Elk with a bow and arrow. Boe is a member of the Sun City Sportsmen's Club.

This presentation will be a thrilling and exciting adventure into the wilds of Montana.

Presented by Forde Steele

Mr. Forde Steele will take us on an actual African Safari by means of slides and lecture. This presentation is from a personal experience of the lecturer.

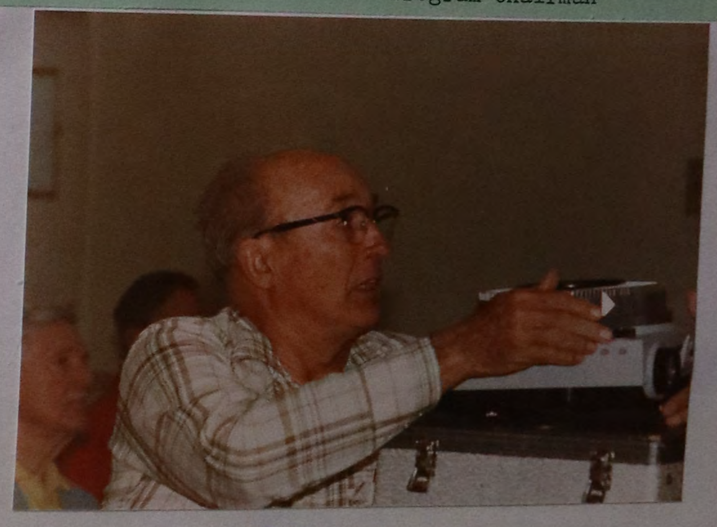

Mr. Steele lived most of his life, until retirement, in Ohio. When he retired he was the Vice President of the Central Bank of Cleveland, Ohio.

Since he retired he has been living in Sun City, Arizona. Forde is a professional lecturer and presents more than 100 slide and lecture presentations a year on "The Nations of the World." The nations which we will visit via slide at our February 17th general membership meeting are Uganda, Kenya, and Tanzania. This program has been very popular here in Sun City as well as the other cities in which it has been shown.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

As the year draws to an end, I would be remiss in not pointing out the accomplishments of you Members and your Board during 1987. In rough chronogical order these are·

1. Fun Day shooting "Bash" at the Skeet & Trap Range, with hamburgers, cokes and shooting games.
2. Annual 3 day convention of the Arizona Wildlife Federation with Sun City Sportsmen as the Host Club.
3. Program of plant and tree identification with rugged metal signs at Viewpoint Lake "Mountain" area.
4. Subscribing to a program of educating the public in hunter/wildlife relationships known as "Protect What's Right".
5. Improved relations with both local newspapers and a better understanding with Recreational Centers Administration.
6. Highly successful Buffalo Barbecue, in attendance, more varied program and profitability.
7. Out of town fishing trip and fish fry at Page Springs.
8. Received notice of an appropriation of $5000 from the Rec Centers Board to be used during 1988 by our Club for fish propagation in Viewpoint and Golf Course lakes.

If someone should ask me for names, I wouldn't know where to begin or stop. It has been a rewarding year. My sincere appreciation to all Members for their contributions of time and talent.

Best wishes for a Happy Holiday Season!

Buffalo barbecue highlights SC Sportsmen's Club's picnic

News-Sun staff

SUN CITY — Gone are the days when buffalo roamed the range and Indians stalked them for meat and clothing.

But you still have the chance to try real buffalo meat at The Sun City Sportsmen's Club's 18th Annual Buffalo Barbecue that includes a flea market, turkey shoot and buffalo shoot. The event starts at 10 a.m. Nov. 15 at the Sun Bowl, 10220 N. 107th Ave.

The shoots will be with toy guns and toy bows and arrows so everybody can participate, says Dutch Schultz, club vice president.

The buffalo to be eaten was killed a year ago by club president Bob Mathews under the supervision of a regional game specialist of the Arizona Game and Fish Department.

"There are six states that have buffalo herds," Mathews says. "Arizona has two, South Dakota has one, Wyoming has one, Montana has one, and Alaska has one, where you can actually get a permit and go out and shoot a buffalo. This is a harvesting operation. There are 41 permits for buffalo that were given out by the (Arizona) Game and Fish Department which allows a person to go up under supervision and shoot a buffalo."

Mathews says if some of the buffalo are not harvested, the herd will overeat the range. Then, all of the animals will face danger.

"We're protecting the herd — something people don't understand," he says.

But a buffalo hunt isn't the struggle and skill-requiring event you might envision it to be, Mathews says.

"Buffalo don't spook when they see a pickup. They're not concerned about that at all. They're used to that. What spooks them — and it's interesting, but this goes way back perhaps to when Indians were stalking them individually — but if they see a man walking up toward them they'll spook."

So, the ranger drives a truck close enough to the herd that one animal can be singled out for you to shoot, Mathews says.

Most of the work for the hunter comes into play after the animal is dead and its body must be skinned and gutted.

The Game and Fish Department suggests planning at least two hours to process the animal.

Mathews says it took five men seven hours to field dress and haul the animal to a Phoenix locker.

"We had one guy doing nothing but sharpening our knives," he says, stressing the fact that buffalo hide is very tough.

But it's worth the work, he says, because a buffalo can serve 300 to 500 people with meat that tastes like young tender beef.

"Here in Sun City we try and put on this buffalo barbecue to raise money to put fish in the lake and help support the swans (at Lakeview Recreation Center)," Schultz says.

Other money comes from the $12.50 dues required to be a member of the club. But the club doesn't pocket all that money, Mathews says. It gives $7.50 of each payment to the Arizona Wildlife Foundation.

Also, Mathews says, occasionally the club gets hunting equipment to sell for hunting equipment to sell for people and takes a cut off the top of any purchase.

They aren't out to make a profit, the two say, just get enough money to keep the club active.

The goals of the club are to promote sportsmanship in Sun City and the state, Schultz and Mathews say, as well as conservation and outdoor activities such as hunting, fishing, bird watching and skeet and trap shooting.

The club has its own range south of town toward Wickenburg where members practice once a week. And the other individual groups that make up the club go to various locations within the state to enjoy their sports.

This past year, in addition to stocking Viewpoint Lake with fish and helping the swans, the group put up little signs identifying the plant growth around the gazebo and members found projects for some of the children at the Arizona Boy's Ranch.

Information: Schultz at 974-8725.

BUFFALO FEEDERS — Over 350 people enjoyed fine weather and dined on barbecued buffalo with the works at the Nov. 15 Sun City Sportsmen Club feast.

PROGRAM

The Nature Conservancy

Our speaker this month will be Mr. Robert G. Erb, Central Arizona representative of the Arizona Nature Conservancy. He will tell about the Arizona Nature Conservancy which is a chapter of The Nature Conservancy, a national non-profit organization dedicated to the preservation of endangered species through private enterprise. Nationally, the Conservancy oversees a 2.61 million acre empire consisting of over 900 nature preserves in 50 states. These preserves include more than 1,000 species of threatened plants and animals. This makes them the largest private owner of priceless natural lands in the world.

Here in Arizona, they manage 57,000 acres in eight preserves. Their newest preserves are the Hassayampa River Preserve near Wickenburg and Hartwell Canyon in Sedona.

Mr. Erb will also make a colored slide presentation covering the beautiful areas the Conservancy manages.

This will be another outstanding meeting on a very timely subject. Come, bring your friends and learn more about the Hassayampa River Preserve near Wickenburg and the Hartwell Canyon Preserve in Sedona, both of which but a short drive from Sun City.

TRAP & SKEET

Last Tues., Ross Weaver shot a perfect 25 of 25 targets in skeet with his 12 Ga. shotgun and Bob Muller 25 of 26 in Doubles Skeet.

Lately I've had Trap target-throw machine in International mode-both vertical and horizontal flight variations. No one has yet achieved 25 of 25 in that mode altho George Amundson, Tod Senson and Jim Wormley have 24 of 25. Two SCWesters also have 24 of 25. So far I have the highest average of SC shooters and Ben Zvolanek of SCW shooters.

Bob Muller supervises Skeet and George Amundson, Trap shooting, so that I am free to look after machines and other details.

MEANDERING OF A BIRDWATCHER

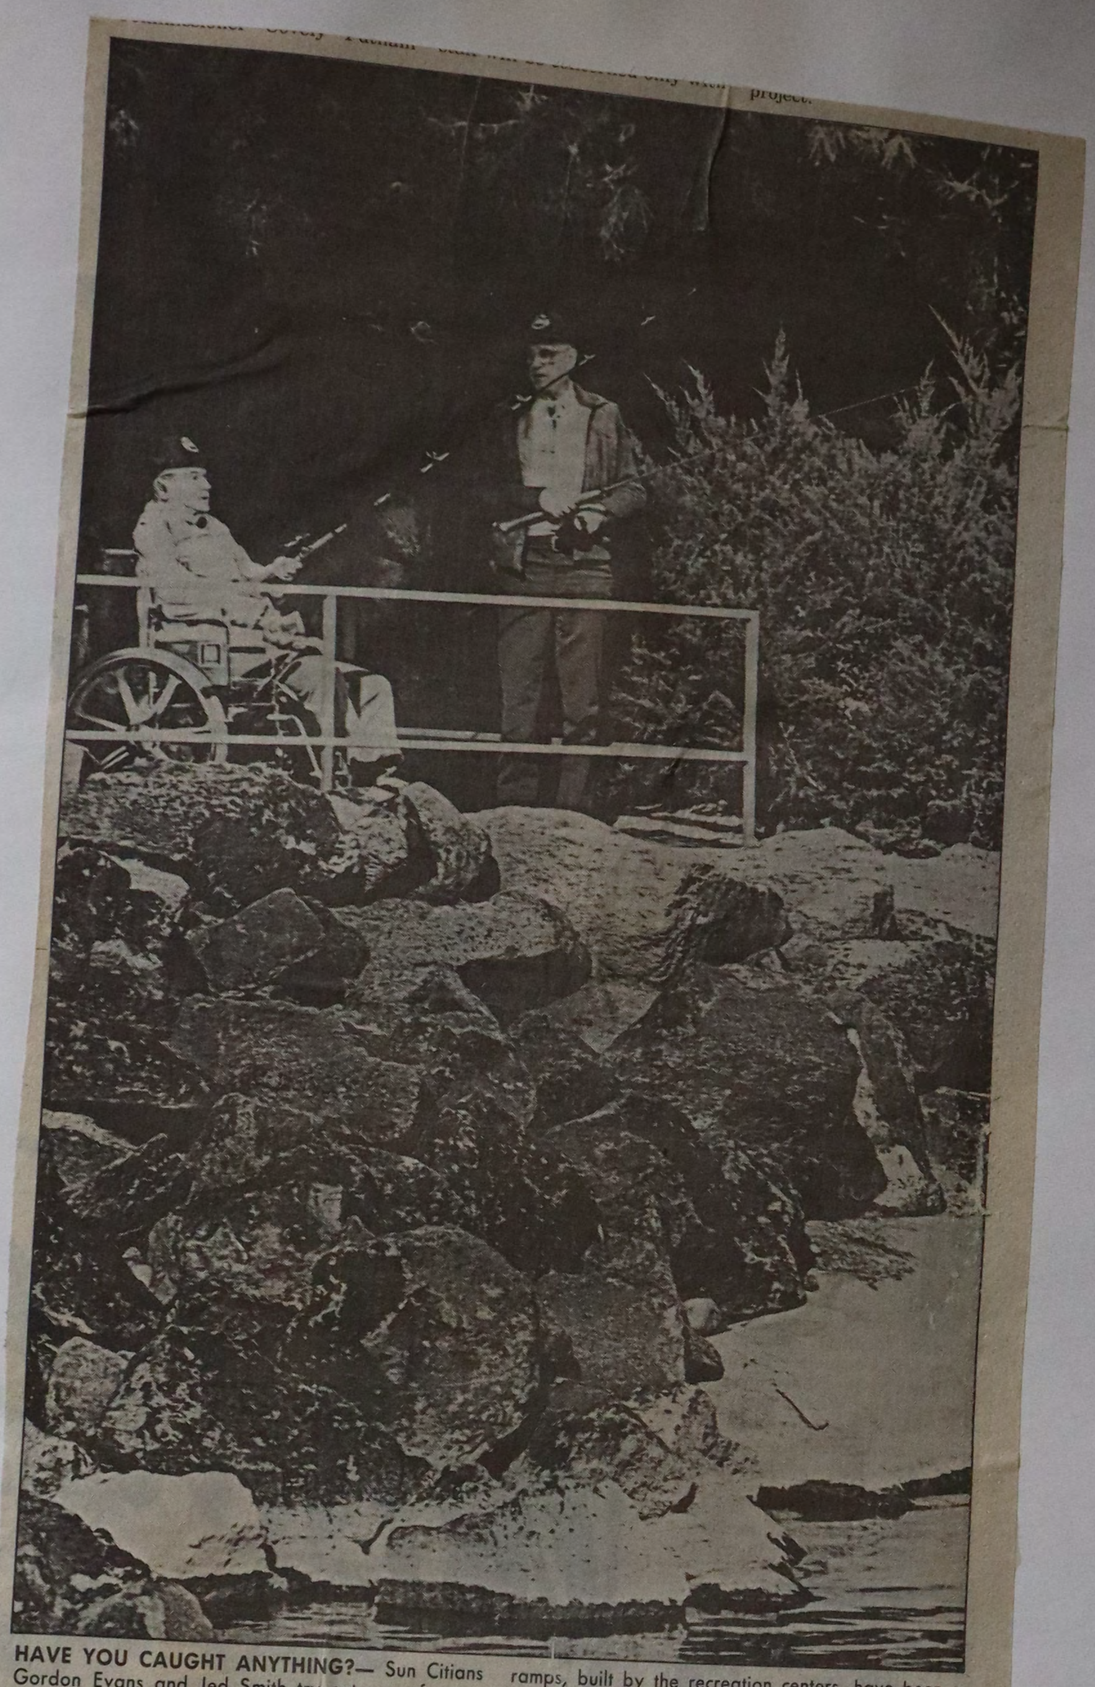

Springtime in Arizona is a very wonderful time to enjoy some of it's beauty. There is beauty everywhere, especially the flowers, trees and birds are exuding the livlihood of romance expressed in color and song.

The birds are very busy courting and building their nests. The males are showing off their beautiful feathers, doing their courtship antics of dancing about the female as exhibited by the towhees and thrashers; the phainopeppla sits at the top of a mesquite tree giving forth his soft melodious whistle, seductive to say the least, then off he goes into the air doing rolls and pirouettes in an attempt to catch the eye and admiration of a female perched nearby.

At Estrella Mt. Park we have been rewarded by the sighting of a pair of Western Tanagers, Sayes Phoebe, Yellow Warblers and to our great surprise a green tailed Towhee entertained us for about two or three minutes of pouncing about in the grass picking up some morsels of food.

On May 14 and 15 we will be guests of the Nature Conservancy organization. They are doing excellent work in their voluntary conservation program of acquiring land to preserve some endangered grasses, birdlife and other species that are endangered. On the 14 we will attend a luncheon and an informational talk by Dan Campbell, Director for Arizona. On May 15 we will be their guests at the recently acquired Hassayampa Preserve. We are looking forword to this program to learn more about their plans for Arizona in the field of conservation.

HAVE YOU CAUGHT ANYTHING?— Sun Citians Gordon Evans and Jed Smith try out one of seven new fishing ramps around Viewpoint Lake to be used by handicapped fishermen living in the area. The ramps, built by the recreation centers, have been a project of Smith's for five years. The ramps enable wheelchair bound fishermen safe access to the lake. (News-Sun Photo by Mollie J. Hoppes)

Fresh fish:

Viewpoint stocked with minnows

By PEG KEITH
Sun Cities Independent

It's nature's law: the big fish feeds on the smaller fish that feeds on the smaller fish that feeds on an even smaller fish, and so on and so on ...

In this instance, the victims are 20,000 (give a fin or two) flathead minnows, hatched to serve as sort of a mobile piece de resistance for assorted carp, large-mouth bass and channel cat in Viewpoint Lake.

This large number of very small (2-inch) bait fish was planted in the lake last week under the supervision of the Brown Fish Hatchery of Yuma and the Sun City Sportsmen's Association. The Cyprinidae are expected to propagate, populate and circulate to improve the ecosystem of their new home.

The ultimate victims, then, will be the well-fed carp, catfish and bass, growing corpulent and slow in the sun-dappled, wind-riffled water.

Jed Smith, Sportsmen's Association member and fish-planting project chairman, says the flatheads will assure an improved food balance, important for good fishing in the lake.

The Recreation Centers board allocated $1,000 to be used in 1987 for stocking the fishing facilities and improving the habitat, says Smith. Another $5,000 was designated to continue the program in 1988.

Good fishing is on the January calendar. Mr. Smith says he hopes to have a contest next month, with a prize for the fisherman/woman who bags the largest carp.

The Sportsmen's Club is not forgetting the handicapped. Platforms are being built at Viewpoint Lake for this special project, he says, noting that Bob Turner helped out a lot in the effort, working with the Rec Center Board, particularly with Louis Grunwalt, board president.

Mr. Smith has received a letter from Raymond Kohls, law enforcement specialist, Arizona Game and Fish Department, which assures Sun Citians that they do not need fishing licenses while fishing the lakes in Sun City.

Game and Fish officials caution, however, that all boats must be registered while on or operated on Sun City lakes.

GONE FISHIN'. Members of the Sun City Sportsmen's Club are currently working with the Recreation Centers of Sun City, Inc. to restock Viewpoint Lake with various kinds of fish. The club also worked with the Rec Centers to construct a facility which would allow handicapped residents the chance to enjoy the sport of fishing.
